Celebrity Girl Is My Wife Chapter 751-The phrase was familiar to Ning Ran as it was part of a famous poem.

Moments of tender love and dream, so sad to leave the magpie bridge. Eternal love between us two shall withstand the time apart.

Looking at the calligraphy painting, Ning Ran felt that something was wrong.

It was already strange to hang a calligraphy painting in the bedroom. However, what made it even stranger was that there was no signature on the painting.

If it was written by her mother, it would have been natural for her to hang up her own work.

However, it was not written by her mother. Judging from the handwriting, it was most likely written by a man.

of course, Ning Ran was certain that it was not written by Ning Ziqiang either as the latter did not know calligraphy at all.

So that must mean it's written by someone else. Since it was by someone else, there should be a signature, stamp, or date written on it. If it was written by a famous calligraphist, there would even be an exclusive seal on it.

However, there was nothing on the calligraphy painting other than those few words.

Furthermore, its content was incomplete.

The first few sentences could be omitted, but the sentence "Eternal love between us two shall withstand the time apart" should be written in full.

If the first half of the sentence was written alone, the expression of the meaning would be incomplete as the latter part of the sentence was the core.

It was obviously meaningless, monotonous, and incongruous to write only "Eternal love between us two."

Therefore, something was wrong about the painting.

Ning Ran walked to the living room, where Nan Chen was checking his emails.

Upon seeing her come out, he motioned for her to refill the tea.

"Come here. I have something to show you," Ning Ran said to him.

"I've been here a few times, and I've seen most of the things here. Of course, I have no intention of prying into any privacy, I was just here to supervise their repair work," replied Nan Chen.

"Have you ever gone into my mom's bedroom?"

"Yes."

"Have you seen that calligraphy painting?"

"Eternal love between us two," Nan Chen recited.

"Yes, that's right. Don't you think something is wrong with it?" asked Ning Ran.

"That's not a complete sentence. Half of it has been cut off." Nan Chen lowered his head to continue looking at his phone.

"Is that so?"

"Eternal love between us two shall withstand the time apart. This is the full sentence. Hence, the second part was cut out. I think the signature and date were cut out together," explained Nan Chen.

Ning Ran thought that what he said made sense.

Running back to the bedroom, she moved a chair over, stepped on it, and carefully observed the painting.

What Nan Chen said was right. There were obvious trimming marks on the edge of the paper, which was completely different from the other end. Half of it had really been cut off.

She then ran back to the living room. "I took a close look at it and realize that half of the painting has really been cut off."

"Is there a need to take a closer look at it? Will you write an incomplete sentence and hang it up?" Nan Chen thought that it was a foolish question that was not worth discussing.

"Why cut it off then? Why not write it in full?"

Nan Chen corrected her, "It was written in full. It's just that it has been cut off."

"Yes, you're right. I mean, why did my mom cut that other half off?"

Nan Chen put down his phone and took a sip from his teacup.

“What do you think?” he asked.

“I don’t know.”

“Well, I don’t know either.”

Ning Ran started to panic. “Aren’t you extremely smart? So how could you not know? You can at least give a guess, can’t you?”

“Well, I can say the same for you. But guesswork is not the truth. The truth needs evidence. I don’t have any, and neither do you, so we can only pretend we don’t know about it,” said Nan Chen.

“It seems like you’re implying something. Tell me what your thoughts are.” Sitting across from Nan Chen, Ning Ran fixed her gaze on him.

“Go and take a photo of that painting,” said Nan Chen.

“Okay.” Ning Ran ran to the bedroom obediently and took a photo of the painting.

“Save it to your cloud storage, so that you’ll still have the photo even if your phone is lost. Save it like how you saved the photos you took before.”

“Okay.” Ning Ran did as told. “Now what?”

“That’s it.”

Ning Ran jumped up in shock. “That’s it?”

“That’s it. Now that you’ve saved the photo of this calligraphy painting, you should look at it whenever you’re free and memorize the handwriting. Everyone’s handwriting is different. So, when you see someone with the same handwriting as this calligraphy someday, you can ask that person why half of the calligraphy he gave to your mom was cut off. He’ll probably tell you the reason. But of course, the probability of this happening is a bit low. After all, there are so many people in the world, and it’s rather difficult to meet a specific person. That being said, dreams are still necessary, for there’s a chance they might come true,” Nan Chen said slowly.

The more Ning Ran listened to him, the more she felt that something was off. Why do I feel like Poker Face is playing tricks on me?

“Are you kidding me? Where can I find the person who wrote this?” Ning Ran exclaimed.

“As I said, the probability of encountering him is low, but it’s not absolutely impossible. This kind of thing has to do with fate,” Nan Chen explained languidly.

"I don't want to talk about fate. I want you to help me find this person. I want to ask him why," Ning Ran urged anxiously.

"Go find him yourself then."

"I can't!"

"How can I find him when you can't? If that person is a famous calligraphist, it'll be easy to find him, but this calligraphy isn't famous. There are so many people who know calligraphy in this world. So where do you suggest I go find him? We can only rely on fate!" Nan Chen replied seriously.

"I don't care. You have to help me find him!"

Nan Chen sighed. "You're being unreasonable. If you can't find him, why do you think I can? Besides, why are you insisting on finding the person who wrote this?"

Ning Ran lowered her head. "Why do you need to ask me when you already knew? The fact that my mom hung this calligraphy painting in the bedroom shows that it's very important to her. Generally speaking, calligraphy is important, not because of the calligraphy itself, but because of the person who wrote it. Eternal love between us two shall withstand the time apart. Such a sentence is not written for a friend as it is ambiguous in itself. So I think that the man who wrote this must have some kind of relationship with my mom."

Initially, Ning Ran did not want to say these things because she knew that Nan Chen would understand.

Previously, she and Ning Ziqiang had done a DNA test, which proved that she was not his biological daughter. Her biological father was someone else.

Coupled with the fact that the calligraphy painting had been cut in half, it was hard for her not to suspect that the person who wrote it had something to do with her birth.

It's highly possible that the person who wrote the calligraphy is my biological father. Perhaps he and my mother were originally in love, but for some reason, they could not be together, so all they could leave behind was a calligraphy painting. However, they had to cut off the signature for fear that it would be seen by others and in turn, cause trouble for them. Regardless, my mom must have missed the man so much that she could not forget him, so she hung the broken piece of painting in her bedroom and gazed at it every night before going to bed, showing her deep love for him.

"Okay, I'll try," Nan Chen finally agreed.

After a pause, he added, "But don't get your hopes up. It's going to be really hard to find this person without any other clues."

"Are you kidding me? Where can I find the person who wrote this?" Ning Ron exclaimed.

"As I said, the probability of encountering him is low, but it's not absolutely impossible. This kind of thing has to do with fate," Non Chen explained languidly.

"I don't want to talk about fate. I want you to help me find this person. I want to ask him why," Ning Ron urged anxiously.

"Go find him yourself then."

"I can't!"

"How can I find him when you can't? If that person is a famous calligrapher, it'll be easy to find him, but this calligraphy isn't famous. There are so many people who know calligraphy in this world. So where do you suggest I go find him? We can only rely on fate!" Non Chen replied seriously.

Non Chen sighed. "You're being unreasonable. If you can't find him, why do you think I can? Besides, why are you insisting on finding the person who wrote this?"

Ning Ron lowered her head. "Why do you need to ask me when you already knew? The fact that my mom hung this calligraphy pointing in the bedroom shows that it's very important to her. Generally speaking, calligraphy is important, not because of the calligraphy itself, but because of the person who wrote it. Eternal love between us two shall withstand the time apart. Initially, Ning Ron did not want to say these things because she knew that Non Chen would understand.

Previously, she and Ning Ziqiong had done a DNA test, which proved that she was not his biological daughter. Her biological father was someone else.

Coupled with the fact that the calligraphy pointing had been cut in half, it was hard for her not to suspect that the person who wrote it had something to do with her birth.

It's highly possible that the person who wrote the calligraphy is my biological father. Celebrity Girl Is My Wife Chapter 752-Feng Jialing had no idea Ouyang Li would come to her that soon. Moreover, the latter looked more agitated than she was during their previous encounter.

“Mom, can you please keep Ouyang Qing in check? She was in the wrong but she had the audacity to act like a crazy woman. Now, she is trying to get me involved, too. How despicable can she be?” Ouyang Li hollered angrily, losing her composure.

Deep down, Feng Jialing let out an exasperated sigh. It’s no wonder I favor my younger daughter. Look, my eldest daughter isn’t graceful at all. She might’ve changed her style recently to look more fashionable, but nothing can change the fact that she’s an uncultured woman.

“What’s wrong with you? Why can’t you be civil instead of yelling like a maniac? Didn’t Ouyang Qi take the blame for you when you attacked Nan Chen? What else do you want now?” Feng Jialing snapped with her brows furrowed together.

Feng Jialing was infuriated upon hearing that. “What do you mean he took the blame for me? It wasn’t me who assaulted Nan Chen! Someone else framed me! Perhaps it was Ouyang Qi who conspired against me. He made me get into trouble, so he could seize the opportunity to take the blame for me, getting a chance to work in the company again!”

Feng Jialing shook her head in disbelief. “He came to your rescue, and yet you are so ungrateful? You should be grateful for his help. Otherwise, no one would want to come to your aid next time you are in trouble!”

“You favor them over me! The useless Ouyang Qing who you brought up is now trying to take me down in jail. Will you stop her or not?”

“What about Qing? She’s in jail. How can she take you down?”

