

Ceo's Mysterious Fiancee by Piper Dunlap

Chapter 558

Chapter 558 Thank You, Paige.

The helicopter was already close to the surface of the lake. When Paige saw this, she ordered someone to open the cabin door and jump down.

The stone brought the two of them down rapidly.

Paige swam as hard as she could and soon saw two familiar figures speeding up and sinking into the lake...

Bess and Molly were tied up with ropes, so they couldn't even struggle to save themselves at this time. Although they tried their best to hold their breath, as time went by, they couldn't hold on any longer.

What should they do? Would they die here?

Bess suddenly burst into tears. She didn't even know what had happened before she was thrown into the lake...

The fluctuating emotions made her choke on a mouthful of water, and an uncomfortable feeling welled up in her heart. She felt that she was about to suffocate. Help! Who could save her?

In despair, she suddenly felt someone pulling at her rope. She widened her eyes and saw that it was Paige!

Paige cut open the ropes on her body with a knife, trying to separate her from the stone, but because she was in the water, her movements slowed down a little.

Bess burst into tears. She did not expect that Paige would risk her life to save her.

She really wanted to cry, but she was afraid that choking on the water would make the rescue difficult, so she could only hold it back first.

A few more jumped into the water and swam towards them.

Among them, Martin swam the fastest. He helped to cut off the rope on Bess and then pulled her up. He wanted Paige to come out of the water first, but she still wanted to save Molly.

At the same time, Martin's men swam towards Molly, cut open the ropes on her body, and pulled her out of the lake.

Without any worries, Paige held onto Bess. After everyone finally emerged from the water, they hurriedly took in a few breaths of fresh air.

"Ahem... Paige..." Bess had mixed feelings and felt dizzy.

"Come ashore with me first."

Paige took her to the shore, and Martin swam by Paige's side all the way, helping her as much as he could...

Finally, after the group of people went ashore, Bess was so cold that she was trembling all over. As for Molly, she had choked on the water and had not woken up yet.

After a few massages by Paige, she spat out a few mouthfuls of saliva. After being stunned for a long time, she hugged Paige and burst into tears.

"Paige..." Molly didn't notice that there were other people around Paige. She cried and said, "Those bad guys are so bad. They tied stones to us and hit us with their fists... Bess was injured in the face."

Paige turned around and saw that Bess had a swollen right cheek and a broken mouth. She felt sorry for her. "Don't be afraid. I'll avenge you later."

"Who the hell are they? I asked them, but they didn't say anything. They pushed us to the lakeside. My knee was injured, but they still grabbed me and beat me in the end..." Molly cried at the top of her voice.

As if she was comforting a child, Paige said, "It's fine now. Let's leave first."

"Thank God you're here. Thank God you saved us..." Molly hugged her and cried.

Martin found that the little girl was really loved and trusted by her classmates. The key was that the little girl looked so gentle when comforting others.

"Alright, it's fine now. Don't cry." It took Paige a lot of effort to comfort them.

Bess rushed over and hugged Paige again. "Paige, you appeared in time. Thank you for saving us..."

If she was a minute later, they would probably choke to death...

After a long while, when they calmed down, Paige let them board the plane.

Martin draped a blanket over Paige and even helped her dry her hair. "Be careful not to catch a cold."

"I'm fine."

"Go change your clothes at my place first. Don't catch a cold."

Unlike their private jet, the helicopter had no private bedroom or cloakroom. Martin had people fly to the nearest resort as fast as they could.

This was a resort owned by the Stowe Group. The helicopter landed directly at the resort, and the staff had already been waiting there.

"Mr. Stowe, Ms. Paige!"

Every staff member held a big clean bath towel in their hands.

Martin took the towel and draped it over Paige. He said softly, "Go take a shower first and change your clothes. The clothes have already been sent to the room."

Knowing that she still had friends to take care of, Martin didn't stay with her.

"Please follow me, Ms. Paige and two ladies." The resort manager personally led them to the presidential suite.

On the way, Paige called Leana. "I've found them."

Leana was so happy that she almost jumped up with tears in her eyes. "Did Mr. Stowe find you? I knew it. With his ability, he must have a way... How are they? Are they injured?"

"It's just a minor injury," Paige said gently. "You're smart enough to guess what I mean."

"At first, I was in a daze. I couldn't remember what you wrote on my back at all. I was in a daze for a long time and tried several times to write it down..."

"Thus, the person who truly saved us is you."

Leana held her phone tightly and felt touched. She asked, "When will you come back? Are you on the way now?"

"We'll be back in a while." Paige softly said before she continued, "Go get some food from the canteen. Remember, don't leave the school."

Although those people were either dead or injured...

But just in case, it was safer not to leave the school.

"Yes, I'm at school. I'm not going anywhere. I'll wait for you to come back."

"Okay, I'll hang up first."

When Paige came to the door of the presidential suite, the manager bowed and said respectfully, "Ms. Paige, if you need anything, you can ring the bell at any time. I will serve you 24 hours a day. This is the first aid kit you requested."

"Thank you for your hard work." She nodded, took the first-aid kit, and led them into the presidential suite.

Molly hadn't recovered from the shock yet. Looking at such a beautiful suite, she thought of the man who had been by Paige's side just now. He looked like the richest man in the world, Martin.

Thinking about it again, this resort seemed to be owned by the Stowe Group...

'Paige, is that man your boyfriend? His name is Martin?' It was the first time that Molly had seen such a big shot.

"Well, sit down first. I'll help you deal with your wounds." Paige asked them to sit on the sofa.

Molly was shocked. "You're dating the richest man in the world, Martin?"

"What's there to be surprised about? Paige is so outstanding, who else is more qualified than her to stand with Martin?" Bess couldn't help but ask, "Paige, how did you know we were in danger? And how did you know we fell into the lake?"

As Paige treated their wounds, she told them what had happened.

However, she did not mention anything related to the Ghost Alliance.

The fewer people knew, the safer they would be.

"I see..." Bess was very angry after hearing that. In order to force you to show up, they actually used such a dirty method..."
