Chapter 531

Chapter 531 Nathan Has A Younger Sister Named Paige

Nels and Leyna didn't blame them but felt lucky that they hadn't come.

"If you had come, all of us would have died... Fortunately, you didn't show up."

"That's right. We were their bait to make you show up! You don't have to save us. As long as you are safe and healthy, we are willing to die for that."

"Dad, Mom, how can you say that? If we live at the cost of your lives, we will kill ourselves."

As soon as Yana finished speaking, Nels looked serious and said solemnly, "We try our best to protect you in the hope that you will live well..."

Otherwise, how can you be worthy of our sacrifice?"

"Well, stop talking about that. We just met..." Leyna went to the kitchen to get some food.

PQ Villa

This was the closest villa to the University of Illinois at Chicago. Martin spent a huge amount of money to build a laboratory in the hope that Paige would live there more frequently.

At this time, Paige had been decomposing the toxins in the blood in the laboratory for two hours.

Martin knocked on the door and reminded softly, "It's time to rest."

Knowing that there won't be the result of the system analysis in a short time, Paige stopped and opened the door.

"Taste it. I just cut it.' Martin handed over the plate in his hand, poked a piece of fruit with a stick to feed her, and asked, "Is it sweet?"

"Well, sort of.' Paige took the plate and poked the fruit while eating.

Martin kneaded her shoulders and neck. She had a back injury, so Martin did it very lightly and carefully.

"One Heart Charity has been investigated," Martin said softly.

One Heart Charity was a well-known non-governmental charity. Over the past 16 years, it had been assisting the government in public welfare and charity....

Now it had been revealed that, on the surface, the staff of One Heart Charity did good things, but they brainwashed and trained those in need to strengthen their organizations, and they conduct experiments on them.

And related government officials were aware of that... This caused heated discussions on the Internet.

"This is just a small part of Ghost Alliance's crimes. We should take advantage of the victory to fulfill our plan." Paige said casually, "I think they will take action soon. To divert the public's attention, they will report various bad news about the Stowe Group, Daybreak Group, and my companies. We should be prepared for that."

"I have set a trap for them." Martin said while kneading her shoulders and neck, "But it's typical of them to bully the weak.'

"I will send more people to the River Villa to protect Yana's adoptive parents. Besides, I will send more people to guard our home."

"My guys will also protect us."

The other side.

With the wave of popularity on the Internet, many charities had been filed for investigation. Some of them were public welfare organizations funded by local sages, and some were corporate charities.

On the surface, they carried out caring projects such as "student and child support" and 'respect and love the elderly", 'help the poor". But they did bad things in the name of charity.

At the same time, it was revealed that foreign charities had done the same thing. As more and more people paid attention to this, some people found that these institutions were controlled by the same powerful men, who also employed trickery, played favoritism, and committed irregularities on other things.

Many of those involved had been suspended for investigation.

This tornado blew across several countries quickly, causing an uproar.

In the Berger's.

"Dad, what's up?"

Pamela came to the study. Looking at the elegant and calm man on the chair, she couldn't help asking.

"Pamela.'

The man on the chair had a powerful aura, but there was a touch of amiability in his aura. He said pleasantly, "You've completed the mission?"

Pamela was a little surprised. Usually, George didn't ask anything about her work. But she nodded and replied, "You asked me here when I just got home. What's the matter?"

"Nathan has a younger sister named Paige?" George came straight to the question.

Hearing that, Pamela was even more surprised. She didn't expect George, who was in a high position, to notice Paige. She nodded and asked a little puzzled, "Yes. What's wrong?"

George's eyes were full of admiration, and he said, "Like younger sister, Like elder brother. I can tell that Nathan works hard. Take him here when he is available."

Pamela's eyes were full of surprise and disbelief, and she asked, "Dad, do you agree that I'm with him?"

In the past, George would not ask too much about her work and love affairs, but now he invited Nathan to the Berger's.

Pamela wondered, "What did Paige do?

Dad pays attention not only to her but also to my love affair..."

"It's time for you to have a boyfriend." As soon as George said this, his secretary received a message and whispered something in George's ear. George nodded and waved his hand to make Pamela go out.

Pamela didn't know how she got out of the study and walked into the living room. Seeing the housekeeper, Lucy, Pamela hurriedly grabbed her and asked in a low voice, "Lucy, is there anything important at home recently?"

Lucy had always been by Wendy's side and was their housekeeper, so she knew a thing or two.

Seeing that Ms. Pamela was unusually playful and lovely, Lucy smiled gracefully and said lovingly, "Mr. Berger will retire in one month.'

"What does this have to do with Nathan?" Pamela asked puzzled.

Lucy kept an elegant smile, and her temperament and speech were extraordinary. She reminded again, "Nathan is Ms. Paige's elder brother.'

"So?" Pamela still didn't understand.

Lucy whispered in her ear again, 'The recent news and major events are all manipulated by Martin, the young master of the Stowe family, and Paige, the young lady of the Lusk family."

Many related people had been investigated...

They two manipulated recent public opinion at home and abroad at the same time, got so many arrested, brought about the current situation without being infamous, and were able to improve the situation. Martin's and Paige's forces vaguely rose to the surface, and they were impressive.

"The recent news is related to Paige?" Pamela was stunned. She did notice the news on the Internet, but she didn't know that it was related to Paige, let alone the fact that Paige and Martin had caused such a big uproar...
