

Captivation Want Nothing But You

Chapter 301

‘If I become a mistress, doesn’t that mean I’m too beautiful?’ Rachel chuckled. ‘Well, that’s not a bad idea. If I become a mistress, I’ll have a beautiful house and everything I want. Moreover, I don’t have to love him; I just need to have sex with him.’

The veins on Victor’s temples throbbed. He grabbed Rachel’s arm and pulled her to his chest.

His movement was so swift that Rachel had no time to react. She staggered and almost hit Victor’s chest. He grabbed her by the arm a little too hard that veins protruded on the back of his slender hands. The electrifying pain spread across her arm.

Rachel frowned in pain.

And so did Victor.

His fresh wound was forced by his sudden movement. It hurt, but not as much as his heart did.

Now that Rachel was back, Victor hoped that they could slowly rekindle their relationship. He thought she wouldn’t hesitate to come back to him if he swallowed his pride. As soon as Victor woke up a few hours ago, he had been waiting for her to come back to the hospital.

For him, it didn’t matter what happened four years ago. Rachel just needed to come back, and he would gladly accept her.

If she came back, Victor would treat her better and make up for what he owed her. This time, they would live together happily. He would give Rachel the love and wedding she wanted, no matter how grand it would be.

Chapter 302

A look of astonishment crossed Rachel's face, but it quickly disappeared.

The impasse made Rachel lose hope of acquiring the Bennet Group's shares. Moments ago, she had been certain Victor would reject her offer on the spot.

However, to Rachel's surprise, Victor had verbally indicated he was considering selling the Bennet Group's shares to her.

It was not his style.

Rachel tried to read Victor's expression, but the indifference in his eyes left her at a loss for words. She couldn't tell what he was thinking. 'Thank you, Mr. Sullivan. I'll await news from you. Rest well; I wish you a speedy recovery.'

Rachel steeled her resolve and looked away. Not even Victor's thoughts on the matter would dissuade her from taking back the shares from him.

After wishing Victor well, Rachel turned around and headed for the door.

'Mr. Sullivan!'

Loud voices rang out from the hallway. Rachel, who had just walked out of the room, made way for two exasperated bodyguards rushing to the ward.

Rachel stopped and turned around.

As Victor watched Rachel leaving, the pain in his heart intensified so severely that his pupils trembled, and a warm liquid surged up his throat. Blood seeped down the corner of his mouth, and his face turned even paler.

He lost strength in his legs and staggered.

Chapter 303 I Have A Three-Year-Old Child

Andy looked at her suspiciously, but he couldn't tell what was on her mind. He had to suppress his doubts and left with Rachel. At the same time, in the VIP ward, Dr. Turner's face was serious. He said to the nurse behind him, "Prepare for the operation."

It took them nearly an hour to drive back home from the hospital. It was drizzling. And the drizzle didn't stop until the car entered the underground parking lot of the Bennet family's house.

Chapter 304

Chapter 304 Be Prepared

The next morning, Rachel was woken up by the phone call from Andy. Last night, after she confessed the existence of Joey to him, Andy was stunned for a while before he centered himself. However, he looked calm the whole time, which made Rachel doubt if he heard her words clearly. After that, Andy went back. Rachel thought that she should give him some time to process the whole thing, so she decided to keep who she really was and what had happened in the past four years a secret longer.

To her surprise, in the early morning, Andy called and she was woken up by it. She had just slept for about three hours. She put on her coat, yawned and went downstairs, wondering what on earth Andy wanted to do. She was still not sober yet. And then, a sound in unison woke her up. "Good morning, Miss Bennet!"

Rachel was stunned and stopped walking down the stairs. Following where the voice came from, she saw two middle aged women, a fat one and a skinny one, they looked kind. With a smile, they looked at her. She could tell from a glance that they were experienced housekeepers. "Andy?" Rachel didn't know what was going on.

Andy walked out of the living room and handed a glass of milk to Rachel. He smiled gently and introduced, "Miss Bennet, we agreed yesterday that I would find you two housekeepers. Do you like them?" Rachel was speechless.

Chapter 305

Chapter 305 You Are A Noob

After knowing that Rachel had a child, and that the child's father was Victor, Andy didn't take a rest. Instead, he searched a lot of information about custody that night. He contacted his friends early in the next morning and got the information about several custody cases that had been quite troublesome in recent years, so as to be prepared about all kinds of circumstances.

