Ceo's Mysterious Fiancee by Piper Dunlap Chapter 503

Chapter 503 Meeting

Paige followed Nate's footsteps through the small courtyard to the front of the house.

Nate whispered, "She has a special identity. If you see her face, it might bring disaster upon you."

"So, just take care of her inside, no one is there."

Paige was taken aback and speculated that the person was quite unusual.

The person was in the adjacent room, with a frosted glass wall separating the two rooms, and a

Paige was stunned and thought, "Taking care of her through the wall? Quite novel."

Nate approached the hole and leaned down to speak to the person on the other side, "Aaryn, my friend is here. If you have any discomfort, just tell her..."

On the other side of the wall was the girl's bed. At this moment, the girl was curled up in bed, the pain wracking her internal

She clutched the sheets tightly, her thin shoulders trembling with pain. Beads of sweat, the size of peas, dripped down from her forehead and fell onto her beautiful, cold face.

Despite her pale complexion, her facial features were still stunningly beautiful and rare.

"She's in a lot of pain and can't get up to greet you," Nate turned around and explained to Paige, "If possible, help relieve her back soon. Wait for me."

"Okay."

She had to wait... At least let him see her one last time...

"I'll be back soon," Nate said, leaning down again, gently speaking to the girl on the other side of the wall, "I'm leaving now. I'll be

"Thank you." Nate thanked Paige with gratitude.

That's why he came to Paige in the middle of the night. In this place, only Paige had the ability to ensure that Aaryn was safe in

After Nate left, Paige softly spoke to the girl on the other side of the wall, "Stretch your hand over."

Paige's fingers touched her pulse for a while before saying, "Your poison is indeed very complex. Let me help relieve your pain

The girl on the bed endured the pain and stretched her hand over.

first."

Let me take a look."

The girl on the bed heard the sound of Paige opening her backpack, followed by the sound of special medical tools?

She suddenly withdrew her hand, wary of Paige.

It was a slender and fair hand.

Paige was somewhat surprised, "You can even hear the sound of special medical tools?" When she took out the special medical tools just now, the short and long medical tools made a sound, and the girl next door could hear it?

"Special medical tools are used for moxibustion and pain relief." Paige started disinfecting the special medical tools. "Did you smell the disinfectant?"

It seemed that the girl's identity was really not simple...

The girl hesitated for a moment, then stretched her hand over again. "Nate didn't tell you that he saved my life?" Paige directly placed the special medical tools on the girl's vital body part at the end

"The other hand."

After using the special medical tools, Paige said, "The pain has eased."

The girl had always been cautious. Paige's words didn't make her relax at all, but even more

The girl obediently complied. "Now it's not so painful?"

"Much better." The girl on the bed did not expect Paige's medical skills to be so superb. She now.

"It's hard to say." Paige said as she packed up the special medical tools, "Your condition is indeed complicated, but not incurable."

"Do you have a solution?" "I need to draw some of your blood and take it back for research," Paige explained, "There are many toxins in your body, and to completely cure it, you need multiple medications. It won't be

Including the famous Mr. Williamson in China, Todd Williamson. He shook his head and said he was powerless...

"Yeah," Paige finished packing up and raised her clear eyes, saying softly, "But it's not easy to completely eradicate it."

"How sure are you?" "About seventy to eighty percent sure."

But he did recommend someone, Skylar Benson, who might be able to help.

Paige was surprised. She had never heard of Nate having a sister before...

"Thank you. Can you help me call Nate and ask him to come back?"

When she recovered, she could do it herself.

become so skilled in medicine?"

"It was taught by an old man."

If she could survive, she didn't need to complete the last wish immediately.

The girl's eyes showed a glimmer of hope when she heard this, "Really?"

The girl's eyes were filled with surprise. So much?? She had consulted countless doctors before, all of whom said they couldn't help her...

"His sister," The girl answered truthfully, "His younger sister."

She didn't know if she could wait until Nate came back...

"Can you save me?" The girl on the bed asked hopefully and anxiously. Paige looked at her slender wrist and asked softly, "Who are you to Nate?"

However, Skylar Benson was nowhere to be found. She couldn't even find out where he was until Paige nodded, "Okay, I'll do my best." She just considered it repaying Nate's life-saving favor.

When she heard the system's cold voice, the girl felt a little self-blame. "Nate took me to see many doctors before, and they all said my condition was complicated and there was no way to cure it. I thought I couldn't be cured."

Paige took out her phone and dialed Nate's number, but it showed that his phone was turned off.

So, when Nate thought of Paige and the entire Yald Mountain that she was in charge of...

"Because of the sensitive identity, we have never mentioned it to outsiders. You are the first one," the girl explained.

gone, my brother will follow. We're each other's only family in this world." "I can tell," Paige said gently, "He cares about you a lot, otherwise he wouldn't have come to me in

But the girl had already lost the confidence and courage to live...

And he even injured her henchmen... "I have to make him buy her something and apologize in person. I couldn't let him off easy," thought Paige.

"He came to you in the rain?" The girl felt even more guilty, and after a moment asked, "You sound so young, how did you
