

Ceo's Mysterious Fiancee by Piper Dunlap

Chapter 81

Chapter 81

Irrefutable Evidence

Roderick also could not understand. When Roderick left the warehouse, he changed the password. Roderick wondered how that person left the warehouse and if there was someone in the warehouse

Roderick thought, that person couldn't decode such a high-end password system...

However, if there was no one, then why was there a recording in the warehouse? Was there a bug in the warehouse?It must be that the warehouse manager betrayed us!

"Deon, go and call the warehouse manager"

Paige's words made the three people present even more uneasy

The onlookers outside the office were all shocked. They thought, whether the warehouse manager betrayed them or not?How could the management of this company be in such a mess?

No wonder the company has been working for a year without any improvement at all!

It turned out that there were so many people who wanted to steal or get something from the company....

The warehouse manager was called Shayna Dalton. Shayna looked no more than thirty years old. She wore large black-rimmed glasses and looked gentle and quiet. Shayna did not look like a bad person at all.

When Shayna was called over by Deon, she knew that she could not cover the truth anymore. Shayna said with a tearful voice, "Ms.

Tate..."

Shayna was older than Paige, but she was still frightened by Paige's aura and did not dare to look directly into Paige's eyes.

Paige looked at the four people in front of her, her slender fingers tapping on the table. She said, "Oh, I forgot one person. Go and ask Stella, the head of the Purchasing Department, to come here."

The onlookers outside the door were shocked. They didn't expect that Stella would be involved...

They thought that the managers of the company were going too far.

When everyone was here, Paige said slowly, "Since everyone is here, tell me how you are working together."

"Ms. Tate..." Roderick was so scared that he didn't know what to do.

Stella said hurriedly, "Ms Tate, this has nothing to do with me..."

"Ms. Tate, I don't know anything."

Shayna also argued.

Anton, the leader of the No.4 product line, and Caden, the leader of the No. 5 product line, knew that it was useless to argue since things had come to this point. They simply lowered their heads and did not speak. "Since no one said..." Paige was also not in a hurry. She looked at them and said, "Then I can only guess by myself." Everyone was uneasy and silent. "I have checked the company's purchasing list. The price of each piece of cloth is similar to the market price, but people who worked in this industry know that as long as they cooperate with the cloth merchants for a long time, the price can be lowered. "For example, the price of a 330 feet long pure cotton cloth is generally around 210 dollars. If one cooperates with the cloth merchants for a long time, 130 dollars will be enough to buy it. "However, Stella has purchased a lot of pure cotton cloth at the price of 240 dollars. If such a 330 feet long cloth is made into a new product, there are at least 70 or 80 pieces of new products that can be produced. But there are only 20 or 30 new products left in the warehouse."

"Ms Tate, you don't know." Without waiting for Paige to finish speaking, Stella hurriedly explained, "The Design Department is all young people. The new products they designed contain too many elements. It is complicated and troublesome to make them out. It will waste a lot of fabric to make one So, it is not my problem." "If the workers on the production line made around 80 new products, but only around 30 new products were recorded, how could they agree to do so? After all, their salary is calculated in the number of pieces" There was a difference of about 50 pieces of new products! "Then what if the extra 50 pieces of new products are sold to other places by you, and you share the money earned?

"What if the price that you and the cloth merchant agreed is 130 dollars per 330 feet, but the account is written 240 dollars?

Paige said casually.

"Ms. Tate! You can't speak nonsense. My loyalty to the company can be tested..."

Paige's slender fingers tapped on the computer a few times and then turned the screen to Stella.

"There are three clothing companies that have been cooperating with you. The three companies will transfer money to your private account at different times every month. If it is not for the rebate, can you explain to me why?"

Stella did not expect that Paige would even find this. Stella was stunned. He thought, how how was this possible?

"Besides the price. There are also problems with the amount and the quality of the purchases..." When Paige said this, her eyes fell on the gentle and quiet girl in front of her. She said, "These problems are related to the warehouse... Now it is your turn to explain."

Shayna was frightened and stammered, "Ms. Paige, I... I did not..."

"I restored the company's surveillance and checked the surveillance of the nearby courier station."

Paige's slender fingers tapped on the keyboard, and countless surveillance pictures appeared on the computer screen.

"It shows that you have taken the goods from the warehouse to the nearby courier station more than 300 times to send them out. You have several mobile numbers registered under your real name. According to that, I found out that you have sent a total of 300 packages." "Ms. Paige, I... I..." In the face of the irrefutable evidence, Shayna was so nervous that her face turned pale and she trembled.

"You brought some packages to the courier station after work yesterday and asked the workers there to send them out. However, the worker there hasn't had the time to send them out yet. There is information about the recipient on it. Deon called the recipient.

The

people who answered the phone said that these packages were bought from an online shop called Procurement Service of Clothing.

Daybreak

"I investigated Procurement Service of Daybreak Clothing. It has existed for 11 months. In other words, in the second month after the company was established, you opened an online shop and sold the company's goods.

"You didn't get the company's consent, and authorization.

"The customers ordered online. If the customers need a few, you will send them out after work. If the customers need a lot, you will send them out directly from the warehouse and ask the courier to come to the warehouse to collect the goods. The courier has come.

more than 200 times

"Each style you sell is cheaper than that of the market by around 35 dollars..."

Shayna was so scared that she was trembling.

Paige looked at the other three people again, saying one word by one word, "You not only sell the fine goods of the company, but also privately produce clothes of poor quality, put on the label of the company, and sell them to other places. It has ruined the company's reputation! Am I right?"

These people did not expect that Paige would be able to investigate to this extent. This was no longer Paige's guess!

Paige had provided irrefutable evidence!

The five people were so frightened that their faces turned pale and their foreheads were sweating. They did not know how to explain all of this.

"Now, I have not called the police. Do you have anything to say?"

Paige's eyes swept over them one by one, waiting for them to speak.

Anton was the first to speak. He said, "It was Mr. Ingram who forced us to do this. Either we work with him, or we are fired. We have no choice!"

"Yes!"

Caden also said, "We owe too much money, so..."