Chapter 63

I've Given You an Opportunity

Paige casually looked at Deon "Deon, call the police."

Hearing Paige said so, Gina was suddenly frightened. She was so aggressive just a moment ago, but now she suddenly lost her arrogance. She was literally holding the table and begging for mercy.

"Please don't" Gina said in a trembling voice, "Ms. Paige, can you please.

I meant to let you go, but you insisted on reporting me to the headquarters."

Paige raised her eyebrows and said somewhat reluctantly, "I didn't mean to let you compensate for the company's losses or go to jail. It was you who said that you would make a big deal out of it by reporting to the headquarters."

Gina was so regretful that her face turned pale. "Ms. Paige, it's all my fault! I shouldn't have revised my attendance record to get my monthly salary and full-attendance bonus! I shouldn't have gone against my conscience to receive the company's annual reward. I know I was wrong! So wrong! I apologize to you! Can you let me go?"

"Is this the only mistake you make?"

Paige looked at Gina with a trace of oppression.

"What What else?" Gina's tears welled up in her eyes. In a panic, she obviously couldn't think of anything else that was caught by Paige.

"Tve recently logged into our official email account and restored all the deleted emails. Guess what I saw?"

Gina seemed to have realized something, but she was not sure. She asked timidly. "What is it?"

"The complaint letters written by employees who left the company this year! There are 63 complaint letters accusing you."

Gina was shocked, and so were the colleagues outside.

It seemed that Gina had indeed bullied a lot of employees.

"You abused your power and protected your small groups messing around with you. Those upright employees who did not want to cooperate with you were all forced out of the company by you! The company failed to keep talents because of you!"

"Ms. Paige, please listen to me. Those people did not obey the company system

Before Gina finished saying. Paige's eyes became colder. "Now that things have come to this, you still want to wrongly accuse them?"

It seemed that necessity extorted sober judgment.

"Ms. Paige, I was wrong! Please give me another chance!"

Gina pleaded, "For those who were forced away by me, I will apologize to them one by one!"

Seeing that Paige ignored her, Gina choked and added, "I will return my last year's salary and bonus within three days! Please don't call the police! If you call the police, I will be doomed! My life will be ruined!"

Paige looked to her eyes and said word by word. "When you forced them away, did you think that some of them would have their lived ruined by you?"

Ms. Paige

"When you slung mud at them, did you think about their feelings?"

Paige looked coldly at the short haired woman. "I saw you threaten them with some of their private affairs in the complaint letters. Two or three persons even transferred money to you in order to hide their secrets. It wasn't a small figure. The concurrent punishment for your crimes will be at least two years in prison."

"Ms. Paige" Gina was frightened and said with tears in her eyes, "I was wrong! I was really wrong

"It's too late

Deon had called the police. At this time, several policemen came to the company and asked about the relevant situation. They wanted to take Gina away

"Ms. Paige! Ms. Paige, you are a kind person. Please say something. Gina didn't want to be arrested. She put her last hope on Paige and cried hard regardless of her image, 'Ms. Paige, please give me another chance. I promise to correct my mistakes and become a

"I have given you the opportunity. But you didn't cherish it."

"Ms. Paigel Ms. Paige. "

There was an uproar outside when people saw Gina taken away by the police.

"I did not expect Ms. Barns to be so hateful.

"She even took bribery in private."

"You really don't know what a person is like inside"

"Have you watched long enough?"

Paige's voice suddenly sounded.

The people outside were scared away and did not dare to stay any longer. They knew this new president could not be provoked.

Seeing everyone had left, Deon came in with a cup of coffee. "Ms. Paige, if Gina didn't come to you, would you let her go?"

Seeing Paige lowering her head to drink coffee, Deon went on and said, "She has done so many bad things. If you really let her go, it would be too easy for her!"

"Of course not."

"She will definitely come," Paige said confidently

"How do you know?"

"I have seen the complaint letters before. She dared to confront Mr. Ingram because of some small matters. So she can easily lose her temper, and she can't tolerate any objection. Hearing that I fired her, she must have felt embarrassed and determined to challenge me."

"So, you expected this and prepare a trap for her. In any case, you will call the police in the end!"

"Of course."

How could Paige let her go? How much money did such a cheater steal from the company in a year?

After taking some sips of coffee, Paige lightly added, "There will be people who like to watch the show in the company. When they know that she has come to me, they will definitely come to eavesdrop"

Deon looked at Paige in shock as if he was looking at a wise. "So, those people hiding outside and peeking just now were also within your expectations?"

Deon had been praying for them to leave, but Paige had deliberately let them see what was going on and used this opportunity to set up a warning

"The company has been too undisciplined this year. A lot of things need reorganization."

Paige did not take it seriously and said in an indifferent tone, "You can go back to your work."

"Yes."

Deon was still in a daze when he left. Paige was so amazing. All things were under her control.

On the other side.

Martin looked at the message he sent. One hour and forty-two minutes passed, but Paige didn't reply

Paige forgot about her fiancé as soon as she started working.

He could not help but click on Paige's profile photo. It was a shadow reflected on the wall.

Although the shadow was black, Martin could tell from the beautifully-shaped skeleton that it was Paige's shadow.

Martin didn't expect that even her shadow was so beautiful.

Martin stared at her profile photo for a long time. He could not help but imagine the weather when Paige took this photo. What kind of clothes did she wear that day? Was she in a good mood...

When he thought of her beautiful face, Martin's eyes unconsciously softened.

Martin clicked her profile photo and saved it. He returned to the chat box, but she still did not reply.

What was she busy with?

She didn't even have time to look at her phone.

Paige was going to reply to Martin's Line message, but her phone vibrated at this time. It was a call from her father.

She slid over the screen and said, "Dad." Donald happily said, "Paige, you went to the company so early in the morning?"

She was too dedicated!

"I heard from the company that Gina was in trouble! I didn't expect her to be so bold and dare to deceive everyone. You did a good job. You did the company a big favor after working here for a few days."
