Chapter 541

Chapter 541 The Chess Master Came

'Paige, I want to compete with you. If you know nothing about chess, you can choose any other one.' Having said this, Kailyn said with confidence, 'I'm all good at piano, chess, calligraphy, and painting.'

After all, she was a daughter of a wealthy family. There were many opportunities for her to learn talents. Many of those around her secretly envied her sparkling appearance. Who would not dream of being born into wealth and learning talents that would be the envy of others?

"Just chess." Paige reluctantly said, 'One minute."

Kailyn was secretly happy, and asked someone to borrow a set of chess, and graciously let Paige play first.

'No, I'll let you take three steps first."

What??

Paige's move made Kailyn feel humiliated. She smiled and said, "How can I do it? The competition is all about fairness and justice. Besides, it was I who asked for the contest. Of course, you should play the first move."

Paige wasn't in the mood to talk much, so she took one step first.

Kailyn thought that Paige couldn't find anything to say back to her, and she felt even more proud, but she didn't smile for a few seconds before seeing the situation getting more and more tense...

position, and the chess pieces were always eaten by Paige...

It was clearly a situation that couldn't be simpler, but under Paige's handling with ease, she was always in a disadvantaged

In less than a minute, the outcome was already clear. Many people who came to join in the fun had just stood still when they saw that the time was up and the outcome had been decided.

But Kailyn was sitting in front of the chessboard, stunned as if she had suffered from a lightning strike. She thought that she could maintain her leading position for at least a minute, but now, seeing the miserable scene on the chessboard, she felt ashamed and couldn't say a word. How come...

Not only was she good at the violin, but even at chess...

How could Paige be so good at chess...

As soon as Paige got up, she heard someone say, 'It's Mr. Eve!"

Malachi appeared in the crowd at some point, and no one knew how long he had been watching. Many people's eyes fell on him, and he smiled kindly, looked at Paige, and applauded appreciatively. 'Wonderful. It's so wonderful. I didn't expect you to know chess... Who's your teacher?"

She was able to beat Kailyn in violin and chess.

Kailyn's chess talent was no worse than violin...

Paige did not tell him it was Carroll, but asked softly, "Why are you here?"

Why was he here enjoying the fun? Shouldn't he be one of the judges?

'I want to add you on Line." Malachi smiled gracefully.

find him at the Violin Association at any time, or he would add her on Line after a while...

She didn't expect him to mean it!

When he commented on Paige's violin level just now, he once said that if one day she changed her mind, she was welcome to over.

Everyone was stunned by his move. It seemed that he really liked Paige, was very satisfied with Paige, and intended to accept her as his disciple.

In front of so many people, Paige didn't want to embarrass him, so she took out her phone, opened the QR code, and handed it

After scanning her code, Malachi said with a smile, 'Done."

'Okay.' Malachi nodded, "Contact anytime.'

After he finished speaking, when he passed by Kailyn, he didn't even look at her...

Paige accepted his friend request. "I'm gonna lead another team to the competition. I gotta go."

He originally thought that by pretending not to see her, it would make the conceited her feel better.

But Kailyn misunderstood his kindness, and became even more dissatisfied and jealous!

She felt that Mr. Eve didn't take her seriously. In front of her, he treated Paige with kindness, while treating her as nothing...

All the people about were crowding around Paige.

'When did you start learning chess?'

Thinking of this, everyone looked at Kailyn again.

'Some people made a mistake in her wishful thinking. She wanted to win you, but in the end she humiliated herself again."

'Paige, you are so good! Not only can you play the violin well, but you can also play chess so well!"

'Hahaha. That's hilarious..." At this moment, a vigorous and powerful voice reached everyone's ears.

'Really..."

'Hey, let me see what's going on here. It's so lively!"

Carroll was a well-known chess master today, proficient in various chess games.

Because he was very obsessed with chess, many people call him "chess maniac". How could a big man like him appear in such a small competition as University of Chicago, and even walk around the Everyone followed the source of the sound, but they didn't expect that the person who came was the famous Carroll Schultz!!

Kailyn studied chess under the chess master Lane Gold, and they heard that Lane had been taught by Carroll once...

Could it be that Carroll, like Malachi, wanted to find talented juniors in the competition and accept them as disciples...

It was just that Kailyn lost to Paige, so they didn't know if Carroll still thought highly of her, and would accept her as a disciple...

There were too many people that he didn't see Paige at all.

came here to find her! The little girl clearly promised to play a few games of chess with him before, but three or four months passed, and she didn't even show up! He himself had to make a special trip.

He heard from Cason that today Paige would lead a team to appear at University of Chicago. Since he had nothing to do, he What's even more exasperating was that bad Cason, who took advantage of often conducting experiments with Paige, often sent photos to the group to stimulate everyone...

Every time they saw Paige doing experiments with him, the people in the group would inevitably scold Cason, while he enjoyed

Today, Royce, the principal of University of Chicago, had no time to entertain him, but Deven Noyes, the vice-principal, bent over to accompany him, looking very respectful.

'I heard that Kailyn from the Lusk family is playing chess with Paige from University of Illinois at Chicago...' Deven said with a Paige was playing chess here? Who, unafraid of defeat, dared to challenge Paige?

'Hurry up and take a look." See if he needed to call 911. After all, Paige's chess skills were really easy to make people suffer from heart disease...

Deven thought that the chess master was interested in playing chess, but he just took a few steps forward when he found that Paige was about to leave.

Everyone was stunned...

Was it not a mere search for defeat?

Chess... seemed to be over?! 'Carroll??"

Otherwise, she would be able to avoid Carroll.

'You! You force me to come here to catch you..." As soon as Carroll saw Paige, he couldn't help but begin to nag.

Seeing Carroll coming, Paige was surprised and regretted wasting a minute with Kailyn just now.

But Paige looked like she wanted to slip away??

Why did it sound like Carroll took the initiative to find Paige??
