Chapter 561 Your Friend Asks Us to Continue

"I'll take you to deal with it." Martin carried her to another presidential suite.

When the manager saw this, his eyes widened instantly. He didn't expect Mr. Stowe to dote on this girl so much in private.

He thought, "Can the rumors be true that Mr. Stowe is secretly dating a girl?

"Is this girl the one in Mr. Stowe's arms?

"But she looks only 17 or 18. She is probably still in high school, isn't she?

"How can Mr. Stowe do that..."

Without thinking too much, the manager hurried to them and took out his omnipotent card to open the door of the presidential suite for them.

'Go get the first-aid kit," Martin instructed lightly.

"Yes."

Only then did the manager realize that the girl's calf seemed to be injured. Taking a closer look, it was just a few small cuts. She was probably scratched by something like a small stone.

Alas, girls nowadays were too delicate. She needed Mr. Stowe to carry her even if she was slightly injured. She couldn't even walk.

She was arrogant because Mr. Stowe doted on her.

As soon as Martin entered the room, he noticed the gaze behind him and turned back to ask coldly, "Still looking?"

"I, I, I just want to see if Ms. Paige is seriously injured. Do you need more medicine... I'll get it right away." The manager was scared out of his wits and quickly left.

Martin put Paige on the sofa and found that her calf was cut and there were a few cuts on her arm.

"This little girl often gets hurt. It seems that I need to ask someone to study some casual medicine and carry it with me..."

"Don't worry, it's just an ordinary wound." Paige could tell at a glance. "It's okay."

'You always say it's okay." Martin looked at her wound and thought of how she jumped into the lake to save someone. Although he had tried his best to swim towards her at that time, the little girl swam faster and better than him.

When he was chasing after her, he was so afraid that she would disappear in the next second.

'Try not to hurt yourself next time?" Although Martin knew that the little girl didn't care about her own life and death every time, he still wanted to hear a positive answer from her. As long as she paid more attention, she would suffer less.

'Are you distressed?" Paige asked with a smile.

"Mm, every time I see you injured, I wish these wounds would appear on my body." Martin half-squatted on the ground and held up her injured right leg.

"Look at your delicate skin. These wounds will take a long time to heal."

'This kind of pain is like scratching an itch for me. It doesn't matter at all. If you feel distressed, I'll be more careful next time."

"Really?"

"Yes."

Touched and happy, Martin slowly approached her and kissed her gently on the lips.

'Mr. Stowe, the first aid kit is here!" The manager appeared like a gust of wind. When he found that the two of them were kissing, he regretted that he had run too fast and messed up their staff.

Martin looked at him gloomily, "You're quite fast."

"I, I'm just worried about Ms. Paige..." The manager hurriedly put down the first aid kit. "I'll take my leave now. Call me if you need anything, Mr. Stowe.'

Seeing the manager run away, Paige couldn't help laughing. "You scared him away again."

'He can't judge the hour." Martin opened the first-aid kit again and placed Paige's injured right foot on his body. He carefully disinfected her wound and applied medicine to it.

Looking at how he lowered his head and applied the medicine seriously, Paige couldn't help teasing, "You're getting more and more skilled."

"Because you've been injured more and more." Martin's movements were light and careful. He even raised his handsome face and asked with concern, "Does it hurt?"

Paige shook her head.

"The medicines prepared by this resort are all commonly seen in the market. There are no special medicines. Some of them will stimulate the wound. If you feel pain, tell me. I'll ask someone to get some more medicine."

"There's no need to go through so much trouble." Paige smiled. "We'll be going back soon."

'We're already here, aren't you going to treat your friends to dinner before leaving?" Martin bandaged her calf and then disinfected the wound on her arm.

He held the little girl's soft hand. The wound appeared on her fair and delicate skin, which was a little shocking.

Paige thought of the two people in the hot spring. They must be hungry at this time.

'Okay, let's leave after dinner."

They would probably have nothing to eat when they got back to school later.

After Martin bandaged her wound, he gave her a deep hug.

"I rarely see you these days." He looked into the little girl's eyes and said helplessly, "You are really too busy."

"Aren't we staying together again?" Paige looked at him with a smile. "Get up first. The ground is cold."

Martin was still kneeling on the ground and greedily breathing in her scent. He hugged her tightly and refused to let go.

Paige patted him on the back and said, "The word clip you gave me is very useful. I'll keep it with me in the future."

"You'd better take me with you..." Martin looked down at her again and couldn't help kissing her lips again.

"Paige."

Bess held Molly who had an injured knee and found this place. When she saw the intimate scene between the two of them, she was instantly petrified.

She quickly reacted and said, "There are too many rooms. Molly, we came to the wrong room. Manager, please lead the way for us. Which room were we in just now?"

The manager outside the door thought, "Didn't you ask me for directions just now? Didn't you say that you were looking for Ms. Paige?"

Bess desperately winked at the manager and heard the voice of Paige coming from inside.

"Let's go down and eat something together."

Martin looked at the little girl in front of him. He didn't know why it was so difficult to be alone with her.

"There's no need, there's no need. We're not hungry." Molly didn't want to ruin their plans. It turned out that just now, when Paige said she had something to do outside, she had come to accompany Martin!

At the thought of the scene of Martin kneeling on the ground and kissing Paige, Molly felt her blood surge. She didn't expect the two of them to be so close in private...

The most important thing was that Martin wasn't an overbearing CEO. In private, he was more like a puppy. His affectionate look was simply too seductive.

In contrast, Paige was like a queen, sitting there and enjoying the love of a puppy...novelxo.com fast update

"Go on, go on... Let's go back first. We haven't finished soaking in the hot spring yet." Molly stumbled and pulled Bess, wishing she could go faster.

"Your friends ask us to continue." Martin once again pressed his lips against hers and kissed her passionately...

On the other side.

When Bess and Molly returned to the presidential suite, their hearts were still beating fast.

For those who were not in a relationship, the scene just now was too shocking and sweet...

"Paige is amazing, to be able to capture such an outstanding man... Just now, Martin's eyes were full of her. I can tell that he likes her very much." Molly sighed with emotion
