

Ceo's Mysterious Fiancee by Piper Dunlap

Chapter 524

Chapter 524 Made Her Unhappy

The plane had landed outside.

Jairo and a group of his men watched Paige with reluctance. "Paige, we'll come to see you in a few days. Take good care of yourself while you're in the country, and don't hesitate to call us if you need anything."

"Absolutely, Paige. My phone is on 24 hours, and I'm always ready to help. If you're in danger, don't try to handle it alone. Think of us first." Rylee advised.

"When Jairo and Rylee saw you injured, their eyes turned red. Paige, you need to take care of yourself and not get hurt again," Mill added with concern.

Paige's eyes softened. "I understand."

"Goodbye, Paige."

"Young Master, please take good care of Paige."

"Paige is just a young girl who needs to be taken care of. Please, Young Master Stowe..."

"Don't worry, I will." Martin nodded at them, then carried Paige up the stairs.

Lamont was struggling to hold Yana.

"How about you let me down?" Yana saw his pained expression and realized he might have pulled his wound. "Let me walk on my own."

"Don't move, you'll hurt my wound."

Yana obediently stopped moving and looked at him with concern. "Are you okay?"

"Are you questioning me? You haven't seen all sides of me yet," he responded.

Yana suspected he made a move on her, but she had no evidence.

Lamont hugged her contentedly and slowly walked up the stairs. "If I weren't injured, I could hold both of you, not just one."

"You want two more?"

"I'm just giving an example...not what you're thinking," Lamont hastily explained.

As the airplane door closed, a group of subordinates watched it fly away reluctantly. Jairo sighed,

Doesn't it feel like Paige is just visiting his in-laws and will be back with us soon..."

"What are you daydreaming about..." Rylee slapped the back of his head. "They're gone, why are you still looking?"

"Paige didn't have so many problems when he was with us before. Ever since he traced his roots and returned to his ancestral family, there have been too many troubles..."

"That's not entirely true. All the money Paige earned in the past went into the Tate family's pocket, and he even had to clean up after them. Compared to that, I prefer the Lust family."

"Are you talking nonsense? You can't compare humans to animals!"

On the airplane, Martin carried Paige into their room to rest.

Due to her injury and exhaustion, Paige wasn't feeling very well today.

Meanwhile, Lamont was still discussing with the girl in his arms, "After we return to China, will you and your brother stay with me?"

He had several private villas, some with mountain views, some overlooking the sea, some in the bustling city center, and some in quiet suburbs...

"No need," Yana refused.

She was afraid that if word got out, the Lust family would think she was too frivolous.

"If you're uncomfortable living in a house with my name on it, I can also put your name on it,"

Lamont said, playing with her hand. "In any case, I want to live with you. We can have separate rooms, separate floors, whatever you like, as long as I can take care of you."

Paige kept silent.

"With your current condition, the toxicity could flare up at any time. Your brother is busy with other things and can't take care of you all the time. It's better to have someone at home with you..."

Lamont added, "If I left you with the servants, I wouldn't feel comfortable."

After being pestered by him for a long time, Yana finally reluctantly agreed.

Patricia dragged Danica Lusk to the shopping plaza and spent tens of millions of dollars on shopping, and finally felt better.

She held her mother's hand and coquettishly said, "Mom, you're so kind! You bought me so many things again, even though I'm not your biological daughter, you're still so good to me..."

Silly child." Danica patted her lovingly on the head, "Over the years, I have considered you as my own child. Your relationship with Declan is getting more stable. Naturally, you will spend more time thinking about what to wear for your daily dates. Our family isn't lacking money, so just dress up as beautiful as you want. As long as you're happy, Mom will be happy too."

Patricia's excuse for going shopping was that she didn't know what to wear or what accessories to wear on her dates with Declan. It seemed that nothing in her wardrobe was pretty or dignified enough.

So, Danica took her to the shopping plaza to shop.

"Mom, I'm so lucky to be your child." Patricia hugged Danica's hand and stood at the entrance of the mall, waiting for the driver to bring the car to them.

"Does Declan's family know about your relationship?" Danica asked again.

"Well, he has already told his family before. When they heard that I was from the Lust family, they were very satisfied and thought that he was marrying up. They urged him to visit our home, and he also wanted to come. He has told me several times already..."

As Patricia said this, she lowered her head and pretended to be coy, "I didn't agree to it before, but he's been treating me better and better..."

"Then invite him to come over, and your father and I will talk to him." Danica smiled affectionately. "You're grown up now. It's time to start dating. When your relationship becomes more stable, you can consider getting engaged."

This smile fell into Patricia's eyes and turned into a thorn that pierced her heart fiercely.

In the past, her fiancé was Martin. Now that her fiancé had become a rich young master from the Thomson family, Danica felt satisfied and happy.

Was it the case that in Danica's heart, only her biological daughter Paige was worthy of Martin, while she, as an adopted daughter, only needed to be matched with a young master from the Thomson family?

"If you get engaged, the Lust family will definitely let you shine." Danica smiled again with a look of indulgence.

Patricia pulled her mouth to one side. "Mom, the car is here."

She didn't want to talk about this topic anymore.

The driver opened the car door for them and saw the smile on Danica Lusk's face. He couldn't help but ask, "Madam, what are you so happy about?"

"Patricia has a good boyfriend now. Isn't that worth being happy about?"

The driver glanced at Li Patricia again, "Congratulations, Miss Patricia."

She thought, "Congratulations my foot! What a good boyfriend! Compared to Declan Thomson, he was clearly inferior."

Patricia was unhappy, but on the surface, she still smiled gracefully and said, "Thank you."

At that moment, Danica received a phone call. "Lamont? Are you on your way back? Oh? You're going to your own house? Is it because you have work to do? Okay, then is Paige going back to school directly? Alright, I'll call her later and ask when she's coming back. I need to speak with her about something. Alright."

Li Patricia heard this and thought that Lamont was back. Why didn't he go straight home? Was he avoiding her on purpose?

Did he not want to keep his promise of taking her abroad?

Or did he want to take Paige to his private villa again?

Paige must have said something negative about her to the third brother!

This was frustrating!

When Danica hung up the phone and asked, Patricia couldn't help but inquire, "Mom, is my third brother not coming home? I just picked out a belt for him, planning to give it to him when he gets home..."

"He's a bit busy lately and won't be coming home. Callia has been coming over every now and then. I have to ask Lamont if he's interested. If not, I can't keep the good girl waiting."
