Chapter 204

Chapter 204 She Is Seen Through

After work, Hernan brought Paige to Daybreak Hospital and parked the car in the VIP garage. As soon as he got out of the car, he saw the Lusk family's RV coming from far away and stopping next to his car.

This floor of the garage only belonged to the Lusk family. The other patients' cars could not come in, so privacy was guaranteed.

Donald held Danica's hand and got out of the car. Patricia pretended to suffer pain from the last fall and asked her father to support her.

As soon as she got out of the car, Patricia held Donald's arm with her left hand and Danica's arm with her right hand. She smiled and said, "Hernan, Paige, you are here, too?"

Hernan's eyes fell on her arm, and he said in a serious voice, "Everyone will think that you are an only child. You've grown up, but you're still being childish."

Hernan made a pun that she acted like a spoiled, unsophisticated child and that she was deliberately showing off to Paige.

Patricia smiled sweetly, "Hernan, you're saying as if I've gained all of our parents' love. My injuries have not healed yet, so I still need them to support me..."

"Come here, Paige." Hernan did not pay attention to Patricia. Instead, he put his hand on Paige's shoulder and said gently, "Did you remember what I told you on the road?"

"Don't worry, Hernan. I remember everything you told me."

When Patricia heard this, she rushed forward to hold Hernan's other hand. She began to gossip. "What secret did you tell Paige on the road? Tell me! Paige, what interesting thing did Hernan tell you?"

"Mind your hand." Hernan looked at Patricia's arm thoughtfully.

Patricia pouted and reluctantly let go of Hernan's arm. "You're biased. You let Paige hold your arm, but not me! Hmph! You're so mean!"

"Paige has just returned to our home. Can't you treat her better? You have been acting as you please recently. How about applying for a foreign university when your grades come out tomorrow? I will personally supervise your studies."

"Don't..." Patricia didn't want to be supervised by Hernan. She knew how tedious those days would be if she studied under Hernan's guidance. Hernan's rigid routine would be killing her.

Didn't Hernan try to warn her when seeing that she deliberately showed off in front of Paige just now?

She snorted,

Hernan.was too biased.

She didn't know what this **Paige said to Hernan in the company. It seemed that Hernan liked her even more.

Thinking of this, Patricia felt even more upset.

"Hernan, I heard that you were with Paige all day today. Did you help Paige deal with some troublesome business?" Danica stepped forward to hold Paige's hand, and her eyes naturally fell on her eldest son.

Donald also rushed forward and grabbed Paige's other hand. He smiled and asked, "Paige, did Hernan scare you? He usually looks serious. He didn't put too much pressure on you today, did he?"

"Herman is very kind to me," Paige told the truth.

Hernan walked towards the elevator and said, "I appreciate Paige's work efficiency and ability. She doesn't need my help. She is very popular in the company. Everyone likes her very much."

"Really?" Danica sounded very happy. "I've long heard that everyone in the company likes her. Now that you bring it up, I can imagine how popular our Paige is in the company!"

"True that. Today, an employee mistakenly thought that I was going to fire Paige. They said that if I did so, they wouldn't continue working in our company." Hernan glanced at Paige gently. "Many people asked me to give her a paid vacation."

"It seems that our Paige is popular in the company!" Donald was also very happy. It was not easy to achieve this. It could be imagined that Paige had put in a lot of effort.

Patricia saw the way their family loved each other. She mocked in her heart, what kind of employee would think like that? Paige is nothing. What is the point of quitting the job with her? Are they crazy?

Were they **asking Hernan to raise her salary?

They must have been bribed by Paige to speak up for her, right?

"The SAT results will come out tomorrow... What do you plan to do, Paige?" Patricia asked innocently, "Do you want to continue to manage the company or go to college?"

She hoped that Paige would go to an infamous university and be deprived of the right to inherit the family property.

Paige felt disgusted when hearing her ***voice. Fortunately, Hernan answered for her, "I have told the people in the company that Paige will go to university. The company will temporarily be left in charge of Deon. The big decision will be made by Paige remotely. Even if Paige doesn't go to work, she will get the salary."

"Wow, good idea!" Patricia pretended to be happy and said, "Do other people in the company agree?"

Paige could get a salary without going to work. Hernan's favor was so obvious.

If he did so, wouldn't the other people in the company object?

"They all agreed. No objections."

Hearing Hernan's words, Patricia hated Paige in her heart. Was there something wrong with those people? Paige could get a salary without going to work. How could they all agree?

Did they agree against their hearts?

"Paige is awesome...Patricia pretended to appreciate Paige's ability. "I don't know when I will be able to take charge of the company like her. ***, Dad, Hernan, what do you think?"

Hernan just glanced at her and said, "You have been spoiled since you were a child. I am afraid that you won't be able to convince them if you are in charge of the company."

Did this mean that she was not worthy to take charge of the company, but Paige was?

"I haven't tried it yet, but Hernan said I couldn't! Humph!" Patricia pretended to act cute, "Dad, ***, look at Hernan..."

"Hernan is right. You have been spoiled from a young age. How can you have any management experience?" Danica agreed with Herman's statement, "You'd better study hard now and take time to think about your future."

"I know!" Patricia knew that Danica still loved her biological daughter more, but she could not point it out. She could only go forward and hold Danica's other hand. "I will do whatever ***asks me to do. Even if I don't marry, I'm willing to stay by your side to take care of you!"

"How can a girl not get married when she grows up?" Danica did not agree with Patricia. "Dad and ***do not need you to take care of us. As long as you are happy and our family gets along harmoniously, then I will be satisfied."

Patricia understood her implication, "****, don't worry. With Paige coming, our big family will definitely be livelier than before!"

The elevator door opened. They went out and reached the twenty-second VIP floor together.

This floor was not open to the public. All the medical staff only served the Lusk family. When the head nurse saw them, she bowed respectfully. "Mr. and Mrs. Lusk, welcome. Mr. Hernan, Ms. Patricia, welcome."

"This is Ms. Paige Lusk. She will have access to this place from now on." Danica held Paige's arm and introduced her to the head nurse.

The head nurse was a little surprised, but she still respectfully greeted Paige. "Hello, Ms. Paige!"