“She retracted her testimony in jail. Claiming to be innocent, she said someone else had instructed her to act that way. The police are now taking the necessary steps to reopen the case and launch a new investigation.”

“How is that related to you?” Feng Jialing was confused.

“Of course it is related to me! She claimed I was the one who instructed her to carry out the evil deeds! How could she accuse me falsely? When she and Dad were fighting against the Nan family in Flower City, I was working hard in Pearl City. I had no idea what happened over there, let alone participate in their plan. You know that well, right? Now, she’s trying to involve me in that matter. What a wicked woman!”

Ouyang Li’s anger grew as she spoke. In a fit of rage, she threw a cup across the room, causing it to shatter into pieces.

Feng Jialing remained doubtful. “Did Qing really do that?”

“Why would I lie? The police came to me to ask me to cooperate with their investigation! Those b*stards from the board of directors took the chance to claim that I was involved in a criminal case and asked me to step down as the acting CEO in accordance with company policy. They are trying to take my power away from me! Go to Ouyang Qing immediately and tell her to retract her false statement and cease her accusations against me!” Ouyang Li roared.

Feng Jialing still refused to believe her words. “That doesn’t sound right. Why would Qing do that?”

“Why would she do that? She hates seeing me leading a great life, of course! She ended up in jail after her plan failed, and now she’s trying to take me down. Stop talking nonsense and go visit her now. Tell her to retract her testimony so the police would stop investigating me,” Ouyang Li demanded.

Feng Jialing said nothing.

She had been married to Ouyang Duo as the chairman’s wife for years. As smart as she was, it didn’t take her long to realize that it was a conspiracy.

Someone was plotting against the Ouyang family to create internal strife within the family.

The fact that Ouyang Qing was involved despite being imprisoned suggested that the mastermind behind the scheme was powerful.

“If you can’t be the acting CEO, who will take over your place?” Feng Jialing asked.

Her words merely served to increase Ouyang Li’s fury. “You don’t want me to be the acting CEO, too, right? Are you thinking of taking over? Can you do it?”

Feng Jialing gazed at her eldest daughter, who felt like a stranger to her. As fury ran through her veins, she asked in a quivering voice, “What gave you that idea? Have I ever competed against you? You’re my child. Why would I do that?”

“Have you ever thought of me as your daughter? You’ve always preferred Ouyang Qing over me. Are you behind this? Did you instruct her to falsely accuse me?”

“No, I didn’t!” Feng Jialing’s eyes turned red in fury.

“I don’t believe you. Go to Ouyang Qing now and tell her to stop incriminating me. Do it now!”

“But I don’t want to go to that place—”

Ouyang Li cut her short, screaming, “You don’t have a choice! I’ll give you a ride there!”

Under Ouyang Li’s insistence, Feng Jialing had no choice but to head the prison.

Unfortunately, she was unable to see Ouyang Qing as each prisoner is only allowed a certain number of visits. Ouyang Qing had already reached her limit for the month, so no one was allowed to see her.

Ouyang Li’s anger reached a boiling point. She hit the steering wheel with her fist and shouted, “This is a conspiracy! We can’t even visit Ouyang Qing in person. I will not resign from my job! You need to find a solution. Go to the board of directors and forbid them from making me quit! They’ve known you for years. They’ll listen to you.”

Feng Jialing sighed. “Your dad was the one who dealt with them, not me! Now that your father’s gone, my words mean nothing to them! When your father was alive, even though they pretended to obey his commands, they were constantly playing tricks in the background. That is how things work in the corporate world as it’s a battlefield. That’s why I used to continually emphasize the importance of being kind to your family, instead of pushing them away. Other people strive to create business opportunities for their relatives, yet you wanted to kick us out of the country. Now that you are in trouble, you suddenly thought of us again.”

Ouyang Li hissed, “I don’t care. Stop talking and just do as I say now. You won’t know if they’ll respect you unless you try!”

“Fine. I shall try calling them now. I’ll do that right in front of you so you get to hear their response.” Feng Jialing caved in and retrieved her phone to call the directors.

The first director she called didn’t even bother picking up. She called him three times but to no avail.

The other directors did pick up, but when Feng Jialing asked them out for some coffee, they rejected her invitation directly.

They were smart enough to know why Feng Jialing called them.

It was clear that they wouldn't help Feng Jialing as they had refused to meet her.

"You must be in cahoots with them! I'm certain of that! I don't care what you do, but you must make sure I stay as the acting CEO. If I am forced to resign, the Ouyang family will lose influence in Sunshine Corporation. It will be difficult for us to regain power in the future and the Sunshine Corporation will no longer be under the control of the Ouyang family!"

Ouyang Li might be selfish, but Feng Jialing knew she was right.

She proposed, "I have an idea that could help you turn the situation around. It's just a suggestion, so you don't have to take my advice."

"What is it?" Ouyang Li demanded impatiently.

"The board of directors hasn't voted to ask you to resign yet, right? You can take the initiative to request a leave of absence and appoint Ouyang Qi to take over your role. According to company policy, the CEO can appoint a replacement with the approval of the board of directors. Ouyang Qi is your older brother and part of the family, so it doesn't make sense for the board of directors to deny your request. That is the only way for you to turn the tables," Feng Jialing explained.

Feng Jialing sighed. "Your dad was the one who dealt with them, not me! Now that your father's gone, my words mean nothing to them! When your father was alive, even though they pretended to obey his commands, they were constantly playing tricks in the background. The first director she called didn't even bother picking up. She called him three times but to no avail.

The other directors did pick up, but when Feng Jiuling asked them out for some coffee, they rejected her invitation directly.

They were smart enough to know why Feng Jiuling called them.

It was clear that they wouldn't help Feng Jiuling as they had refused to meet her.

"You must be in cahoots with them! I'm certain of that! I don't care what you do, but you must make sure I stay as the acting CEO. If I am forced to resign, the Ouyong family will lose influence in Sunshine Corporation. It will be difficult for us to regain power in the future and the Sunshine Corporation will no longer be under the control of the Ouyong family!"

Ouyong Li might be selfish, but Feng Jiuling knew she was right.

She proposed, "I have an idea that could help you turn the situation around. It's just a suggestion, so you don't have to take my advice."

"What is it?" Ouyong Li demanded impatiently.

"The board of directors hasn't voted to ask you to resign yet, right? You can take the initiative to request a leave of absence and appoint Ouyong Qi to take over your role. Celebrity Girl Is My Wife Chapter 753-Later that day, Nan Chen was having dinner with his family at Raining Pavilion when he received a call from Jiang Zhe, who said he had something to report.

Nan Chen explained that he was having dinner. He told Jiang Zhe he could come over to talk to him if possible or wait until the next day to talk at the company.

Naturally, Jiang Zhe agreed to come to Raining Pavilion to talk to him. Through his tone, Nan Chen could sense that it was an urgent matter.

After dinner, Nan Chen was chatting with his kids when Jiang Zhe arrived.

Jiang Zhe already had dinner, so Nan Chen brought him to the study room.

"I have two matters to report. First, our branch in South Adrune is in trouble. One state suddenly passed a bill that prohibits Chinese companies from getting involved in telecommunications projects on the grounds that they are a threat to their data security.

As a result, our branch has been forced to pull out, resulting in a significant financial loss," Jiang Zhe revealed.

Nan Chen didn't respond and signaled for Jiang Zhe to continue.

Jiang Zhe continued, "I also heard that Ouyang Qing retracted her testimony in prison and blamed Ouyang Li as the culprit. Ouyang Li is falsely accused, and she may be forced to resign. Sunshine Corporation has a policy similar to Nanshi Corporation, which states that if a CEO is involved in a criminal case, their position will be suspended. The board will hold an emergency meeting tomorrow morning to vote on Ouyang Li's resignation."

Nan Chen knitted his brows. "Did Ouyang Li do anything to stop the others from conspiring against her?"

"Yes. Someone gave her a suggestion, asking her to appoint Ouyang Qi as the CEO."

Nan Chen nodded approvingly. "That's a good idea to turn the tables. Ouyang Qi is part of the Ouyang family, anyway."

Jiang Zhe added, "However, she still needs the approval of the board of directors. From what I know, many of the directors aren't confident in Ouyang Qi. He has had a bad reputation in the past, so it's understandable that they would be concerned about him running the company."

"Are you suggesting that the directors will vote against her, leading to the Ouyang family's removal from the Sunshine Corporation?"

Jiang Zhe nodded. "That is most probably what will happen. After Ouyang Duo is gone, many people have set their sights on his position."

Nan Chen quickly made up his mind and declared, "We need to stop that from happening."

Hearing that, Jiang Zhe was confused. Our branch's situation in South Adrune is more critical as it affects our company's profits, but why is he more focused on the Ouyang family and their ability to maintain their power in the Sunshine Corporation?

Nan Chen instructed, "Solving the issue in South Adrune isn't difficult. The local government passed the bill to encourage local companies to participate in the projects in order to stop us from monopolizing the profits. We can find a company that has the government's support and collaborate with them. The company can take on the projects under their name and we won't be breaking any laws. We may suffer some losses, but at least we won't have to withdraw from the market."

Jiang Zhe nodded profusely. "I'll relay your order to our colleagues at South Adrune."

Nan Chen said, "We need to interfere in Sunshine Corporation's matter. This is extremely important."

"Are you worried that the Ouyang family will lose its influence? But we'll benefit if they have internal strife," Jiang Zhe replied in confusion.

"We may benefit from the internal strife within Sunshine Corporation, but if the Ouyang family is removed from the company, the internal strife will end. This poses a significant risk to Nanshi Corporation."

