

CEO's Mysterious Fiancee

CEO's Mysterious Fiancée By Piper Dunlap Chapter 6

• • •

Chapter 6

Don't Forget Your Words Tim was afraid of getting into trouble, so he persuaded Paige to change her mind. "It's a difficult surgery. I've been a doctor for decades, but I still have no confidence in saving the patient. He is in a bad condition. Apart from Skylar Benson, the sage of medicine who has passed away, no one can bring the patient back to life. We are eager to operate on the patient. However, we are not competent to do so.” Tim didn’t lie. He had no choice but to use some medicine first. Only after they got Martin’s permission did Tim and the others dare to operate on his grandfather. What if his grandfather died in the surgery? Tim and the others feared that Martin would take revenge on them... “The one who saves the patient can be rewarded after the surgery, right?” Paige suddenly asked. Tim was stunned. After a while, he said hurriedly, “Of course.” Ki*lian was a distinguished patient. As long as Paige could save his life, she would get a big reward. Although Paige had earned a huge amount of money, she gave most of it to the Tate family. What was worse, she had to cure Cassie’s disease. She had no savings.... She decided to do the surgery and make some money. Tim stared at Paige's confident expression and couldn't help being convinced by her powerful aura. He asked, "Are you indeed a doctor?" "I know how to do surgery." Paige curled her lips. "Then, what's your plan?" "The patient needs to have a heart valve replacement. I can do it, but I have a request. I want Colin to be my assistant." Denise found it unbelievable. With a snort, she said, "No way! Who do you think you are? Do you know exactly who Colin is? I can call him over, but I can confirm that he won't be your assistant." She paused and turned to Tim as if looking down upon Paige. She said, "Professor Swift, let's not waste time with her. It's a critical condition. We'd better use efloxate and some medicine as soon as possible."

After that, she ordered a nurse beside her, "Go and fetch the medicine. Bring some bodyguards over as well. We have to drive this crazy girl away." When the nurse ran out, she accidentally bumped into Colin. She explained to the latter what had happened in a flurry. Soon, a familiar voice was heard in the ward.

"Who's looking for me?"

Everyone in the ward looked up. They didn't expect that they would see Colin here. They wondered how the nurse took Colin here. Chapter & Thon't Forget You Warde After all, Colin had been aloof and persisting in his old ways. No one could force him to do anything he didn't like. Denise took the chance to criticize Paige, "Dr. Williamson, you got here at a good time. Do you see the bold girl? She wants you to be her assistant." Colin glanced at Paige, who stood aside casually. It seemed that she didn't take what Denise had said seriously at all and no one else could hurt her. He frowned slightly and glanced at Denise. He hated her rudeness and asked the others, "What happened?" Before anyone else spoke, Denise explained the situation to Colin. She deliberately tucked a strand of hair behind her ear, revealing her beautiful profile. She wanted to leave a good impression on Colin. "The patient's Condition is terrible, but we haven't seen any similar cases at home and abroad." Given that Paige wanted to save , Colin reluctantly decided to help her. He said expressionlessly, "What are you guys doing now? Hurry up and start the operation." Denise was shocked at his words. In her hurry, she said, "Dr. Williamson, are you serious? It's not likely to do the operation successfully now. The patient has a high social status. We can't afford the consequences if the operation fails." Colin's face turned sullen. He said in a cold voice, "You don't need to worry about the result." "Dr. Williamson..." "I'll bear the responsibility alone." All the doctors present were stunned. They didn't know Colin was this willful before. Colin did not waste time with them anymore. He glanced at Paige and said, "Come with me." He led Paige to the operating room. When passing by Denise, Paige wore a smile and asked, “Didn’t you say that Dr. Williamson would never agree to be my assistant? What are you thinking now?” Denise was lost for words. What she had said in public occurred to her mind. She was surprised that Colin would agree with Paige’s request. Colin had been proud. Why did he suddenly change his personality? Was he fascinated by Paige? After all, Paige was truly good-looking. Paige curled her lips and said, “Don’t forget your words.” “What do you mean?” Denise recollected what she had said before. “I see. If you can save the patient, I will kneel before you and pay respect to you. You’d better not be overconfident. If the patient dies, you have to take all the responsibility.” Paige gave Denise a mocking smile and a contemptuous look, saying, “Actually, I don’t care if you respect me Chapter 6 Don’t Forget Your Words 2/4 or not at all. After all, you are not a big deal.” “How dare you!” “Don’t forget to kneel later.” Paige followed Colin after finishing her words. Denise watched her leave and was irritated by her. “If you can save the patient, I’ll not only kneel before you but also step down as the deputy director.” As Denise spoke, she patted her chest card. “Show me how capable you are!” When Colin heard their conversation, he inadvertently asked, “Why do you argue with her?” “I ha*e her. She is st*pid and arro*ant.” Paige made up her mind to take Denise down a peg or two.

Otherwise, Denise would never realize that she was not as talented as she thought. Since * had been pushed into the operation room by two nurses, there were only a few doctors in the ward looking at each other in dismay. “They completely go insane. How dare them!” “How can the patient have surgery? Dr. Williamson is too young to know the consequences of failure. It is not as simple as losing his reputation or ruining his career.” All the doctors left trembled when they thought of Martin. If something bad happened to his grandfather, he would  all of them. “Professor Swift, shall we stop Dr. Williamson and the girl? It’s human life.” “The patient is the grandfather of Mr. Stowe. We must prevent them from messing around like this. Professor Swift, what should we do now?" "That's right. Hurry up and stop them. We still have time."

Unlike them, the female director was not that anxious. She somewhat believed Paige. "Dr. Williamson was born into a medical family. All his family members are talented in medicine.

Although he is not as *as Skylar, he is an excellent doctor and probably can bring the patient back to life." The male director added,

"Dr. Williamson is well-praised as a genius. As long as he is here, there may be a miracle..." "Are you kidding me? Don't forget that Dr.

Williamson is going to be the girl's assistant. It's the girl who will operate on the patient. She is so young. How can she save the patient? Professor Swift, say something!" said another anxious director. “What are you worried about? Do you remember what Dr. Williamson said? If the surgery fails, he will bear the responsibility alone.” “The patient is the grandfather of Mr. Stowe. If he dies, Mr. Stowe will blame us for not stopping Dr. Williamson.” Get Boyes “Then, Dr. Williamson is supposed to be blamed. We have tried hard to stop him, haven’t we? He didn’t listen to us and was determined to make trouble with the girl,” Denise said heartlessly. She wondered, the girl possibly didn’t know the patient’s true identity. If she knew, she would have been scared away. How could she dare to have the surgery?

