Chapter 18

Respect “Who was that little girl yesterday?” After the others left, Killian took a deep breath and turned to ask, “Did you thank her yesterday?” “I have already given her a check. I never thought that a girl in her teens would be a great doctor!” Rhys said admiringly. It was too surprising. “That girl just passed by and happened to find out about your condition. She tried her best to convince the public to save you!” If she hadn’t “ meddled in other people's business", Killian would have already died. "She has a benevolent heart. " In a t rance, a small face appeared in Killian's mind. It was a little blurry, but he vaguely felt that she was a beauty , and her voice was pleasant to hear. Killian thought, it is a pity that she is young. In addition, Martin and Patricia are engaged. Otherwise, it will be good to take her as a granddaughter-in-law, "Have you remembered the contact information of the little girl?" Killian suddenly said, "I want to thank her in person." Rhys was stunned and hurriedly looked at Martin. Martin asked for the girl's phone number yesterday. "Don't disturb her," Martin said flatly. "Why? Can't I meet my savior to express my gratitude?"

Killian thought that so many experts and famous doctors could not cure his illness, but the little girl made it .. What did this mean? It meant that the little girl's medical skills were far above those of experts and famous doctors. If he remembered correctly, the little girl should be only seventeen or eighteen years old. He had another grandson who was about the same age as her. If they could be together, it would be a good thing. "Do you have her contact information?" Killian remembered the way Rhys looked at Martin. Martin had the girl's phone number or Line account. "I don't care. You have to call the little girl over." Killian tried his best. "Whether she comes or not depends on her wishes," Martin said in the end. "Yes, yes!" Killian said hurriedly.

edly. If the girl didn't come, she would be frightened by Martin's cold appearance! Martin was preparing to leave. "Wait a minute!" Killian seemed to have thought of something and added, "When you talk to the little girl, be more polite and gentle! If you don't know what to do, let Rhys teach you! Don't scare her away. Do you hear me?" After all, the little girl was Killian's future granddaughter in law. Martin thought am I not gentle and polite? I don't have to be taught by Rhys. Rhys thought, Mr Stowe, please don't mention me again in front of Martin. It isn't easy for him to forget about the Africa project "No matter what, the little girl is my savior. You are not allowed to have a gloomy face!" Killian was afraid that the little girl would be scared by h is grandson's cold face. On the other side. Donald and Danica came to the dining table and delivered all kinds of breakfast to their two daughters. "This is the dessert made by the chef early in the morning. It is just cooked. Come, Paige, this is yours. Be careful of the heat." "Patricia, you have been staying at school for a month. Why do you look thinner? Help yourself" Patricia smiled sweetly. "Dad, M*m, you don't need to be worried. Take more for my sister Have I not eaten enough good things since I was a child?" Danica smiled, thinking that Patricia was sensible. Patricia did not try to push Paige away, instead, she cared about Paige. This situation was much warmer than imagined. "Dad, this is the tea you like to drink the most when you have dessert. I will pour you a cup.” Patricia stood up and poured the tea from the white porcelain pot into Donald’s cup. Then she picked up another blue. patterned pot and poured another tea into Danica’s cup. “M*m, this is the tea you like. Drink it while it’s hot.” Danica did not expect her daughter would still remember their habits. She smiled lovingly and picked up the cup to take a sip. Patricia looked at Paige triumphantly as if she was the winner of a victory. Patricia thought, so what if she is their biological daughter? After I have been together with them for so many years, no one understands the food habits of my parents better than me. How could Paige not see this thought? Her gaze was as calm as water. She slowly ate the exquisite dessert on the plate, as if she did not care. "Paige, I don't know what tea you like to drink..." Patricia wanted Paige to pour tea herself. However, before Patricia could finish her words, Paige casually said, "Cappuccino, thank you." Patricia was stunned. Was this meaning of asking her to pour the tea? "You are quite fond of your elder sister..." Donald mistakenly thought that Patricia was going to pour tea for Paige and happily said, "Paige, Patricia is like this. She is very concerned about her family. If you don't let her pour it, she will be unhappy." Paige raised his eyes and looked at Patricia and said, "Then I'll have to trouble you next." Patricia was a little embarrassed, but when it came to this point, she could only stand up and pic k up the tea pot with a smile. Patricia noticed that Paige was wearing a white gauze dress today. The gauze dress was very thin, and the water temperature for making tea was high. Patricia thought, if I accidentally poured the hot tea on Paige.. With just a look, Paige could see through Patricia's thoughts. Patricia was pouring tea when she heard Paige's words. "OK, that is enough.". Patricia did not expect Paige would see through her mind so quickly. Patricia secretly gritted her teeth and wanted to pretend that she did not hear it. Unexpectedly, Paige added, "It's enough." Patricia could only stop and said with a smile, "Paige, you are careful. I have poured tea for my parents for so many years, but I have never spilled it. Are you worried t hat I will burn you?” “I think that the tea in my cup should be less than the tea in my parents’ cups.” It was a little less than her parents, which showed her respect. “Paige, you don’t have to be so particular in your own home...” Danica did not expect Paige would be so sensible and learn table manners so well. On the contrary, what Patricia said just now seemed to be a little narrowminded. However, Danica thought that Patricia should not have any ill intentions. Donald smiled and smoothed things over “Paige and Patricia, the results of the college entrance examination will come out soon. Do you two have any universities that you want to enroll in?” Donald put down the cup and looked forward t o their speeches with a kind expression. After Patricia sat down, she felt that it was necessary to show Paige some strength, so she took a step forward and said with a smile, "I should choose the University of Chicago." When Paige heard the words "University of Chicago", she looked up and shot a meaningful gaze. Patricia naturally noticed Paige's gaze. She smiled and said, "Although many students said that the examination this time was too difficult, I think it was simpler than the usual practice questions. I think that it is more than enough to go to the University of Chicago." "The University of Chicago is good in the country, but... Why do I remember that you seemed to want to go study?" Donald looked at Patricia, and there was some confusion in his eyes. abroad to