Jiang Zhe still couldn't understand what that meant.

Without his intelligence, he wouldn't have achieved his current success. However, his employer's statement left him perplexed.

One might be smart, but that didn't mean one could see the bigger picture. Sometimes, one would require a broad horizon and influence to understand a situation thoroughly.

"The Ouyang family is the largest shareholder. If they were to be ousted now, the second largest shareholder will gain power. Do the old b*stards of Sunshine Corporation's board of directors think they can gain control of the company by kicking out the two young people from the Ouyang family? Dream on!" Nan Chen said icily.

Realization dawned upon Jiang Zhe. "The second largest shareholder is Prosperity Holdings. If the Ouyang family is ousted, they will gain control of the company. If that were to happen for real, Prosperity Holdings will gain control of the second and third largest companies in the province!"

"Previously, Prosperity Holdings had not attempted to acquire Sunshine Corporation due to the possible cost of such a venture and their fear of Sunshine Corporation's reaction. However, with the Ouyang family out of the equation, it is now a viable option. We only have to be wary of one person from Prosperity Holdings."

"Who is it?"

"Rong Yi, the young pianist. He isn't only good at playing the piano. He is also a capable person. We can't let him gain control of Sunshine Corporation. If he gets both companies to go against Nanshi Corporation, we'll be in deep trouble," Nan Chen revealed.

This was the first time Jiang Zhe had ever seen his employer place such importance on a rival. He has a high opinion of Rong Yi.

"Is Rong Yi that capable?" he asked dubiously.

“He’s more capable than you think. His financial skills are among the top five in China,” Nan Chen told him.

“How is he compared to you?” Jiang Zhe asked curiously.

Boss rarely praises others. I can’t help but wonder how capable he is.

“Why do you want to compare me with him?” Nan Chen questioned coldly.

Jiang Zhe panicked. “I was merely wondering which of the two of you is more capable.”

Nan Chen didn’t bother replying as he thought it was a stupid question.

However, deep down, Nan Chen thought he was better than Rong Yi.

Although he and Rong Yi had never really faced each other head-on before, Nan Chen still believed he was superior to Rong Yi.

Confidence was an attribute possessed by the strong. No strong person would consider themselves to be at a disadvantage compared to their opponent before engaging in a competition.

“We need to figure out a way to stop the Special Board Meeting tomorrow. Postpone the meeting and inform Ouyang Li about it. I am willing to assist her in staying at Sunshine Corporation if she implores me for help.” He mulled it over and corrected himself, “Tell her to ask Ning Ran for help.”

“We are going to stop their meeting? Are you sure?” Jiang Zhe could barely hide his surprise.

Nan Chen responded frostily, “Is that difficult to achieve? If the directors encounter an accident on the way to the company the next morning, will they be able to join the meeting on time? If more than three of the directors are unable to attend, they won’t have enough votes to pass any resolutions. Can’t you do that? Don’t tell me you need Qiao Zhan’s help.”

Jiang Zhe seemed stumped. “It is easy for Ah Qiao to accomplish that, but I can’t!”

Nan Chen thought about it and realized he was right. Jiang Zhe was good at using his brain while Qiao Zhan was better at taking action.

The latter was more professional when it came to causing ruckuses.

Moreover, Qiao Zhan’s subordinates were ruthless and would use any means necessary to accomplish their goals.

“Call Qiao Zhan to delegate the task to him. We have one goal—to cancel the emergency meeting of Sunshine Corporation tomorrow.”

He was willing to do whatever it took to achieve his goal.

With that, Nan Chen stood up with his cup, signaling it was time for Jiang Zhe to leave.

This was the first time Jiang Zhe had ever seen his employer place such importance on a rival. He has a high opinion of Rong Yi.

“Is Rong Yi that capable?” he asked dubiously.

“He’s more capable than you think. His financial skills are among the top five in China,” Non Chen told him.

“How is he compared to you?” Jiang Zhe asked curiously.

“Why do you want to compare me with him?” Non Chen questioned coldly.

Jiang Zhe panicked. “I was merely wondering which of the two of you is more capable.”

Non Chen didn’t bother replying as he thought it was a stupid question.

However, deep down, Non Chen thought he was better than Rong Yi.

“We need to figure out a way to stop the Special Board Meeting tomorrow. Postpone the meeting and inform Ouyang Li about it. I am willing to assist her in staying at Sunshine Corporation if she implores me for help.” He mulled it over and corrected himself, “Tell her to ask Ning Ron for help.”

“We are going to stop their meeting? Are you sure?” Jiang Zhe could barely hide his surprise.

Non Chen responded frostily, “Is that difficult to achieve? If the directors encounter an accident on the way to the company the next morning, will they be able to join the meeting on time? If more than three of the directors are unable to attend, they won’t

Jiang Zhe seemed stumped. "It is easy for Ah Qiao to accomplish that, but I can't!"

"Call Qiao Zhong to delegate the task to him. We have one goal—to cancel the emergency meeting of Sunshine Corporation tomorrow."

He was willing to do whatever it took to achieve his goal.

With that, Nan Chen stood up with his cup, signaling it was time for Jiang Zhe to leave.

Celebrity Girl Is My Wife Chapter 754-After seeing Jiang Zhe off, Nan Chen went to the bedroom where he saw Ning Ran pacing around.

"What's wrong? Are you not used to being here? Is there something you want to change?" Nan Chen asked gently.

"It's too big!"

"What?"

"This room is too big. It's bigger than our previous living room. It feels like sleeping on a basketball court!" Ning Ran complained.

"Isn't that a good thing?" Nan Chen was puzzled.

"I can't get used to the size of this room. There's no need for it to be this big, as it's just a bedroom!"

Nan Chen went over to her to pull her into his arms. "Do you think it'll feel cozier if we can spend our time alone in a smaller place?"

"I don't like sleeping on a basketball court."

“If we can find a room that is only a few square meters wide and can only fit us, that would be ideal.”

“No need to go to all that trouble late at night. I just feel uneasy staying in such an expensive house,” Ning Ran replied with a chuckle.

“Why would you feel that way? A house is where people should feel comfortable and at home. This house isn’t actually new, but I’ve never lived here before because it felt too unnecessarily big for me. However, I didn’t feel uneasy at all,” Nan Chen explained.

“That’s because you’ve always been rich, so you don’t see any issue with owning everything you have.”

“Is there a problem with you owning all these?” Nan Chen asked.

“It feels unreal,” Ning Ran replied honestly.

“Why?”

“I can’t really explain it. It seems surreal, that’s all.”

“I understand how you feel, but I have a solution that may make you feel more at ease. I can transfer the ownership of this house to you so that it truly feels like your own home.”

Ning Ran blanched in shock. “No! I don’t want that!”

“Why?” Nan Chen was baffled.

“This house is huge. I checked online, and it was sold for a few billion back then. The price must’ve increased by now, so I dare not become the owner of such an expensive house,” Ning Ran told him.

“A few billion is nothing to me. Why would you think that way? Isn’t it more important to transfer the ownership to you to make you feel better?” Nan Chen inquired.

Ning Ran waved her hands hastily. “No, that won’t do. This house is too expensive. I can only take what I deserve. I love money, but I won’t take something that isn’t rightfully mine.”

Nan Chen stared at her. “Do you lack confidence in yourself, or do you lack confidence in me?”

Ning Ran cowered a little under his sharp gaze and replied weakly, “Both.”

“Let’s talk about that after we get married.”

“No, I can’t marry you! I cannot fulfill your family’s expectations for a well-educated spouse. As an ordinary citizen, I fear that people will regard me with disdain after I join your family!” Ning Ran cried.

A smile nudged Nan Chen’s lips, for he loved seeing her chickening out.

“Don’t worry. I’ll get someone to deal with your educational background.”

“The thought of pretending to have a certain educational background in order to marry into a wealthy family seems overly dramatic to me. I am not comfortable with that idea,” said Ning Ran, expressing her discomfort with the proposal.

“If you won’t marry me, who else will you marry?” Nan Chen demanded.

“Let’s take our time and discuss this further. We should not make any hasty decisions,” Ning Ran urged and waved her hands.

Interesting. Many women would die to marry into the Nan family. Look at her. She is afraid to marry me and isn’t interested in joining the Nan family. What a strange woman.

“Unfortunately, this is not a conversation that can be put off. The board of directors has long believed that my single status is a weakness. They assume that being unmarried means I lack maturity. They have been persistent in their nagging. With time, even my grandfather has begun to prioritize my marriage, constantly urging me to wed. If you decline my proposal, I will have to consider other options and marry someone else.”

Ning Ran glared at him. “Who are you going to marry? Are you going to get Ouyang Qing out of jail to marry her? She once harmed my daughter! You can marry anyone but her!”

“That’s my daughter, too! Of course I won’t marry her.”

“Who are you going to marry, then?”

“I don’t know.”

Nan Chen was telling the truth, for he had no idea who he would marry. Everyone had been ridiculing him for staying single this long.

“You don’t have a target yet. Ah, this is not urgent. We can talk about this later.” Ning Ran gave a dismissive wave.

Nan Chen felt displeased seeing how indifferent Ning Ran was.

How could she be this indifferent? Is she fine with me marrying someone else? If that’s the case, does that mean she has no feelings for me at all?

The thought of Ning Ran not caring about him frustrated him greatly.

Everyone respects me, but she's the only one who doesn't care about me. Why? This won't do. I'll have to do something or she'll grow more arrogant and stop treating me seriously.

"Oh, right. Take a look at this."

"This is my mom's photo album. There are photos of her classmates and friends inside. I thought there might be some clues inside and brought it over so you can take a look at it."

