Chapter 210

Chapter 210 It Doesn't Work at All

Patricia was stunned for a few seconds as if she was frozen.

"Can you accept her for the sake of parents and brothers, just like how she accepted you?"

Hernan saw that Patricia was lost in thought and patted her head. "Think about what I said before going to bed tonight. I hope that next time I come home, I will see a different you."

Hernan's biological clock was still very punctual. There were only three minutes left before he went to bed. He stood up and did not make an exception.

Before he left, he said, "If I were you, I would cherish everything in front of me. I wouldn't regret it until I lost it."

Patricia looked at him in shock.

"Good night." Hernan took a step and left the terrace.

Seeing that Hernan had left, Amily, who was hiding in the dark, hurriedly walked out. "Ms. Patricia, are you alright..."

Amily had secretly followed him since Hernan had looked for Patricia!

Amily thought that Hernan would say that he doted on Patricia, or do something like that, but Amily had never expected it to be a warning!

"Mr. Hernan is warning you. If you don't get along well with Paige, you have to leave this family..."

Patricia's tears rolled down. "But Hernan is right. I do not belong to this family in the first place. The love of my parents and several brothers, this luxurious life, and the service of the ... None of them belong to me! I have enjoyed eighteen years of life in place of Paige!"

"Ms. Patricia, you can't think like this." Amily was anxious and quickly looked around. Seeing that there was no one else, she said, "It's not your fault at all! How can they blame you? You have also lost the life of being loved by your biological parents for eighteen years. You also have a loss!"

Patricia spoke in depression, "Amily, if I really treat Paige as my biological sister, will they still treat me the same? I am referring to my parents and my brothers..."

"Of course not!" Amily said aloud, "Ms. Patricia, why are you so ? You were fooled by Mr. Hernan with just a few words! If he really treats you as his sister, he will not warn you tonight!"

"But I think what he said made sense... Although it sounded very hurtful, every sentence.

was reasonable."

"Do you still remember what his last sentence was? He was hinting that if you don't keep to yourself, you will soon lose everything!"

Amily was anxious. "Ms. Patricia, listen to me. While you still have the ability and connections, while they still have feelings for you, either kick Paige out, fight for the greatest benefit of the Lusk family, or marry Mr. Stowe to become the most powerful person in the world. Don't try to lower your voice and build a good relationship with Paige. It doesn't work at all!"

Patricia raised her eyes and was somewhat shaken.

"I've watched you grow up since you were a child. I have long regarded you as my own daughter. I will never harm you!" Amily said as she almost cried, "I am really doing this. for your own good. Ms. Patricia, don't be fooled by Mr. Hernan!"

"Amily, do you have any children?" Patricia suddenly asked.

Amily was stunned. She did not understand the meaning of Patricia's words. After a long time, she said, "I once had a child."

"Once?" Patricia was surprised.

"That was a long time ago. At that time, I had just finished my delivery. I heard that it was very profitable to be a nanny in the city. I wanted to try it. Because my husband was a , he could only stay in the village to take care of our family. I didn't expect that there would be a sudden flood that year... My husband and our child were gone, and the child's grandparents were gone."

"I'm sorry." Patricia was a little moved. "I asked about your sad feelings."

Patricia was just curious. She had not heard Amily mention her family in the past eighteen years. Every holiday, Amily did not want to go back to visit her relatives.

"The people living in our village are all relatives. Many people died in the flood that year."

Patricia nodded. "I will not forget you in the future if I become successful."

"Thank you, Ms. Patricia!" Amily said a lot to her.

Paige was busy until 11:30 pm. After looking at the time and sorting the medicine, she rushed home.

As soon as Paige stepped into the door, she could feel a hostile gaze on her from the second floor. It seemed that someone wanted to cut her into pieces.

Paige looked up and saw a figure hiding behind the window. It seemed to be spying on Paige.

The window was in Patricia's room.

Perhaps Patricia did not know that the light drew a long shadow and reflected it on the curtain.

Paige took back her gaze. As she entered the living room, she heard her parents' voices.

"Why isn't Paige back yet? Will she be in danger? Why don't we make a call and ask?" It was Donald's voice. "It's so late. She's a girl. I am worried..."

"It's not midnight yet. Don't worry. Don't let Paige have psychological pressure!" Danica's voice carried a hint of sleepiness. "Wait a bit longer. Paige will not stay out late over twelve in the past no matter what!"

"Really?" Donald yawned. "Then I'll wait a little longer!"

When Paige heard these words, she was moved. She changed into a pair of slippers and entered the door. "Dad, I'm back."

Donald and Danica immediately got up to welcome Paige.

"Paige, it's so late. Where did you go?"

Donald had just finished speaking when he was stopped by Danica. "She is a grown-up. Why are you asking so carefully? She knows what to do."

"Sorry, I was just worried!"

Paige smiled, "I just went to find the doctor. She is going abroad to treat other people. tonight. Before she left, she gave me this medicine and said that there was no problem at all."

Danica suddenly understood. "That's true. She is famous, and there must be many people who want her treatment. We asked her to come to see our parents at the last minute. She can't refuse the invitations and come immediately."

"Yes. Yes. Paige also knows medicine. She told the doctor about our father and mother. They will prescribe the right medicine. I believe it won't be wrong!" Donald did not want to give Paige psychological pressure.

"This is the medicine for the first three days. There are a total of six bottles. Each bottle can be taken in warm water." Paige handed over a small bag. "She will prepare the rest and send it to me. Don't worry about not being able to catch up."

"Well, well, thank you for your hard work! I've prepared some food for you. Let's go eat something first. By the way, is the money enough? Do you need more?" Danica asked anxiously.

"No need. She didn't take much. I will go upstairs to take a bath first. I will come down to eat later. You can sleep," Paige smiled.

"Well, good night!"