“Andy, actually you don’t have to be so...” said Rachel. She could tell that Andy was nervous. Looking at the dark circles beneath his eyes, she sighed in her heart. She told Andy about the child so that he could be prepared. She didn’t intend to hide it from Andy since he would meet Joey sooner or later. But seeing that Andy was so upset, Rachel couldn’t help wondering if she shouldn’t tell him. At least she should find a better time to say it.

“Miss Bennet, I’ve been thinking about it all night.” Andy interrupted, “Four years ago, I didn’t have the ability to protect Abby. And I didn’t have the ability to protect you and the child. Although I don’t know what you have experienced in the past four years, in order to protect his child, you must have suffered a lot...”

Chapter 306

Chapter 306 Can You Take Me To The Salazar Group

It was not until Carson was reminded by Joey that he suddenly remembered something, “Oh,” he said. At the same time, Lukas also noticed the document in his hand. He asked curiously, “Mr. Scott, what’s this?”

“A contract, the strategic cooperation contract between the Sullivan Group and the Salazar Group. Ivan couldn’t leave the hospital, so I came here to take it on the way.”

Lukas knew the cooperation between the Sullivan Group and the Salazar Group had begun three years ago, but the contract been signed long ago. What was this cooperation? Lukas frowned slightly, but it was Carson’s decision, so it’s not appropriate for him to ask much.

In the past three years, with the support of Sullivan Group, Salazar Group's status in Apliaria had upgraded significantly. They had thought that the Salazar Group should be satisfied, but it seemed that they were ungrateful.

Perhaps because Lukas didn't have a good impression of the Salazar family when he first saw them, so Lukas had always been dissatisfied with them.

Sitting cross legged on the sofa, with the thumb deftly operating the game, Joey had been not in the mood to listen to the conversation between Lukas and Carson. But suddenly, he heard this document is about the cooperation between the Salazar family and the Sullivan family. He frowned and couldn't help but listen to it.

He inwardly cursed his father is a fuck dad! He felt increasingly that his living expenses totally three hundred million dollars was too little!

"It's getting late. I have to send this contract to the Salazar Group in a hurry. I'm leaving now" "Let me walk you out." Lukas nodded and said. Carson didn't refuse him. He just nodded and walked out, followed by Lukas.

"Double kill!" The mobile prompt tone of the game system said. Joey looked at the records in the upper left corner.

Chapter 307 Little Guy And Newbie

Hearing this, Lukas was worried and said "Mr. Scott, Victor has ordered..." "Lukas, don't worry. I promise I will send him back safely.” Carson knew what Lukas was worried about, so he stepped forward two steps, patted on Joey’s head and said. Being patted for no reason, Joey glared at Carson. Noticing that Joey was looking at him, Carson didn’t take it seriously. He raised his eyebrows and asked, “Right?” “.....?” “You protect me and then come to ask me?’ Joey rolled his eyes slightly and escaped from Carson. Then he turned and walked down the stairs to the Mercedes Benz which was parked not far away.

Lukas frowned tightly. Although Carson had promised, he was still worried about as soon as he thought about what happened yesterday morning. “Well, in that case, I’ll call Victor and ask him.” Then he turned around and was about to walk inside. Seeing this, Carson stretched out his arm and stopped him. “No need to call him. He can’t answer the phone now.” Last night, Lukas took care of Joey in Sue Garden, thus he didn’t know what had happened. When he heard this, he was keenly aware that something was wrong. His face froze and he asked, “He can’t answer the phone ?

Mr. Scott, what happened to Victor? Is he...” “Don’t worry, don’t worry.” Seeing that Lukas’s face became more and more serious, Carson had to explain, “It’s just the wound have broken a few times and inflamed, thus he had to stayed in the operating room for a while longer. He’s asleep because of the anesthetic.” In order to prevent the wound from breaking again, Dr. Turner specially asked the anesthetist to give Victor a dose for a day and a night. Carson didn’t know the news as well till this morning, as a result of Ivan called him to fetch the contract.