They were chatting about getting married a while ago, but she had turned the page to start another topic.

A wave of fury crashed through Nan Chen. She really doesn't care about me!

"I'm not interested," he snapped icily.

Ning Ran was puzzled. What is wrong with him? Why did he get upset out of a sudden?

"Just take a look at it. You wanted to help me find clues about my biological father, right? Perhaps there might be a clue inside."

"No. I'm tired, so I shall go to bed." Nan Chen strode away angrily.

Why should I assist you when you ask me to when I'm not obligated to do so? I'm not your subordinate. I am usually the one giving orders. Why should I be taking orders from you?

Holding the photo album, Ning Ran stood rooted to the spot, appearing all innocent. She let out a sigh, for she didn't know what to say.

Nan Chen turned over his shoulder to see her pouting pitifully. His heart immediately softened.

Hence, he returned to her and took the photo album from her before marching off.

Ning Ran quickly went after him. "I knew you won't ignore my plight."

"Did I ever say I would help you? I just want to find your birth father as quickly as possible so you will stop pestering me," Nan Chen replied coldly.

Ning Ran chuckled. "You're right. I'll keep pestering you if you refuse to help me. You are a powerful person and may not deem it fit to involve yourself with someone like me. However, I am just a woman who will not give up easily."

Nan Chen arched a brow. "Do you think you're all that? Tomorrow, Ouyang Li will come to you for help. Regardless of what she asks, agree to assist her on condition that she joins you in investigating Ding Fei's background."

"Huh? Ouyang Li will come to ask for my help? Why?"

"That is none of your business. Just do as I say." Nan Chen opened the photo album.

"But I have to know what happened."

"Well, this was what happened..." Nan Chen proceeded to inform Ning Ran about the recent matters that happened in the Ouyang family.

"This is my mom's photo album. There are photos of her classmates and friends inside. I thought there might be some clues inside and brought it over so you can take a look at it."

Ning Ran was puzzled. What is wrong with him? Why did he get upset out of a sudden?

Non Chen turned over his shoulder to see her pouting pitifully. His heart immediately softened.

Hence, he returned to her and took the photo album from her before marching off.

Ning Ron quickly went after him. "I knew you won't ignore my plight."

"Did I ever say I would help you? I just want to find your birth father as quickly as possible so you will stop pestering me," Non Chen replied coldly.

Ning Ron chuckled. "You're right. I'll keep pestering you if you refuse to help me. You are a powerful person and may not deem it fit to involve yourself with someone like me. However, I am just a woman who will not give up easily."

Non Chen arched a brow. "Do you think you're all that? Tomorrow, Ouyong Li will come to you for help. Regardless of what she asks, agree to assist her on condition that she joins you in investigating Ding Fei's background."

"Huh? Ouyong Li will come to ask for my help? Why?"

"That is none of your business. Just do as I say." Non Chen opened the photo album.

"But I have to know what happened."

"Well, this was what happened..." Non Chen proceeded to inform Ning Ron about the recent matters that happened in the Ouyong family.

Celebrity Girl Is My Wife Chapter 755-At ten the next morning, Ouyang Li was back in the CEO's office, heaving a long sigh of relief.

The Special Board Meeting that was supposed to be held at nine had been canceled due to the absence of four directors.

That was nothing less than a pleasant surprise for Ouyang Li. Had the board meeting really been convened, she would have had to brave the risk of being forced to step down as the acting CEO.

Even though she had heeded Feng Jialing's advice to appoint Ouyang Qi to temporarily assume the position of CEO, she would still have to get the nod from that bunch of old geezers from the board of directors.

Judging from the current circumstances, she knew very well that those directors must be waiting to drive the Ouyang family out of the company. Hence, the chances of her suggestion getting approved would be extremely slim.

Since the meeting was no more, the matter was put on hold once again. Because of that, Ouyang Li could at least take a breather.

Right then, her assistant stepped inside and informed her that a man who went by the last name “Qiao” had requested a meeting with her.

“Does he have an appointment?”

“No,” was the assistant’s only answer.

“Then why would I be meeting him? Is this your first day at work? Didn’t you already know the procedures?” bellowed Ouyang Li.

She was in a bad mood.

The assistant panicked. “But he said that he was the reason that the board meeting today got called off. I thought this might be important, so I reported—”

Ouyang Li’s heart sank as she heard those words. “He said that?”

The assistant nodded.

“Let him in.”

With that towering figure of his, Qiao Zhan entered Ouyang Li’s office and scrutinized the surroundings. This office is way too shabby compared to that of Sir Chen.

He then landed his gaze on Ouyang Li in her seat. Ouyang Qing has such good looks, so why does this woman look poles apart from her sister? Could she not be the biological daughter of the Ouyang family?

Then came Ouyang Li’s question. “Who are you?”

“I’m Qiao Zhan, the head of security at Nanshi Corporation.” Qiao Zhan puffed up his chest as he spoke.

“What does a head of security want with me?”

“I want you to buy me a meal,” the man asserted.

“What?”

At that, Qiao Zhan slowly articulated each and every word. “I said I want you to buy me a meal.”

“Are we even that close? Why must I buy you anything at all?” scoffed Ouyang Li coldly, wearing a disdainful mien.

“Because I’ve done you a great favor. If I hadn’t stopped those directors from coming here, they’d have arrived on time to attend the board meeting. Had the meeting been held as arranged, you’d have been packing up right now and leaving this office for good already,” remarked Qiao Zhan. He was just as scornful as he said that.

“What do you actually know?”

“Everything that I should and shouldn’t already know.”

“Are you really the one who stopped those directors? How did you do that?”

With a smirk playing on his lips, Qiao Zhan revealed, “Their cars rammed into the food delivery trucks. Both parties had even gotten into a fight, only to alert the police in the end due to disorderly conduct. They must all be recording their statements at the station as we speak.”

“All of them were held up the same way?” Ouyang Li was astonished to hear that.

“Well, yes. I didn’t bother to come up with an overly complicated scheme, so I used the same trick for each of them. The trick worked fine. No matter what, they wouldn’t be making it to the meeting.”

“You mean your subordinates disguised themselves as food delivery men?”

“No, no, no. They were all actual employees of the food delivery company, but they were willing to cooperate with me. As for the reason they did what they were told, you don’t need to know. I’ll never tell you even if you ask. All I can tell you is that I can always arrange for something as trivial as this. If you don’t believe me, I can make a call right now, and those directors of yours would be here in a minute. You guys can then convene the board meeting later in the afternoon.”

Naturally, Ouyang Li was convinced. That bulky man in front of her was no ordinary person, for he worked for the Nan family.

In the past, Ouyang Li had always thought that her father and sister had only their own incompetency to blame for their downfall. On the flip side, she thought that she herself was far more intelligent and astute, which allowed her to triumph over the Nan family.

After sparring with the Nan family, though, she finally understood that the Nan family was indeed formidable. Having reigned supreme in Flower City for ages, the Nan family had never once relied on luck but on actual power.

“What do you want from me, then? Only a meal?” probed Ouyang Li.

“Correct. If you’re busy, you can simply wire me the money, and I’ll eat on my own. That said, my comrades all worked hard this morning, so they naturally will be joining me. We’re all united, and we share all joys and sorrows.” A smile appeared on Qiao Zhan’s face on that note.

“How much do you need?”

Qiao Zhan extended his index finger in response.

“Ten thousand?”

“Do you take me as a beggar? One million.” Qiao Zhan corrected the woman.

“One million for a meal? Are you out of your mind?” Ouyang Li grew anxious.

“As I said, I have one whole group of subordinates with me. One million might only be just enough to foot the bill. I might even have to fork out more out of my own pocket. Forget it if you’re not willing. I’ll be off. Even if you refuse to treat me to a feast, someone else would gladly treat me to one.” Qiao Zhan wheeled around and was all ready to leave.

“Wait.” Ouyang Li stopped the man in his tracks.

She knew Qiao Zhan had come prepared. Although a million might come off as a rip-off, she had no choice but to yield.

For a person to barge into the company and demand money like that, Ouyang Li reckoned that someone must be backing the man. She did not have the guts to take the risk.

“Have you agreed?”

“Give me your account number. I’ll wire it to you.”

Only then did Qiao Zhan flash a bright grin. He gave Ouyang Li a thumbs up and exclaimed, “You’re indeed generous, Ms. Ouyang! I knew you were never a petty person. Thanks!”

He immediately handed over a note. Apparently, a bank account number was already written on it. Moreover, that bank operated under Sunshine Corporation itself.

“I have one condition,” voiced Ouyang Li.

“I know, I know. You want me to continue what I’ve been doing and prevent them from calling any meeting for the time being.”

Startled, Ouyang Li froze once more. How did he manage to guess that as well?

“Nan Chen sent you here, didn’t he?” Her voice was as cold as the winter.

Qiao Zhan waved his hand and denied it. “No, Mr. Chen is a busy man. He’ll never have time to concern himself with trivial matters and insignificant people. I’m the one behind this.”

Ouyang Li felt offended upon hearing that. Trivial matters? Insignificant people? How am I, the CEO of Sunshine Corporation, insignificant? Since when are my matters trivial? Despite feeling annoyed, she restrained herself from going through the roof.

At that point, she had already become fearful and wary of the Nan family. She figured that Qiao Zhan must have an ulterior motive for demanding a million from her.

Yet, she could not grasp what was awaiting her beyond that. All she knew was that Nan Chen definitely had something to do with it.

“So, would you be able to fulfill that condition of mine?”

