Chapter 200

Chapter 200 Hernan Comes

"Thank you." Paige did not expect that Martin would prepare a gift for her grandparents. She had not given him a gift since they met. So it was time to prepare a present for him.

"I heard that we can check the SAT results tomorrow. Are you nervous?" Martin glanced at her.

Paige was speechless.

Why did he ask the same question as Hernan?

"Not really."

"Is there a university you like to go to?" Martin said softly. "As long as you like it, you can be admitted."

Paige smiled, "Will I be admitted even if I get terrible scores?"

"Of course. As soon as you like it, the points are not important."

Did he mean that he wanted to help me with his connections?

"Let's check it tomorrow." Paige did not prefer any university, but she might choose the university in the city where Cason lived...

Although Cason was a little long-winded...

After a while, Martin sent her to the company entrance.

As soon as Paige stepped into the gate, Deon rushed over to report, "Ms. Paige, Mr. Lusk... Mr. Lusk is here!"

"Hernan?"

"There will be an emergency meeting in ten minutes. All managers have to attend, and you are also included."

"Where is Hernan?"

"He is in the conference room!"

Paige left the things to Deon and asked him to take them to the office first. On the way to the conference room, many employees walked in front of her hurriedly, gathering together to gossip.

"I didn't expect that Mr. Lusk would personally come to our company to inspect!"

"I just met him downstairs. He is so handsome! How can he be so charming and perfect?"

"I am wondering what kind of girl is worthy of him."

"Don't daydream. With Mr. Lusk's status, his future wife must come from a family at the same level. She will never be an ordinary girl like us!"

"Mr. Lusk's aura is so powerful. I think only a girl like Ms. Paige is suitable for him. Gosh... Ms. Paige..."

They entered the elevator and were about to press the button to close the door. Unexpectedly, they turned back and found that Paige was about to come in. They were so stunned that they immediately stopped gossiping, greeting Paige one after another.

"It's okay. You can continue." Paige knew that the employees would inevitably be curious. She walked into the elevator and pressed the button.

Many employees held their breath because of her arrival and were so scared that they did not dare to speak.

"Why don't you continue?" Paige wanted to hear more about her and Hernan from them.

"Ms. Paige..." One of the female employees gathered her courage and asked, "Do you think Mr. Lusk is handsome?"

Handsome?

"Not bad." Paige blurted out without thinking.

"Is he your type of guy?" The female employee continued to ask, "If Mr. Lusk pursues you, will you agree to be with him?"

Paige was shocked.

"No."

How could she be with her biological brother?

"What? Why?" The other employees wo puzzled, asking, "There is no second person in the world who is as handsome and rich as Mr. Lusk, right?"

"There is," Paige said without thinking.

"What? Who is it?" The employees did not know who she was talking about. "Ms. Paige, do you have a boyfriend?"

"Ms. Paige is still at such a young age. What are you thinking about?"

"Even if Ms. Paige has a boyfriend, he must be very outstanding!"

"Ms. Paige, do you know why Mr. Lusk suddenly came to inspect? Is there something urgent? Is it a layoff?"

"Gosh, No! I'm just afraid of getting fired..."

The elevator door soon opened. The employees hurriedly followed Paige, asking anxiously, "Ms. Paige, do you think Mr. Lusk wants to lay off employees? It is said that over a thousand people in Canada were cut off by him last month! Over a thousand people!"

"Gosh, I feel that I will be one of them..." an employee grabbed Paige's clothes and said uneasily. "Ms. Paige, if Mr. Lusk wants to fire me, please help me!"

"Please help me, too!"

"What if it was me who would get fired?" Paige smiled, making fun of them.

"What?" They were stunned. "If Mr. Lusk dares to do it, we will strike and quit!"

Paige was a little surprised, asking with a smile, "Really?"

"Of course. If not for you in the company, the company wouldn't have got such a great achievement, and we wouldn't have stayed here!"

"Ms. Paige, if you were laid off, we would follow you wherever you went!"

"I am not joking, or flattering. We knew your ability. If Mr. Lusk fired you, it meant that he didn't deserve you!"

"The company develops because of you!"

"That's right!"

Paige smiled, and she was in a good mood. She did not expect that, in their eyes, she would occupy such an important position.

Paige stopped and knocked on the door of the conference room. Soon, a familiar voice came from inside.

"Come in, please."

Many employees followed Paige. When they saw Hernan, they said in unison, "Good morning, Mr. Lusk!"

Paige also greeted Hernan.

"Come and sit here." Hernan patted the seat on the right and looked at Paige gently.

When everyone saw this, they were surprised, wondering why Hernan was so friendly to Paige. Maybe Paige would not be laid off.

Paige sat beside Hernan and heard him say, "I just came to take a look. Don't be nervous."

Hernan glanced at everyone, but it seemed that he was talking to Paige.

Hearing this, everyone was relieved. It would be good if not for a layoff!

After a while, everyone was present. Hernan asked about the recent situation of the company first. Several managers mentioned Paige one after another.

"I don't know if Mr. Lusk has heard about the crisis in the company before. Fortunately, Ms. Paige is here, otherwise, the company will collapse!

"If Ms. Paige hadn't participated in the design competition with me, I wouldn't have been able to win the championship and the company wouldn't have been able to become famous. So Ms. Paige is the greatest contributor to the company!"

It was Mariela who was speaking. She had already been promoted to the head of the Design Department. At this time, she looked at Hernan, saying earnestly, "Since Mr. Lusk is here, I request you to reward Ms. Paige!"

"That's right!"

"I agree! Ms. Paige has made a great contribution to the company. She should be rewarded."

Hernan looked at everyone and asked, "Then what do you think I should reward her?"

"I think what we most want is a high salary and vacation! I heard that Ms. Paige has got a raise, so I request Ms. Paige to get a paid holiday!"

"That's a good idea. We agree!"

Everyone echoed.

Hernan did not expect Paige to have such high prestige in the company. His eyes softened. "I heard that her SAT results are coming out."

"What? Is Ms. Paige a high school student?"

"When the SPA comes out, will Ms. Paige attend college and will not come to the company in the future?"

"No! Ms. Paige, we want you to stay..."
