Chapter 80

Chapter 80

Nave No Chance to Quibble

“I am willing to do so.”

Martin was still immersed in the joy. He looked at Patricia with dissatisfaction. “Paige is my fiancée I am happy to do anything for her”

Patricia was in a rage. “I am afraid that in the future...”

“In the future, if you will be angry with me, it means that you care about me.”

Martin looked at Paige, who was in his arms with affection.

Paige didn’t reply.

Patricia was furious.

“Well, what a loving scene early in the morning! Am I here at the right time?”

Donald hurriedly stopped and held Danica’s shoulder with a smile, saying, “Danica, let’s go to the garden for breakfast, okay? Leave the space to them...”

“Okay...” Danica smiled brightly. Seeing that Patricia was still sitting at the dining table, she immediately said, “Patricia, what are you still standing there for? Let’s go...”

Danica tried not to disturb Martin and Paige!

Patricia reluctantly looked at Martin. She didn’t know why Martin was obsessed with Paige, thinking that Paige was such a coquette!

What was so good about Paige?

Without anyone else present, Martin became unscrupulous and kept pestering Paige.

When they finally arrived at the company, Paige breathed a sigh of relief Seeing Deon, she ordered lightly, “Go and call Mr. Collins of the production department and the team leaders of the fourth and fifth production lines to my office.”

“Yes.”

When Deon went to call them, many employees in the company began to gossip again. Since Paige took over the company and called someone to her office, that person would definitely suffer! This time, Paige asked Deon to call Roderick and the leaders of the fourth and fifth production lines... Many curious employees secretly followed in their footsteps, wanting to know if something was going to happen. “Ms. Tate?” Roderick, who had just entered the door, was about forty years old. He was slender and looked a little malnourished, but his eyes looked shrewd. The two team leaders looked a little timid and uneasy, but they still squeezed out a smile and said in unison, “Morning, Ms. Tate.”

Paige directly threw her phone on the table, playing the recording. “Anton, you are the team leader of the fourth workshop. How can you take the lead to go against me? You have to do this even if you don’t agree...” “Mr. Collins, Mr. Ingram promised that we would have a promising future and that at least we would not have to worry about basic lives.” “Did Mr. Ingram mistreat you all this year? Don’t you realize something? Now that Ms. Tate comes to the company, she wants to check everything. The fourth and fifth workshops must be stopped. The goods in the warehouse must be cleaned in the next two days. Otherwise, let alone you and me, Mr. Ingram will be in trouble!”

When Roderick and Anton Logan, the leader of the fourth production line, heard this, their faces suddenly turned pale!

That was what they said at the staircase, and they didn’t expect it to be recorded by someone... Was there a bug? Or was Paige eavesdropping on them last night? “Ms Tate, that. This is... Roderick couldn’t believe it. He didn’t know how to explain it at all! He wouldn’t even accept the fact.

Roderick had asked someone to check the surveillance cameras. No one had entered or left the company last night. He had even checked the surveillance cameras personally. At that time, if someone had ever come to the company, he would definitely be recorded! Could it be that the person was invisible? Otherwise. How could all this be possible? Could there be a bug? “There’s no need to hurry and explain.”

Paige’s tone was indifferent, and she played another recording.

“Mr. Collins, if Ms. Tate ever came to the company and found that we are producing those goods, then what should we do?”

“According to Ms. Tate’s investigation, it won’t be long before all of our secrets are exposed!

“Will we lose our job because of it?”

Roderick replied, “If Ms. Tate discovered it, you would not only lose your job but you might even be put to jail!

On the way to and from work, if someone accidentally got into a car accident or something else, it wouldn’t be our fault... And it could only be blamed on her bad luck.”

Roderick was frightened and his face was pale to the extreme when hearing the conversion displayed by Paige. He felt that everything was over!

The two team leaders were also scared and couldn’t even stand steadily. They could not believe that what they said last night in the warehouse was recorded!

They did not even have the chance to quibble.

It turned out that Roderick was right last night. At that time, there was the sound of a mobile phone vibrating. It should be someone hiding in the warehouse recording!

But who was it? How did he do it?

They had searched the whole warehouse several times and found no one!

How did that person do the recording?