“I can only guarantee that they won’t be calling any board meeting tomorrow. I couldn’t be inducing a car crash every single day, right? If you wish to get rid of the problem once and for all, you’ll need to talk to someone. Only she can put you out of your misery.”

“Who?”

“The young lady of the Nan family.”

“Huh? Who’s that?” Ouyang Li had no idea who Qiao Zhan was referring to.

“Tsk, tsk. To think that you want to make an impact in Flower City, but you haven’t even a clue about who she is. How do you expect to even last long in this place? She goes by the stage name Ding Mi, a superstar, and her real name is Ning Ran. You can ask around in Flower City. Everyone knows her.”

Ning Ran would surely blush if she knew Qiao Zhan was praising her behind her back like that.

“She can solve the problem, you say?” The puzzlement within Ouyang Li intensified.

“Absolutely. Only she will be able to solve it.” Qiao Zhan sounded confident.

“How so?” Doubt was written all over Ouyang Li’s face.

"That I'm not sure of. You need to ask her in person. I'll give you her number, and you can contact her on your own. However, she's a busy woman, so I'm not sure if you could ever get her to see you. I guess we'll leave it to fate!"

"Have you agreed?"

"Give me your account number. I'll wire it to you."

Only then did Qiao Zhong flash a bright grin. He gave Ouyong Li a thumbs up and exclaimed, "You're indeed generous, Ms. Ouyong! I knew you were never a petty person. Thanks!"

He immediately handed over a note. Apparently, a bank account number was already written on it. Moreover, that bank operated under Sunshine Corporation itself.

"I have one condition," voiced Ouyong Li.

"I know, I know. You want me to continue what I've been doing and prevent them from calling any meeting for the time being."

Startled, Ouyong Li froze once more. How did he manage to guess that so well?

At that point, she had already become fearful and wary of the Non family. She figured that Qiao Zhong must have an ulterior motive for demanding a million from her.

Yet, she could not grasp what was awaiting her beyond that. All she knew was that Non Chen definitely had something to do with it.

"So, would you be able to fulfill that condition of mine?"

Celebrity Girl Is My Wife Chapter 756-It was the last day of Ning Ran’s vacation in Flower City. She would need to head back to Livingsville tomorrow to continue with the filming.

If all went well, the scenes at Livingsville could be finished within two weeks. The following filming schedule and location were not made known to Ning Ran yet.

Ning Ran also had not decided if she wanted to bring the children back to Livingsville.

As her mind was preoccupied, Ning Ran failed to memorize her lines even after looking at the script for a long while.

She required a clear mind and absolute concentration when memorizing her lines.

At that moment, her phone rang. It was a call from an unknown number.

Ning Ran lazily took her phone from the side of the pillow and answered the call. “Who is this?”

“Are you Ning Ran?” The other party sounded a bit impolite.

“I am. You are?”

“Ouyang Li.”

That unfamiliar name did not immediately register in her mind. After all, she wasn't at all close with Ouyang Li.

But then she quickly remembered Nan Chen telling her yesterday that Ouyang Li would be asking a favor from her, and she was to agree to her request. In exchange, she would propose for Ouyang Li to assist her in finding out Ding Fei's background.

“Oh,” Ning Ran responded indifferently.

“You should know the reason I called, right?” Ouyang Li asked.

“No, I don't.”

“Stop putting on an act.”

Ning Ran could not stand her rudeness. You actually have the audacity to speak to me like that when you have a favor to ask?

Hence, she hung up the call.

Ouyang Li called again, but Ning Ran refused to answer.

She only answered when the former called the third time.

“I would like to meet up with you.” Ouyang Li's tone became more courteous.

Though she was furious, she had to swallow her pride because she was the one who needed Ning Ran's help.

“Oh,” Ning Ran replied lazily.

“Could you come to Lily Club then? I'll treat you to a drink.”

“Lily Club?”

“It was formerly known as Orchid Club.”

“I'm not going there,” Ning Ran declined outright.

“Why?”

“I don't like that kind of place. It's full of conspiracies and hypocritical people,” Ning Ran answered without mincing her words.

“Where would you like to meet then?”

“I’ll tell you when I think of one.” Upon saying that, Ning Ran hung up the phone.

At the other end of the line, Ouyang Li was so annoyed that she almost smashed her phone onto the floor.

Ning Ran did not intend to irritate Ouyang Li on purpose. She genuinely hadn’t thought of a suitable venue, but she was against going to Orchid Club as it would be dangerous, given her feud with the Ouyang family.

As for where would be a suitable venue, Ning Ran absolutely had no idea. She decided to ask Nan Chen for his opinion.

She gave Nan Chen a call. He told her to accept Ouyang Li’s proposal of meeting at Orchid Club and bring Qiao Zhan along as protection. That would make Ouyang Li think Ning Ran was a courageous and confident person.

Even if Orchid Club was a beast’s lair, Ning Ran would not be in danger as long as Qiao Zhan was present.

Ning Ran thought about it and felt that what Nan Chen said made sense. The fact that I agreed to meet her at Orchid Club despite knowing the place is the Ouyang family’s territory means I’m confident.

Ouyang Li called again after ten minutes. Ning Ran told her that they would meet at Orchid Club.

Ouyang Li rolled her eyes, thinking that Ning Ran was messing around with her, but she could not do anything about it.

A while later, Ning Ran appeared at Orchid Club together with Qiao Zhan.

Orchid Club had now been renamed as Lily Club and underwent a revamp. It looked more luxurious than before.

Ning Ran took a liking to the new feminocentric renovation style. Most other clubs were designed to appeal to businessmen, for their clientele was mainly men.

It was rare to see a club, such as this one owned by the Ouyang family, specially designed for females.

With the reliable Qiao Zhan behind her, Ning Ran indeed felt much safer.

Further, Qiao Zhan had stationed several men around the club, ensuring that Ning Ran had an immediate escape route should anything happen.

Ouyang Li was already at the entrance to receive Ning Ran. She took a closer look at the latter. Although Ning Ran was a mother of two, she could easily pass off as a freshman who recently entered college with her youthful face and innocent charm.

Some people were favored by the gods, gifted with traits that could only be attained naturally and not through hard work.

Ning Ran's beauty was an example of God's gift. Her face had not been altered in any way and was already so stunning that anyone regardless of gender would stare in awe.

Even Ouyang Qing felt slightly jealous when she first saw Ning Ran, let alone Ouyang Li, who did not have a pretty face to begin with.

Seeing Ning Ran in person, Ouyang Li finally understood what it meant to feel inferior.

She found her fists clenched tightly, and her nails were digging hard into the flesh of her palms.

Suddenly, Ouyang Li felt immense hatred toward the beautiful woman in front of her. She could not exactly pinpoint why she hated her, but one of the reasons was definitely because of her beauty.

Jealousy was a terrifying emotion; it could corrupt a person's mind, especially in the case of an unattractive girl's jealousy toward an alluring woman.

Ning Ran could see the obvious hatred in Ouyang Li's eyes. Her heart skipped a beat. Why is she looking at me like that?

"Go ahead and say what you want. Don't stare at me this way," Ning Ran said coldly.

Hearing that, Ouyang Li temporarily snapped out of her emotions. She forced a smile. "Ms. Ning, you're so pretty. You look better in person compared to in the photos. What would you like to drink?"

"I'll pass," Ning Ran rejected flatly.

"Why? Are you worried that I will spike the drink?" Ouyang Li chuckled.

"Yes," Ning Ran replied without hesitation.

"Don't worry. I won't spike your drink. I'm not Ouyang Qing; I won't do such things," Ouyang Li responded indifferently.

"How can I be sure? Anyway, what is it that you want to say? I'm in a hurry to go back and look after the children, so just cut to the chase."

“You and Nan Chen really have two children?” asked Ouyang Li abruptly.

Ouyang Li herself was taken aback by her own question.

This was none of her business and not part of the planned conversation with Ning Ran.

Why did I ask such a weird question? Ouyang Li was baffled as well.

“What has this got to do with you?” Ning Ran retorted unhappily.

“Nothing. I was just casually asking.”

“I’m warning you. If you so much as lay a finger on my children like Ouyang Qing did, I’ll kill you,” Ning Ran warned with a glacial tone.

“There’s no need for you to dirty your hands, Madam. Whoever dares to harm Little Master and Little Miss, I’ll make sure their whole family is eliminated!” Qiao Zhan bellowed.

Ning Ran glanced at Qiao Zhan with gratitude in her eyes. His words were firm and determined, spoken right from the bottom of his heart.

“I would like to speak with Ms. Ning in private. Can you wait outside for a while?” Ouyang Li glanced at Qiao Zhan.

“No,” answered Qiao Zhan and Ning Ran simultaneously.

“Ms. Ning, isn’t it awkward for a man to stand here and listen to two ladies talking?” Ouyang Li could not understand Ning Ran’s insistence to have Qiao Zhan around.

“He works for me, so he’s allowed to stay here and listen to our conversation. There’s no need to make him leave. If he has to leave, then I’ll leave as well.” said Ning Ran, her tone non-negotiable.

“All right, fine.” Ouyang Li had no choice but to relent.

Then, they both went silent, saying nothing further.

Ouyang Li had hoped to speak with Ning Ran about her predicament at Sunshine Corporation because Qiao Zhan mentioned before that Ning Ran was capable of helping her resolve her problem.

However, after seeing Ning Ran in person, she had second thoughts. Ning Ran was not the iron lady she had envisaged to be. Instead, she looked meek and soft. The only merit she had was her beauty.

She did not think a woman like Ning Ran could help her resolve the issue of her being usurped at Sunshine Corporation.