Chapter 308

Chapter 308 Talk A Lot

“What do you want to know?” Joey asked, blinking his eyes in confusion. On the other hand, Carson looked at him up and down. After a brief silence, he asked slowly.

“What’s your mother’s name?” Hearing this, Joey was stunned. He remembered that Victor asked him the same question before. But Victor didn’t insist to know the answer, so Joey was able to dodge the question at that time. Unexpectedly, Carson was asking the same question right now.

“Well, you should have known about my mother long ago, haven’t you?” When Joey calmed down, he realized that Carson’s inquisitive eyes were on him. In fact, from the moment they left the Sue Garden, he always had a vague feeling that Carson was kind of looking at him in a strange way.

Chapter 309

Chapter 309 Nervous

“So, what’s the real reason?” Joey turned his head and met Carson’s piercing eyes. His voice became a little tense, and his small hands on his thighs tightened. He was trying hard to hide his nervousness by making him appear as natural as possible. However, he was still a kid. Carson instantly noticed the panic in his eyes. He then raised his eyebrows and asked deliberately, “You seem to be nervous. What’s wrong?”

“Nervous? No, I’m not. Why would I be?”

Joey answered quickly but stiffly. “Really? Then, why is your forehead sweating?” Hearing this, Joey immediately used his hand to wipe his forehead. But to his surprise, his forehead was actually dry. That was when he realized that he had fallen in Carson's trap. Knowing that he was deceived, he glared at Carson. "Hey, little guy. I thought you weren't nervous? Then, why would you believe me so easily? Why were you so anxious to wipe your sweat off your forehead?"

A playful smile appeared on Carson's face. Trying to regain his composure, Joey put down his hand and said firmly, "I told you I'm not nervous. You just lied to my face! Do you really call yourself an adult? Don't you feel ashamed deceiving a child like this?" "Ha-ha!" Hearing Joey's words, the driver in front couldn't help but chuckle. At the same time, Carson was rendered speechless. He stared at the boy, wondering who had taught him to speak like this. He was so eloquent just now, calling out an adult for the wrong that he had done. Carson wondered if it was because of his genes. But if the information he got was correct, the little guy's biological mother was just a poor student.

Chapter 310

Chapter 310 I Heard There Was "Ultraman" In The Lab

Hearing this, James smiled and said, "Hurry up. It's cold outside. Let's go in." Then he put his arm around Carson's shoulder, as if they were father and son. Taking a glance at the arm, Carson pulled it off his shoulder and said, "I heard that you invested a lot in a tea house last month." James was stunned because few people knew that. But he had been in the business for decades, James didn't show it on his face.

He laughed twice and said, "I know what you mean. Don't worry! I've already prepared the best tea for you! And it's truly a good chance to invite you to help me taste how about the tea produced by this tea house.” James said as he led the way. Salazar Group’s building had a total of twenty floors. The group of people went straight into the elevator to the fifteen floor VIP meeting room. As soon as they was seated, there was a knock on the door. Then someone came in with cups of tea and brought the tea to them one by one. James made a gesture of “please” and said, “Carson, taste it please.

I’ve heard that your father loves drinking tea a long time ago. You must also know a lot about tea as a result of being influenced by him.”

Carson took a look at the teacup, which was made of porcelain, glittering like jade, with light lake blue. Several pieces of tea floated on the water, and the water was yellowish green. The fragrance of the tea was very strong and refreshing. It looked good. But he didn’t know its quality by tasting. His father indeed liked drinking tea Therefore, there was a whole cabinet of tea in his room. If his father sat here, he would surely make a good point, but the person here was Carson not him.

Soon, Tammy left the meeting room with Joey.

James took a look at Carson, who was sitting at the other end of the long table, and saw him leaning back against the back of the chair lazily. He didn’t know when Carson had a press pen in his hand, with the thumb against the end of the pen and pressing it casually.

The sound of the buttons was especially clear in the large meeting room.

James's eyes fell on the document on the table in front of Carson. He knew what it was. It was a contract that could bring the Salazar Group to a higher status in Apliaria!

With just a little resources Sullivan Group had given to the Salazar Group in the past three years, the Salazar Group had already entered the upper class of the wealthy clans in Apliaria, let alone this contract was a strategic cooperation between them that lasted for five years!

Thinking of this, James couldn't help smiling.
