Chapter 217 A Full Score

"Patricia, you have gotten a good score. The professor from the University of Chicago smiled. "But we are here to see Paige."

"Paige?" Donald and Danica were surprised.

The sents were also surprised.

Patricia unconsciously clenched her fists and forced herself to calm down

"She has gotten a full score!"

Everyone was shocked. A full score?

Paige?

Patricia's face was completely pale. She felt as if she had been struck by lightning and was about to lose her balance

How could Paige get a full score?

How could she get full marks for such a difficult examination?

Amily couldn't believe her ears Did I mishear the name? How could it be Paige? Is Paige that smart?

Ms. Patricia is very smart. But she only got 1,540 points..

How can Paige get full points?

All the sernts were stunned for a few seconds before they realized whom the professor was referring to Then they congratulated Donald and Danica

After a brief moment of shock, Donald and Danica became overjoyed!

"Paige got a full score! I have never expected this! She never tells us about her academic performance!

Danica did not expect her quiet daughter to be so outstanding! Paige has been hiding her real strength. But people will be shocked by her abilities when she presents them one after another Donald was also excited. Paige can play the piano and design clothes and jewelry Also, she knows medicine. And she has now gotten a full score!

Is there anything in this world that she can't do?

The old professor from the University of Chicago was surprised to see them being so shocked and happy He said with a smile, "It seems that you didn't know Paige's score. Where is she? We represent the school and want to invite her to study at our university"

"Me too!" The teachers from other universities' enrollment offices echoed

Danica explained with a smile, "She is still sleeping. She hasn't checked her score yet."

The teachers were shocked. Today was the most important day for the students. Almost all of the students would check their SPA as soon as they were published. How was Paige able to fall asleep?

She has a really strong heart.

The student who got a full score was indeed different from the others.

"Everyone, please come in. Bonnie, go and ask Ms. Paige to come down." Donald smiled and invited them into the house. He had never been so proud before!

Donald had been the richest man in the country for many years. But his huge wealth had never brought him pride like this!

It was his biological daughter that made him feel fulfilled!

Danica also entered the room. The servants hurriedly poured tea for them and served them politely Only Patricia and Amily were still standing outside. They were stunned for a long time.

"Patricia, the teachers from famous universities must have arrived at your home. Right?"

"I heard that a professor from the University of Chicago visited you personally. What does he look like? Take a photo of him and show us!"

"When will you treat us to a meal? After the teachers leave, we should have a big meal to celebrate your achievement!"

When Patricia saw the messages in the group chat, she felt more embarrassed.

Patricia had been proud of herself and felt that she was going to be famous.

She was looking forward to seeing her name on the news headlines, Twitter trending, and other big websites.

She was looking forward to thousands of netizens praising her identity as the most excellent student.

She felt that she was about to become the person of the moment!

Patricia didn't expect there would be someone with a full score stealing her thunder!

"Oh no!" Amily suddenly thought of something and quickly took out her phone to make a call.

Patricia was not in the mood and did not have the strength to ask about it. However, after hearing what Amily was saying, Patricia suddenly raised her eyes and asked in astonishment, "Amily, you invited reporters?"

Amily hung up the phone and said anxiously, T. I didn't expect that girl to get a full score either I thought you would. Now those reporters are about to arrive at Larsen Villa. What should we do? We can't let that girl accept their interviews, right? That way, she will be the center of attention!"

Patricia knew that it was impossible to let the reporters go back now. Anyone would want to report the big news!

"Amily, you are too reckless! It wasn't confirmed yet!" Patricia could only blame her in a low voice.

"I am sorry, Ms. Patricia. I didn't mean it..."

There was no turning back now!

When Paige went downstairs, all the teachers looked up at her They were stunned by her beauty.

Paige was in the most common clothes, but she had a strong vibe that nobody could ignore

She looks so confident at such a young age. She will have a promising future!

Paige had only slept for half an hour after staying up all night. She was somewhat irritable. But when she heard that many teachers were waiting for her in the living room, she calmed down and walked downstairs.

As Paige got closer, people saw her beautiful face clearly. Paige was so beautiful that people could not take their eyes off her

She had not only a good academic performance but also a great appearance

When Paige sat down, she looked distant and yet powerful. People couldn't help glancing at her

"Hello, Paige. I heard that you were resting just now You don't know your SAT score yet, right?" The teacher from the University of Pennsylvania asked with a smile.

"I know," Paige said lightly

"You know?" All the teachers were surprised and asked in unison, "Did you check the score?"

"No. But it should be full marks."

Everyone was stunned by her confident and indifferent appearance. She must be very smart and self-assured to be able to say these words.

"You are right. Yes. You are the only one that got full marks in the country this year!"

A teacher asked enthusiastically, "I wonder if you have a dream school or not? You can consider the University of Pennsylvania. You don't have to pay for the tuition. And we will give you a VIP single room and a scholarship of 160 thousand dollars. And you can choose any major you like. You will study with the help of the best professors of the major you choose!"

When the other teachers heard this, they became anxious. He had said everything they wanted to say.

Paige knew that the admission SPA of the University of Pennsylvania in the previous years was not less than 1,510, but she declined politely, "Sorry I won't consider it for the time being."

The teacher knew it was unlikely that Paige would choose the University of Pennsylvania. After all, the professors of Stanford University and the University of Chicago were also there...

However, he did not give up. He said, "When you change your mind, contact me at any time. This is my business card. It has my contact information and Line account. Do you need me to teach you how to add friends on Line?"

"No. Thank you," Paige said politely