Should I tell her or not?

Hearing that, Ouyong Li temporarily snipped out of her emotions. She forced a smile. "Ms. Ning, you're so pretty. You look better in person compared to in the photos. What would you like to drink?"

"I'll pass," Ning Ran rejected flatly.

"Why? Are you worried that I will spike the drink?" Ouyong Li chuckled.

"Yes," Ning Ran replied without hesitation.

"Don't worry. I won't spike your drink. I'm not Ouyong Qing; I won't do such things," Ouyong Li responded indifferently.

"How can I be sure? Anyway, what is it that you want to say? I'm in a hurry to go back and look after the children, so just cut to the chase."

"You and Non Chen really have two children?" asked Ouyong Li abruptly.

"There's no need for you to dirty your hands, Madam. Whoever dares to harm Little Master and Little Miss, I'll make sure their whole family is eliminated!" Qiao Zhon bellowed.

Ning Ran glanced at Qiao Zhon with gratitude in her eyes. His words were firm and determined, spoken right from the bottom of his heart.

"I would like to speak with Ms. Ning in private. Can you wait outside for a while?" Ouyong Li glanced at Qiao Zhon.

“No,” answered Qiao Zhan and Ning Ran simultaneously.

Celebrity Girl Is My Wife Chapter 757-Ning Ran stood up. “If you have nothing to say, I’ll be leaving now.”

Ouyang Li quickly stopped her. “I have something to say to you, but I really hope Mr. Qiao can leave the room for a few minutes. He can come back when we’re done talking about this. I think it’s better if there isn’t a man around when two women talk.”

Ning Ran mulled over her words and realized that it would not be a big issue if Qiao Zhan were to stay outside for a while.

It was true that Qiao Zhan’s presence would be striking if Ouyang Li was genuinely going to discuss some womanly secret.

“Please wait for me outside,” Ning Ran said to Qiao Zhan.

“Ms. Ning..”

“Please call me if anything happens. I’ll come in right away.”

“Okay.” Ning Ran inclined her head.

Qiao Zhan then went out and closed the door behind him quietly.

“We can talk now. You’d better get to the point because I don’t actually have much time,” Ning Ran said, glancing at her watch.

“Okay, I’ll cut straight to the chase. My sister, Ouyang Qing, betrayed me in prison. She said that everything she did to you in the past was under my orders. I’m sure you know that we didn’t even know each other before this, and I bear no grudge against you and your children. She’s simply accusing me! However, I know well that I will be suspended from work if I’m involved in a criminal case. Mr. Qiao had said this earlier—that you have a way to deal with this once and for all. Can I know if this is true?”

After Ouyang Li was done saying her piece, she stared at Ning Ran.

Ouyang Li would have believed it better if someone were to tell her that Nan Chen had the capability to resolve the matter.

However, she was skeptical about the capability of the woman before her to resolve the matter.

However, Ning Ran confidently said to her, “Yes, I can do it.”

“How are you going to resolve this?” Ouyang Li asked.

“I can’t tell you how I’m going to do it, but I have one condition if you want me to deal with it for you.”

“Can you really solve this problem?”

“If you don’t believe me, then why did you come to me?” Ning Ran questioned.

“This is Sunshine Corporation’s issue. I simply can’t think of any solution you’ll have to deal with this.”

“I said, you can forget about it if you don’t believe me.”

“Fine, I do. What condition is it?”

Despite her feelings of disbelief, Ouyang Li had no choice but to try her luck. What if Ning Ran really has a way to solve this?

“You have to tell me what kind of relationship you have with Ding Fei. Who is she, and what is her history?” Ning Ran asked.

For a while, Ouyang Li was quiet.

She never expected that to be Ning Ran’s condition.

Frankly, Ouyang Li was not too clear about Ding Fei’s history.

The woman had popped out of nowhere and given her great support that allowed her to hold her ground amidst the company’s chaos.

Ding Fei had never talked about her history, and Ouyang Li never dared to ask her about it.

Once in a while, she would tentatively mention the topic, but Ding Fei would display such revulsion toward it that Ouyang Li would drop the topic quickly in fear of crossing her.

Ding Fei’s identity mattered little to Ouyang Li. All Ouyang Li cared about was how Ding Fei could provide her with financial support.

Moreover, what was most important was that Ding Fei despised Ning Ran, so the two of them shared the same enemy.

That was why Ouyang Li used the simplest way to describe her relationship with Ding Fei—the enemy of an enemy. In other words, Ding Fei was her friend.

Both shared the same goal of destroying Nanshi Corporation and Ning Ran.

However, at present, Ouyang Li had to ask for Ning Ran’s help, and the only way she could get Ning Ran’s assistance was to cooperate with Ning Ran in investigating Ding Fei. Ouyang Li was stumped.

Ning Ran was a smart woman. Without a doubt, she had seen the hesitation in Ouyang Li’s eyes.

“I won’t force you to cooperate with me, and I’m fine if you continue to ally with Ding Fei. Nevertheless, let me warn you: Do not try to hurt my family, or else I’ll show you no mercy,” Ning Ran uttered.

“You’re mistaken. That isn’t what I mean. I just don’t know Ding Fei’s history, or I’ll definitely tell you about her,” Ouyang Li hastily said with a forced smile.

“Tell me what you know, and I’ll look into the details myself.”

“What would you like to know?”

“How did she contact you?”

To avoid missing out on details when she conveyed them to Nan Chen, Ning Ran began recording their conversation.

“I forgot about it. She asked me to invest in a film and have her play the first female lead while choosing popular celebrities as the side characters. She also asked to have you play the second female lead, but you rejected the role. You know about this.”

Ning Ran nodded. “Tell me something I don’t know.”

“I don’t know what you know and what you don’t know.”

“It’s simple. I certainly don’t know how the two of you were planning to kill me,” Ning Ran icily pointed out.

Hearing that, Ouyang Li panicked. “I wasn’t part of that! I had no idea about that at all!”

“About what?” Ning Ran questioned.

Ouyang Li choked on her words.

It was at that moment she realized she had underestimated Ning Ran. Even though Ning Ran looked soft and beautiful, deep down she was a tough soul.

Furthermore, Ouyang Li had rarely come across people who were as sensitive and keen as Ning Ran.

You really can’t judge a book by its cover. I should approach her more carefully from now on.

“I admit that I knew about her wanting to kill you,” Ouyang Li confessed. Then, without missing a beat, she continued, “But I didn’t have a hand in it. I really didn’t! She said you’ll be burned to death, but I had no idea as to how she was going to execute that.”

Ning Ran was livid every time she thought about that matter.

“It’s fine even if you admit that you were involved. You want me dead anyway.”

“No, I don’t bear a grudge against you. At the very least, not before this.”

“That means you bear a grudge against me after this. Did I cross you?” Ning Ran remarked.

Again, Ouyang Li was at a loss for words.

“No, no, I bear no grudge against you. I can work with you as long as you resolve my crisis and ensure the Ouyang family’s place in society.”

Ning Ran was sharp, so Ouyang Li had to be careful with the words she chose.

“Sure. Has Ding Fei ever said what grudge she bears against me?”

“No.”

That was the truth—Ding Fei did not tell her about it.

“Okay. Then why did Ding Fei want to produce the film?” Ning Ran went on.

“I’m not too sure about that too, but I know for sure what she’s going to do next.”

“What is she going to do?”

“She’s going to produce a film with a similar plot to yours. Then, she’ll screen her film before yours. If you schedule your film to be screened in July, they’ll be screening theirs in June. If you schedule it in June, they’ll do it in May. In other words, they’re planning to be faster than you by a month.”

Ning Ran believed that, and she knew why Ding Fei was doing that.

Between the two similar films, the one that screened later would certainly flop. In fact, people might even say that the later film was plagiarizing the first.

Even if Ning Ran’s film was good, it would still suffer a huge backlash.

Therefore, not only was Ding Fei targeting Ning Ran, but she was also targeting Star Entertainment and Nan Chen.

“Anything else?”

“Nothing for now. I’ll inform you right away if I find out about anything else.”

“Okay.”

“About what?” Ning Ran questioned.

Ouyang Li choked on her words.

It was at that moment she realized she had underestimated Ning Ran. Even though Ning Ran looked soft and beautiful, deep down she was a tough soul.

Furthermore, Ouyong Li had rarely come across people who were as sensitive and keen as Ning Ron.

You really can't judge a book by its cover. I should approach her more carefully from now on.

Celebrity Girl Is My Wife Chapter 758-By the time Ning Ran returned to Raining Pavilion, she was surprised to see Nan Chen back. He was sitting on the couch in the living room, solemnly talking about something.

The two children were in small chairs as they sat opposite Nan Chen and listened to him.

The moment Ning Ran came back, Erbao hopped off the chair and hugged Ning Ran's leg. "Mommy..."

The girl sounded distressed, and Ning Ran could not help but wonder what Nan Chen had said to them.

"What did you do? Why is the girl so frightened?" Ning Ran questioned angrily.

"I didn't do anything," Nan Chen responded with an innocent look.

"Then why is she so upset?"

"I was telling the kids how to save themselves if their parents were kidnapped by bad guys," Nan Chen somberly explained.

"Why are you talking about this? Look at how you've frightened Erbao. It's okay, Darling, Daddy's only talking about the 'what if's," Ning Ran reassured as she lifted the girl into her arms.

"Daddy's right. It's good for us to learn how to save ourselves. That way, we'll have a higher chance of escaping if we encounter bad guys. I think it's necessary for us to be taught this. Daddy's only talking about a possibility, but Erbao's already scared out of her wits. All the more reason why Daddy should teach us about this,” Dabao uttered, showing his support for Nan Chen’s actions.

