Chapter 36

Keep a Tight Grip on Her Hand

“Forget it.”

Tyrell didn’t want to make a fuss since, as the richest man in Dolton, he needed to act elegantly in public

But Lindsey wouldn’t just let it go. “Is it because Dr. Williamson finds her attractive and wants to pursue her? That’s why he defended her like that! I knew it. Him treating us so poorly the last few times must have something to do with that girl…”

“Stop talking. Now get in and see how Cassie is holding up.”

“I wonder when Cassie will wake up. I have had the will drawn up already. I won’t feel relieved until she signs it and leaves her property to us and Abbigail…!

“Keep your voice down!”

“Do you want everyone to hear you?” Tyrell turned to glare at her.

Lindsey hurried to cover her mo*th and sht the door.

Meanwhile, Paige, not knowing what Lindsey and Tyrell were up to, said to Colin, who was behind her, “I have something else to do. See you around.”

“Then Cassie’s medical report..”

“Please read it for me.”

“Alright.”

Only then did Colin notice Martin, who was waiting in front of them. Martin’s hair was short, and his figure was slender Everything about him struck people as noble.

Colin thought, why is he here?

Ever since Paige saved Killian, Paige and this guy seemed to be very close.

But Martin didn’t pay much attention to Colin. He glanced at Colin and then looked at Paige as if Colin was just a passer by. Then Martin asked Paige softly, “Are you in trouble?”

“No.”

“If there is anything that has troubled you, you can tell me. I will deal with it.”

Paige looked up and found that Martin looked rather serious. Then she said faintly, “Nothing. It was just two mad dogs. Now I will get in and stay with Kilian.”

“OK”

Martin stayed where he was and stared after her After Paige entered the ward, Martin looked up at Colin, who was not far away.

Colin did not know whether he should greet Martin or not because even Todd found Martin respectable.

And just as Colin was hesitating, Martin retracted his gaze and followed Paige into the ward.

“Paige, did anything happen to you?”

Noticing that Paige was back, Killian asked with concern.

“If there is anything that is haunting you, tell Martin, and he will take care of it! If Martin disappoints you, you can then come to find me! I am on your side.”

“OK.” Paige’s eyes looked so clear as she answered.

And when Paige was about to leave, Killian asked her again, “Paige, don’t forget what you promised me. The day after tomorrow when I am discharged, you need to come.”

“I will

After leaving the hospital, Paige asked about Rosa’s condition.

“She suffered severe brain damage.”

Martin replied in a low voice, “She can breathe and blink. But other than that, she is vegetative.”

Simply put, she was like a living plant.

Paige knew what that meant and brought to mind a tricky case a long time ago, in which her patient became vegetative because of brain damage as well.

Although that patient was cured in the end, it took a lot of effort to prescribe the patient’s medicine, which was demanding and required some rare species that could only be found in illegal areas outside the border. In short, it was very troublesome and time-consuming.

“Do you want to eat dinner together”

Paige looked at the time and wanted to tell Martin that her parents were waiting for her at home. But Martin had already taken out his mobile phone and started to dial a number.

“Uncle, it’s me.

“Paige and I will eat outside tonight.”

“OK, I will take good care of her ”

Noticing that Martin ended the call very quickly, Paige was speechless.

She thought, did I say yes?

“What do you want to have for dinner?”

Martin opened the car door for her and waited for her to get in.

Paige was lost for words.

“Steak?”

Paige still remained silent.

“Or seafood?”

Still, Paige didn’t answer him.

“Or something else?”

“Anything, will do.”

Paige got into the car and put the dinner behind her

Then Martin got in the car as well. Noticing that Paige wanted to take off the necklace, he grabbed her hand.

With her hand wrapped by his, Paige, stunned, looked at him. “I can’t have it.”

“You’re the only one that can have it.”

Martin looked into her eyes and enunciated each word, “I know that you are still young and have not considered marrying anyone. It doesn’t matter. We can wait.”

But Paige felt very conspicuous wearing such a precious necklace. And everyone who had heard of the necklace knew what it meant to wear it.

That was, only Martin’s wife could wear it!

Noticing that Paige still wanted to take it off, Martin then brought up Killian, “Killian can’t get emotional. Can you wear it for now? If Killian sees you not wearing it, he will feel sad.”

The mention of Killian made Paige’s hand freeze. Then Martin took her hand before she put it down.

Her hand was so soft and tender that Martin didn’t feel like letting it go.

Paige was unable to pull her hand back. Therefore, she said, “Let go.”

Keeping a tight grip on her hand, Martin had no intention of letting it go at all. Instead, he looked ahead calmly. “Lend your hand to me for a while ”

Paige was speechless, thinking, what kind of person would do that?

“Are you close to Colin?”

Martin asked suddenly.

Paige was confused.

Rhys, who was driving in the front, did not expect that Martin and Paige would get into a relationship this fast. Therefore, he got so excited that his hand was trembling a bit.

Rhys thought, what a pity that the road is so smooth. Otherwise, I could bump Ms. Tate into Mr. Stowe’s arms like last time.

“We have met a few times,” Paige said lightly.

Colin had doubted her medical skills before. But after properly showing him what she was capable of a few times, Colin ended up finding her respectable.

“Then which one do you like more, doctors or someone who doesn’t know anything about medicine?”

Paige was confused.

Rhys, on the other hand, was amused.

He thought, Mr. Stowe, you say that you are not jealous? And yet, you’re asking a question like this! Obviously, you’re jealous as h*ll!

“What does that mean?”

Paige was perplexed. But noticing that Martin looked a little concerned, Paige understood right away. “I like doctors more since we can communicate and learn things from each other.”

Martin clenched her hand and asked in a somewhat jealous tone, “So you’ll talk about medicine a whole day? Aren’t -an that he’ Medicine is what we both like. Besides, we can improve ourselves while we’re at it 18g that Paige had raised her eyebrows, Martin smiled, knowing that Paige was only teasing him.

And then, instead of feeling jealous, Martin started to find the whole conversation very sweet.

Mr Stowe, Star Restaurant is up ahead!”

Rhys could not help but look at the rearview mirror again. “Ms. Tate, this is Mr. Stowe’s favorite restaurant. He has never brought any girls here!”

Paige then asked right away, “You mean to say he would take girls to places that he doesn’t like?”

“No! Of course not.”

And before Rhys stopped the car, the manager of the restaurant had seen them.

Then the manager hurried to run out of the restaurant to welcome them.

“Mr. Stowe, it’s been a while… This is…”
