Chapter 96

Aren't You Still Alive?

Paige did not look at her phone immediately. Instead, she stood up and shook hands with the manager. "I hope we together Ms Tate, you're honest. I believe that we can definitely work well together."

The manager was very satisfied with Paige and said with a smile, "As long as you can deliver the goods on schedule and ensure the quality, I think that we will continue to cooperate."

"Understood."

Paige wore a smile. "We have a high standard of workmanship. You can rest assured."

The manager left with a smile.

Paige watched her get into the car and then took out her mobile phone. Paige saw Martin calling her twice, and then she called back. "What's the matter?"

"Were you busy?"

"Yes, I just met a partner,"

"I also want to be your partner."

"In this way, I can see you often." Martin's voice was full of affection.

Paige slightly smiled. "Come on. We've met a lot during the day."

"Not enough."

Martin was firm. "It's nowhere near enough. I want to see you every second and be with you."

Paige walked on the roadside. "Well, I am going to take a taxi now. Let's go back and talk?"

"Are you alone outside?"

Martin thought Paige had an assistant with her. "I'm going to pick you up. Where are you?"

"No need. It's very close to the company. I can just take a taxi."

"Let me pick you up. I want to."

Martin left the office. Rhys thought that something had happened as he saw Martin walking in a hurry.

Paige helplessly sent a location to Martin and then stood by the side of the road to wait.

There were no shops on this street, except for that coffee shop, and the others were closed. Behind her was a weedy land. It looked cheerless.

At this time, Paige took out her mobile phone and dealt with something. After a while, three cars stopped in front of her.

Paige looked up casually and saw Jessie get out of the car, who was beaten up. At the same time, Jessie also brought her brother David Robins and more than a dozen thugs.

"It's her!"

Jessie originally wanted to go up the mountain to Mariela and Evelyn, but she did not expect to see Paige who was alone on the road. Jessie thought she was blessed.

This *slapped me a few times and then kicked me."

Jessie complained to David.

blew up Paige's long hair. Her pretty face stunned David.

David thought, beautiful!

So beautiful

"David, what are you doing? Why aren't you helping me hit her?"

Jessie's face was too swollen, and she couldn't even cover it with one hand. At this time, she was so angry and pushed David's shoulder."

Although David had seen many good looking girls, this was the first time he had seen someone like Paige with such a special temperament.

David put his hands in his pockets, thinking that he was handsome, and walked up to Paige. "Are you the one who beat my sister like this?

Paige casually raised her eyebrows as if she did not care about them at all.

Paige thought, with these dozen thugs, plus this brat, are you looking down on me?

"If you are sensible, kneel and apologize to me... Jessie thought that she had David's support, so she walked up to Paige arrogantly.

Paige looked at Jessie's swollen face and said disapprovingly, "Aren't you still alive? You want me to pay respects to you so quickly? You haven't even laid down in the coffin."

"You... You..." Jessie was furious, but she couldn't think of a retort, and she looked ferocious.

"You have a sharp tongue."

David was very interested. "If you don't want to kneel... it's fine. As long as you sleep with me and make me happy, I can let you go."

"David, what are you talking about? I want you to teach her a lesson."

Jessie did not want to get it over so quickly. She hadn't caught Paige and beaten her up.

Paige raised her eyebrows and looked at David. "Here? I'm afraid you can't."

She knew that there were several surveillance cameras nearby, and evidence would be left.

"If you are shy, we can go there..." David thought that Paige had agreed, and he looked at the weedy land behind Paige.

"Okay"

Paige first walked toward the weedy land, and David followed her. The dozen of thugs didn't know if they needed to follow and all looked at Jessie.

Jessie was confused.

She thought, isn't Paige quite good at fighting? Why does she admit defeat so quickly?

Does she know that these thugs are very powerful and she wants to hit on David?

Does she think that she can marry into the Robins family just because she's a little pretty?

Humph, no way!

A girl like her can only be fooled by my brother

Paige came to the weedy land, where the weeds had grown to the height of her knees. She turned back and said to David, "Just here."

David did not expect Paige would choose such a good place. If they lay down here, others wouldn't see them.

David thought Paige was quite shy.

*Just you?"

Paige raised her eyebrows, looked at the dozen of thugs behind him, and casually asked, "The others are not coming?"

"Girl, you are quite lascivious... I can give your *by myself..."

David wouldn't allow his lackeys to have s*x with such a pretty girl like Paige.

He would have fun with her for at least half a month...

David reached out his hand. Before he could touch Paige's clothes, he was caught by Paige. Before he could realize what was going on, David was thrown into the weeds and even ate the sand.

"*it."

Jessie knew that Paige was not a good person. "What are you doing? Go help!"

Jessie thought, *girl. How dare you attack my baby brother?

After all, David was the treasure of the Robins family.

Those thugs rushed toward Paige, and Paige's face turned gloomy. She kicked one of them away quickly and then punched the stomach of another one.

One of them suddenly smashed a stick at Paige. She grabbed the wrist of that man and hit his head with the stick. Then Paige kicked him away.

The remaining men surrounded Paige and made moves together. Paige first grabbed one of them as a shield and then hit them one by one. One of the men pulled out a long knife and smashed it at Paige. She didn't only quickly avoid it, but she also put the knife to that man's neck, which scared the man out of his wits.

Jessie was stunned to see Paige beat those thugs one by one, and the last one was trembling with fear and raised his hand to surrender.

That man consciously knocked himself out with a stick and fell into the weeds...

Paige's gaze then fell on Jessie.

Jessie was frightened. She thought, *it. It's me again.

"David... David!" Jessie shouted.

But David did not climb out of the weeds. Jessie was a little afraid. She did not understand why there was such a person in the world.