At that, Nan Chen turned to Ning Ran and gave her a look. “Look, even your son’s more reasonable than you.”

“How are children as young as them going to save themselves? They’re still young, and the adults should be protecting them. What we need to do is to ensure that they won’t be kidnapped in the first place—not teach them how to save themselves after they’re kidnapped!” Ning Ran disagreed.

“Of course we have to protect them to the best of our ability, but that doesn’t mean accidents won’t happen. That’s why it’s necessary for us to teach them about ensuring their own safety. It’s just like fire and earthquake drills. They might not ever encounter one in their lives, but they should know the necessary information for them to stay safe. That way, they’ll have a higher chance to stay unscathed.”

Nan Chen was not going to back down. He felt that he was right and that even his son knew why he was teaching them these. As a matter of fact, he found it absurd that Ning Ran did not agree with him.

“All right, that’s enough, Mommy. Daddy’s right. He just wants us to be more capable and be able to protect ourselves.” Even Erbao was siding with Nan Chen now.

At that, Ning Ran thought; You little traitor, you’re changing sides so quickly!

“Okay, this is the end of the argument. Continue what you were doing earlier. I’m going to pack my bag now. I’ll be going back to filming tomorrow,” Ning Ran then said.

“You don’t need to rush back tomorrow. I promised to bring the kids to Commoner Residence to eat with their great-grandma.”

“But I promised the director that I’ll go back tomorrow...”

“I’ve already talked to the director, and they said they’ll be filming another scene first. Stay for another day or two before leaving. Once you go to the filming site, you’ll stay there until you’re done with your scenes,” Nan Chen said.

“...”

“All right, it’s settled then.”

“But there’s no one at Livingsfill’s inn right now. My goldfish hasn’t had a change of water for days. If I don’t do it soon, they’re going to die,” Erbao chimed in.

"I'll call Ms. Lu and ask her to make a trip to the inn to change the water for you. I'll also ask her to hang my filming attires out to dry," said Ning Ran.

"All right. Also, ask Ms. Lu to bring Lu Yunxue there. She knows how to feed my goldfish. If the fish eats too much, it's going to die," Erbao continued.

"Okay, okay. I'll make arrangements for your stuff, all right?"

Erbao pouted. "It's important!"

"Yes, of course. My dear daughter's matters are always important matters. How could they not be? Ms. Ning, please mind your words!" Nan Chen solemnly uttered.

Ning Ran froze.

Are they really ganging up against me? Oh well, who cares? Time for a shower.

After showering and changing, Ning Ran came back out to find the two children watching cartoons. Meanwhile, Nan Chen had gone to the study room to work.

Ning Ran then brew some coffee and brought it to the study room for Nan Chen.

Brewing coffee was a skill Nan Chen had taught her when they were at Livingsfill.

Back then, Ning Ran thought that Nan Chen was sweet to have taught her how to brew coffee. Later on, she realized he was only teaching her so that she could brew coffee for him when he was too busy to do it himself. Otherwise, he would have to resort to drinking instant coffee.

Nan Chen then took the coffee cup from her before taking a whiff of its scent. "You're improving, but you haven't mastered it yet."

Promptly, Ning Ran reached out her hand to snatch the coffee cup back. "Give it back to me if you don't want to drink it."

Nan Chen quickly blocked her hand. "When did I say I wasn't going to drink it? I'm only saying that you have room for improvement; I wasn't saying that it was bad. You met with Ouyang Li today, right? What did she say?"

"Nothing much. She doesn't know where Ding Fei came from either. Ding Fei appeared out of nowhere and provided her with great financial support. But, of course, the money was something Ouyang Li will need to return. Also, Ding Fei invested in a film under Ouyang Li's name and wanted to play the first female lead. Apparently, she wants to screen her film before ours. Her film is similar to ours, and if they screen it first, our film's reception will certainly be affected. I'm sure you know that."

Nan Chen bobbed his head a little after hearing Ning Ran's words. "It's about the same as what I've speculated. Is there anything else? Did she admit to working together with Ding Fei to harm you?"

"No. I think she really wasn't involved with the plan. She has a lot of things to deal with in Flower City, and I doubt she has the time and energy to be part of it. However, she did admit to knowing that Ding Fei wanted to harm me. Of course, she didn't have the obligation to warn me about it, but that's understandable."

"Right. To Ouyang Li, the enemy of her enemy is a friend. That's not difficult to comprehend."

"That's all we talked about, but I'm guessing that there's someone else behind Ding Fei. Ouyang Li assumes so as well."

"So, does Ding Fei actually have a grudge against us, or is it the one behind her? Perhaps both bear a grudge against us," Nan Chen suggested.

"I won't be surprised if there's someone else behind her, but as to whether or not that person bears a grudge against us, I have no idea. If we're talking about Ding Fei alone, I think I can say for sure that she hates me. That's something obvious from the look she has when I'm around. She feels like a stranger, but I find her a little familiar. Do you feel that too? Is it possible that she's someone we know? Perhaps an old acquaintance?" Ning Ran said, voicing her guesses out loud.

"That's possible."

"So why can't we recognize who she is?" Ning Ran wondered.

"What do you think?"

"She changed her appearance?"

"There you go. And you say you didn't know anything about this. I, too, think that she changed her appearance. It's nothing difficult for someone to change their looks with how advanced plastic surgery is now. Celebrities would be a good example. They look so different after surgery."

Ning Ran nodded in agreement. "So, chances are, Ding Fei is someone who has changed her looks. But who is she?"

"There aren't many people that both of us know at the same time, let alone those who bear a grudge against us," Nan Chen remarked.

"Could it be her?"

Nan Chen shook his head. "I'm not sure. I don't have any evidence right now, and evidence is what we need to prove our suspicions. Regardless of who she is and who the one behind her is, she wants to kill you, and that makes her our enemy. I can't let her do as she pleases anymore. I won't let her ruin anything anymore."

Non Chen bobbed his head a little after hearing Ning Ron's words. "It's about the same as what I've speculated. Is there anything else? Did she admit to working together with Ding Fei to harm you?"

"No. I think she really wasn't involved with the plan. She has a lot of things to deal with in Flower City, and I doubt she has the time and energy to be part of it. Non Chen shook his head. “I’m not sure. I don’t have any evidence right now, and evidence is what we need to prove our suspicions. Celebrity Girl Is My Wife Chapter 759-While Nan Chen and Ning Ran were discussing Ding Fei, she was meeting with Ouyang Li at Orchid Club.

Ouyang Li explained that the reason she met Ning Ran was that she wanted to seek Nan Chen’s backing to stabilize her position within Sunshine Corporation.

However, Ding Fei wasn’t buying any of it. “Do you think just because you have a new patron you can cast me aside and stop relying on me? In that case, I’ll have you destroyed!”

Ouyang Li was also livid. Despite all that she had said, Ding Fei just refused to believe her.

“If they succeed in removing me from my position as CEO, I would no longer be able to secure my own interest, let alone yours. It will become a lose-lose situation for both of us. Furthermore, the Nan family is responsible for my father’s death. There’s no way I would really join them.”

“I don’t want to hear any of your excuses. I think that Ning Ran has begun to suspect me. Therefore, I have to send her to meet her maker before she finds out who I am!” Ding Fei snapped.

“What in the world happened between the two of you?” Ouyang Li probed.

Ding Fei asked warily, “How is that any of your business? Why are you asking about it?”

“Oh, it’s nothing. Nothing at all,” Ouyang Li replied sheepishly.

“Don’t tell me you’ve come to an agreement with her. Are the both of you ganging up against me?” Ding Fei snarled.

“Of course not! If that was the case, would I have told you about our meeting?”

“You had better not have anything hidden up your sleeve. Otherwise, I’ll show you no mercy!” Ding Fei threatened, upsetting Ouyang Li.

This woman doesn’t respect me at all. All she does is scare me constantly. Does she think I’m a nobody? I’m the acting CEO of Sunshine Corporation and the eldest daughter of the Ouyang family. How can I allow myself to be ordered around by some weird, mysterious woman?

Given that the ruthless Ouyang Li was no pushover, she endeavored to annihilate Ding Fei when the opportunity arose.

“Now, go ask your spy when Ning Ran will be heading back to Livingsfill for work,” Ding Fei instructed Ouyang Li.

“I’m aware that you’re concerned about this. Hence, I’ve already gotten you your answer. She is flying back tomorrow and will start work the day after.”

“Are you certain? Is Nan Chen going with her?”

“I’m not too sure about that. Probably not, as he’s very busy. It’s unlikely that he’ll go with her.”

At the mention of Nan Chen, his handsome face was conjured up in Ouyang Li’s mind, causing her heartbeat to race.

However, the contemptuous look Nan Chen gave her soon emerged in her mind. As she felt a squeeze in her heart, rage and hatred began to well up inside her.

“What’s wrong with you?” Ding Fei could sense how unsettled Ouyang Li was.

The latter quickly regained her composure. “Oh, it’s nothing.”

“Just you wait. Something big is going to happen to the Nan family very soon,” said Ding Fei, sneering insidiously.

“What do you mean? What are you planning?”

“You don’t have to concern yourself with that. All you need to do is sit tight and wait. Anyway, I’m going off now. You must not tell anyone else about what I’ve told you. Otherwise, it will be the death of you and your entire family!” Ding Fei warned as she got to her feet.

“Don’t worry. My lips are sealed,” Ouyang Li reassured her.

