

Ceo's Mysterious Fiancee by Piper Dunlap

Chapter 501

Chapter 501 It Was Discovered

Not only Mill was anxious, but even the other subordinates were anxious.

"You, you, you, shut up!"

Mr. Lamont was still resting in the room. If he found out that Hernan and Martin left him and went to do something secretly, not only was Hernan done for, but we were also screwed...

"Paige.

"Come out.

"I'm waiting for you..."

Nate put the knife on Edward's neck and shouted. He didn't want to hurt Paige's subordinate, but he must see her at this moment. The faster he could see her, the better the situation would be.

Lamont was on the second floor at that time. He heard it, and said in a gentle tone, "He should have something urgent to ask Paige for. I'll go downstairs and ask him about that."

"No, Mr. Lamont, don't do that." Tyler hurriedly stopped him. "You are injured, so you should rest in your room. Mill can deal with it. It's windy outside. You are injured. If the injury worsens, it would be terrible..."

"Take it easy. I want to tell him to keep his voice down and don't wake Paige up." Lamont walked towards the stairs, "I want to ask him about the matter. If he is in a hurry, I can convey it on his behalf."

Seeing Lamont clumsily walking down the stairs despite the pain of his wound, Tyler became even more anxious. He followed behind Lamont and try to persuade him, "Mr. Lamont, we will handle this matter. You should go back and have a rest..."

"Don't worry. It's okay."

Just as Tyler was worried about how to stop him, he suddenly heard a sound coming from outside.

"Hernan!"

"It's the Hernan's car. Hernan is back."

"Thank god Hernan is back at last!"

"Whenever Hernan goes to deal with something, I'm worried. And whenever I see her car comes back safely. I'm very happy."

More than 20 people greeted "Hernan" one after another. The voice was so loud that everyone in the castle could hear it.

A man took an umbrella and opened the car door for Paige.

"Hernan, you are not injured, right?"

"Did you achieve a complete victory?"

"Are there any bastards following you? If so, I'll lead someone to cut their way and battle with them."

Seeing Paige get off the car, Mill realized that she had gone on business and was not in the castle. He didn't expect what Mill said to be true.

He subconsciously let go of Edward. Edward hurried to walk to the crowd, rubbing his sore neck.

"Damn. This Nate was fairly cruel," thought Edward.

"It's okay. It's going well." Paige looked up. Her eyes were especially clear and beautiful in the night. She was a little surprised when she saw Nate.

"Why are you here?"

"Paige, go with me and I'll explain to you on the way."

Nate was about to grab Paige's hand, but he was suddenly stopped by someone.

It was Martin.

He pulled Paige to his side and his black pupils darkened a little.

Why did this person stay up late to look for his fiancee? What was he going to do?

Seeing that Nate was anxious, Paige handed her things to Martin and said in a soft tone, "Martin, I'll go out for a while. Please give these things to Lamont when he wakes up."

She thought that Lamont was sleeping in the castle. However, Lamont was standing in front of the floor-to-ceiling windows on the first floor and watching their every move at this moment.

At first, he thought he was mistaken. But when the girl with the bright and pretty face got out of the car, he was sure that it was his sister. If it weren't her, who else could it be?

No wonder the thunderstorm and quarrels outside didn't wake up her sister, it turned out that she was not in the room!

Lamont subconsciously looked at Tyler who was next to him. Tyler lowered his head with a guilty look on his face...

Lamont thought, "So, why did she secretly go to deal with things late in the night and ask these people to hide something back?

Could it be that the place she went to was the location where Yana mentioned?

She was afraid of danger, so she didn't want him to go with her..."

Taking a closer look, he found that Martin was the one who came back together with Paige. So, Martin also lied to him...

They hadn't made any progress in their marriage yet. How could he cooperate with Paige to deceive her older brother?

Lamont planned to get even with them for this.

"Lamont, don't be angry. Hernan knew that you were injured and wanted you to have a rest..." Tyler hurriedly chased after him and explained, "Hernan was afraid that you might be worried and wouldn't be able to sleep well, so I didn't tell you about that..."

Outside the castle.

Martin lowered his head and asked the girl in front of him, "Where are you going?"

Nate next to her was in a hurry. He whispered, "Paige, there is no time."

"Til tell you later, okay?" Paige didn't know exactly what happened, but she vaguely guessed that it was related to the person Nate mentioned today...

That person should be dying soon...

"Be careful in everything and call me anytime when you need."

Martin didn't want to restrict her freedom or ask her many questions. He gave her a lot of trust and space.

"Come back early." He patted Paige's head again as if he was exhorting a child to be careful.

A subordinate handed over the umbrella, and Nate took it first, waiting for Paige to take the first step.

"Til be back soon. You can contact me anytime."

Paige's words were a great comfort to Martin, which seemed to set his mind at ease. His expression became gentler.

Seeing him smile, Paige left with Nate, and her thin figure gradually disappeared from Martin's sight.

Martin looked in the direction she was leaving with a complicated expression on his face. Mill held his breath for a while and said, "Martin, don't worry. Hernan is just going deal with something, and she will be back soon."

Martin was still standing there, watching the car that drove away. No one knew what he was thinking.

"Nate is in such a hurry, so there must be something urgent to ask Hernan for help."

"He rarely comes to the castle in normal times..."

"We can't do anything about it in that Hernan owes him a favor..."

They didn't know who said the last sentence. Upon hearing this, Martin gazed at him and asked, "She owes him a favor?"

"Didn't Hernan tell you about that?" Realizing that he had said something wrong, that person hurriedly covered his mouth, but it was too late.

Martin's gaze made him feel a bit scared, so he looked at Mill for help.

Mill could only briefly say some words and end the topic.

Although it was only a few words, Martin was distressed greatly about her sufferings.

It turned out that Paige had already suffered so much before he knew her.

The sufferings were so bitter that few men could bear it, but she still gritted her teeth and made efforts to deal with them...

Just as Lamont was about to step out of the gate of the castle, he saw Martin walking back with an umbrella and walking towards the steps.

"Lamont?"

Martin's tone was a little surprised.

Lamont's face was gloomy. He said, "Paige acted like a spoilt child. How can you mess around with her? It was late in the night and it was raining heavily. If something bad happened, I would feel guilty all my life. Although you can protect her, you should be vigilant at all times to keep her from danger."

Tyler gazed at Martin with guilty eyes and begged for his forgiveness...

He didn't mean to slip his tongue...

It was because he wasted some time by talking about Nate's kindness to the Hernan. That's why the matter developed to this point.

"Our family had made great efforts to find Paige back. I don't want her to have an accident, let alone suffer something because of me. Can you understand it?"
