Chapter 24

Martin Carries Her Bag

"This soup has Heart Soothing Powder?"

Paige raised her beautiful eyes and asked Neil.

Neil was stunned for a moment and hurriedly said, "Yes, the person who brought the soup said that the powder has a miraculous effect on the heart and will not be incompatible with any other medicinal materials..."

"It won't."

Paige finally knew where the problem was. "But Mr. Stowe's current physical condition is not good. Taking tonics will instead do him harm."

"So, this soup is fine, but the problem is that Mr Stowe is not suitable for taking it now?"

Neil did not expect that this girl would be so good despite her young age. She found out the problem with just a sniff.

Just then, the door of the operating room opened, and a nurse ran out anxiously.

"Mr. Stowe, it's so good to see you! Please sign on the notice..."

Martin looked at the pen and paper in her hand and did not take them over. Instead, he asked coldly, "How is my grandpa?"

"He's not doing very well... But please believe us, Mr. Stowe. We will do our best to save him! At the same time, please sign it."

"What do you think?" Martin looked at Paige beside him.

"This doesn't need to come this far."

Paige knew what signing the notice meant. She looked at the time and said, "Wait for me for a while."

She took off her shoulder bag and handed it to Martin, who took it.

Seeing Paige turn around and leave, everyone was stunned.

"Mr. Stowe, who is this girl?"

Neil was confused. How could she let Martin carry her bag?

"Isn't the operating room there? What is Ms. Tate doing going over there?"

Rhys also could not understand.

"Mr. Stowe, the patient's very si*k. Please make a decision now."

The nurse was anxious. She did not know why the girl was holding the surgery back at this point.

Paige went to Colin's office to ask for a set of medical devices and then asked the nurse to lead the way to change into surgical scrubs.

"Mr Stowe, this..."

What was going on?

The nurse was stunned. She looked at Martin. Was this girl crazy? Was she going to perform the surgery for Killian on her own?

She looked underage. Was she going in to cause trouble?

In aushe sai

MATEM & welds undoubtedly sagsorted Page

From now on, just do what she tells you to do

The nurse understood and did not dare to say anything more She brought Paige inside

Mr Stowe let's go to the observation room and wait At least we can see how far the operation goes.

OK

In the operating room, when Professor Swift saw that the person who came was Paige, he felt a weight lifting from his heart. He seemed to be relieved and hurriedly gave her the position of the operator.

Ever since Tim witnessed Paige's medical skills last time, he admired her so much...

The nurse was stunned...

Was the girl prestigious?

She wondered if Paige was the medical prodigy who performed Killian's surgery yesterday and became famous all over the hospital.

If so, that explained everything...

After all, even the famous cardiologist, Tim, was not her match.

After Paige finished the rest of the operation, Killian's breath was still very weak, and things were looking blue.

"Ms. Tate, what should we do now?"

The other doctors were obviously at their wit's end.

They had been doctors for so many years, and they had solved many tricky problems. Only Killian's illness led them to a dead end every time.

"Wait."

Hearing Paige firmly saying this word, the other doctors all disagreed.

"His breathing is getting weaker and weaker. Do you still want to wait? What for?"

"Now is the best time to save him. Every second is precious!"

Seeing that Paige was standing in front of the operating table without any action, the other doctors became anxious.

"If you have no other way, just admit it. Let Professor Swift try again.

"After all, you are still young and inexperienced. Professor Swift, can you think of another way? We can't just wait and do nothing...

"If you can't..."

"Who said I can't?"

Paige raised her eyes and looked confidently at the person who spoke

The doctor was startled by her imposing manner "If you can do it, then do something now!"

Killian & breathing was getting fainter

The breathing machine was frequently beeping to warn them...

When Paige heard this sound, she simply opened the bag of special medical tools.

Everyone was stunned. What was she trying to do?

"This is the operating room! What are you doing here?"

"The patient is on the verge of dying and can't stand you tormenting him."

"If you have no other way, please make way. Don't waste everyone's time here!"

Paige inserted the tools into Killian's brain, heart, arms, and other places.

The nurse next to her was frightened. This girl was so bold that she dared to make Killian look like a strawman....

"You are not fooling anybody!"

Finally, a doctor couldn't hold back and was about to stop Paige when Tim snapped, "Enough!"

The nurse chimed in. "Mr. Stowe just said that we need to do what she asks."

With Martin's words, the others did not dare to voice their anger, leaving only one boldly saying, "OK, do whatever you want!"

The medical tools pierced into Killian's vital body part, and after a while, he spat out a mouthful of blood....

Everyone was dumbfounded.

Even Neil in the observation room was spo*ked. "Is he alright? It seems even worse....

Why did Killian vomit blood?

But after that, Killian's condition gradually stabilized.

The breathing machine no longer made a harsh sound.

All the doctors looked at Paige in disbelief.

Seeing that there was not much time left, Paige pulled out the medical tools one by one and said calmly, "It's all right now. Send the patient back to the ward."

All the doctors stared at her with complicated looks in their eyes.

"If you hadn't operated without permission, these tools would do the work."

Paige put away the tool bag and left after saying this.

Everyone was shocked. Tim was the first to react. He recalled the steps Paige just did and the vital body part she inserted the tools into. Tim pondered for a while and suddenly understood. "Wonderful, it's really wonderful. So it's like this.

He understood Paige's methods.

However, the other doctors did not understand the mysteries behind it. They all gathered around and asked Tim.

"Professor Swift, do you understand? Explain to us..."

"How did she do it?"

"How did the patient get better just after she stuck those tools into him?"

"Mr. Stowe... Ms. Tate is..." Rhys was so shocked that he could not utter a complete sentence.

What kind of genius was she?

There were so many experts and doctors who could not do anything about it, but Paige solved it with only a few small tools.

Was it because the other doctors were too bad, or was she too good?

Paige walked out of the operation room and saw Martin coming towards her. Her bag was still around his shoulder.

Just now, Paige was in a hurry and just handed the bag to him. She did not expect Martin would carry it for such a long time.