After Ding Fei was gone, Ouyang Li gave Ning Ran a call right away, informing her about their meeting and that something huge was about to happen.

Before the call, Nan Chen and Ning Ran were already sleeping. However, after the call ended, Ning Ran was too restless to go back to sleep.

Hence, Nan Chen sat up to accompany her. "What happened?"

"Ding Fei met with Ouyang Li and told her that something major is about to happen!" Ning Ran replied nervously.

"Is that what's worrying you?"

"Yes. Whatever she has planned, I'm definitely the target. She has made destroying me her life mission!"

"But you're fine right now, aren't you?"

"I..."

"Don't worry. Life itself is unpredictable. We can only take on something as it comes. There's no need to worry unnecessarily. Anyway, it's already late. You should go back to sleep," Nan Chen comforted her.

"It's not me that I'm worried about. It's the children. I can't let anything happen to them."

"Don't worry. I'll get Qiao Zhan to stay close to them. That way, their safety would be secured."

Ning Ran's concerns were eased by Nan Chen's reassurances.

Meanwhile, Ding Fei turned on the computer and chatted with a man over video the moment she got home.

"Nan Chen is currently in Flower City, while Ning Ran will be going back to Livingsfill tomorrow. She'll be staying at Mountview Inn with her twins. Once you infiltrate the inn, you must capture all three of them," Ding Fei ordered.

"Does the boss know about this?" the man asked.

"Have you forgotten the boss' instruction? He told you not to contact him unless necessary. In China, you'll be taking orders from me, so don't you dare challenge my authority!" Ding Fei barked.

Frightened by her threat, the man didn't dare question any further.

Their boss had demanded absolute obedience from them. Those who disobeyed him would suffer a fate worse than death when he carved them open with his scalpel.

In fact, the mere thought of their boss fiddling with his sharp scalpel was enough to send a chill down their spines.

“Do you remember what I just told you?” Ding Fei asked again.

“Yes. Kidnap the beautiful young woman and her twins from Mountview Inn,” the man repeated.

“As long as you have the twins, Nan Chen would pay you any amount you demand! After all, tens of millions are considered peanuts to him. You can provide him with an offshore account and tell him to transfer the money there. By doing so, the China police won’t be able to do anything to you!”

Ding Fei employed the carrot-and-stick approach.

“Can we really ask Nan Chen for money?” The man was delighted by what he heard.

“Of course. In fact, I won’t tell the boss about it. You can share the ransom among yourselves and live out the rest of your lives in luxury, without the need to shed another drop of blood!” Ding Fei encouraged him.

“Sounds great!” The man was ecstatic.

“However, for that to happen, you must succeed in kidnapping the woman and the twins. If they resist, you can just kill them.” A vicious glint flashed across Ding Fei’s eyes.

“I prefer to take them overseas where we can demand a ransom from Nan Chen whenever we’re short of cash.”

Greed had taken over the man as he planned to extort the Nan family for the long term.

“I’ll let you decide what you want to do. All I care about is making that despicable woman and her two b*stards disappear from Nan Chen’s life. Also, I want them to suffer a fate worse than death!” Ding Fei declared.

However, the man began to have doubts. “Do you really not want to tell the boss about it? Given how big the operation is, he might not necessarily agree with it.”

“Do my words not carry enough weight? The boss ordered you to obey me. Are you refusing to do so now? Just go ahead and execute the mission. I’ll bear all the consequences that result from it. As for the boss, I’ll talk to him, so there’s nothing for you to worry about.”

Celebrity Girl Is My Wife Chapter 760-The next evening, Lu Jingyuan drove to Mountview Inn with her two children after having dinner.

Ning Ran had called her the day before, informing her of the change in plans where the former would only return to Livingfill two days later.

As Erbao's goldfish needed to be fed and have its water changed, Ning Ran requested Lu Jingyuan's help to do so.

Although they could've ordered the inn's staff to do it, Erbao insisted that only Lu Yunxue knew how to feed her fish.

Therefore, Lu Jingyuan happily obliged as it had been some time since she last returned to the inn.

When Lu Yunxue learned that Erbao had tasked her to feed the goldfish, she was pretty excited because she felt important.

Sitting in the child seat at the back, she continued to fidget restlessly. "Mommy, when is Erbao and Ms. Ning coming back?"

"They didn't say. Probably within the next few days. Also, you shouldn't cling to Erbao all the time. She's just here with her mommy because her mommy needs to work. Once they're done, they would leave and won't be staying in Livingfill permanently."

Lu Yunxue was visibly upset upon hearing her mother's words.

Given that she and Erbao were best friends, it was difficult for her to accept the latter's inevitable departure.

"What's wrong? Are you reluctant to see her leave? Don't tell me you want her to stay in Flower City with you," Lu Jingyuan teased.

"I don't want to be away from Erbao," Lu Yunxue murmured with a pout.

“There’s nothing we can do about it. You’ll understand once you grow up. Regardless of how close you are with your friends and relatives, you’ll have to go your separate ways in the end.” Lu Jingyuan let out a sigh.

“But, I’m not grown up yet. I don’t want to be separated from my best friend,” Lu Yunxue retorted.

“In that case, what do you want?”

“I want to stay in the same city as Erbao. We will go to the same school, become classmates, and grow up together. By the time we’re adults, it will be fine for us to go our separate ways.” Lu Yunxue revealed her thoughts about the matter.

Lu Jingyuan turned toward Lu Yunbing. “What do you think?”

The latter maintained an icy expression. “I’m not that childish.”

Despite what she said, she, too, thought it would be great if they could be schoolmates with Dabao and Erbao.

“Look at how much more mature your sister is. The only thing you care about is having fun,” Lu Jingyuan reprimanded her younger daughter.

“She’s lying. She doesn’t like living here too and wants to have friends to play with. In fact, she loves playing with Dabao even more.” Lu Yunxue exposed her sister’s feelings.

“Nonsense. Unlike you, I don’t think about playing every day!” Lu Yunbing denied her twin’s claim.

“I don’t think about playing all the time too. I just need a friend. People without friends are really pitiful!” Lu Yunxue began to argue with her sister.

“I’m someone independent. Not having friends doesn’t matter to me.”

“You’re lying!”

As her daughters were engrossed in a heated argument, Lu Jingyuan quickly put an end to it. “Okay, that’s enough! Stop arguing!”

Being obedient children, both girls fell silent at once. They then gave each other the cold shoulder by looking away, puffing their cheeks with displeasure.

Amidst the quietness in the car, they soon arrived at the entrance of Mountview Inn.

Lu Jingyuan alighted from the car and opened the back car door, unbuckled the children’s safety belts, and reminded them to be careful while getting down.

Ever since Ning Ran rented the inn long term, the staff no longer lived there. They would only come during the day to tidy up and maintain the grounds.

As a result, there was no one around and the inn was extremely quiet when they arrived.

Lu Jingyuan proceeded to open the door with her key and turn on the lights.

Once she found the fish bowl and saw its murky water, she knew it was due for a change.

After that, Lu Yunxue found the fish food and began feeding the goldfish.

She did it meticulously, for it was a responsibility assigned to her by her best friend, Erbao.

Meanwhile, Lu Jingyuan made herself some black tea and sat in the yard, sipping it slowly.

Once the tea was finished and the fish was fed, it was time for them to go back.

When Lu Jingyuan wanted to give Ning Ran a call to inform the latter that they had completed the task, she realized that she had left her phone at home.

“Let’s go, Yunxue. We’ll call Erbao when we’re home to inform her that the fish has been fed and that there’s no need for her to worry anymore.”

“All right, Mommy. Let’s go. When Erbao and Dabao come back, we’ll come back here to play with them, okay?”

“Sure,” Lu Jingyuan readily agreed.

As she opened the door to lead her daughters out, she was greeted by the sight of a group of men trying to barge in.

When she saw how well-built they were, she assumed they were Qiao Zhan’s men.
“What are you doing here?”

Nonetheless, the men exchanged silent glances with each other.

A pretty girl with a pair of twins. They fit the description entirely.

The next second, their leader dashed into the inn and grabbed Lu Jingyuan by her throat.

“Mommy—” Before the children could scream, their mouths were quickly covered.

Unable to resist in any way, Lu Jingyuan and her children were loaded into a white MPV.

It quickly dawned upon her that they were being kidnapped.

With duct tape plastered across her mouth, she was unable to say a word at all.

Both her daughters were also restrained and thrown to her side.

Lu Jingyuan had no means nor the courage to resist, for she was worried that the kidnappers would harm her children if she angered them.

If money was what they wanted, she believed her family would take care of it.

With that thought in mind, she quickly got a grip on herself and stopped struggling. Thereafter, she tried to reassure her girls with a calm yet resolute look in her eyes.

It was three in the morning when Nan Chen's work phone began to vibrate.

Despite being awoken by it, he was too sleepy to answer.

Nonetheless, the phone rang incessantly, with the caller ID showing a Livingfill number.

Finally, Nan Chen picked up but didn't say a word.

"Is this Nan Chen? Your wife and children are in my hands. I want ten million!"

Even though the voice was heavily accented, Nan Chen could still discern the caller's intention.

However, he continued to keep mum. My wife is sleeping by my side, whereas my children are in the room next to us. And yet, you claim that you have them? What sort of sick joke is this? Are you nuts?

"Hey, are you listening? If you don't pay up, we will chop off your children's fingers! The two children have twenty fingers in total, and we'll mail them to you one by one. You had better pay up since ten million is nothing to you!" the person bellowed.

Judging from the rattling noise in the background, Nan Chen figured that the caller was in a noisy, worn-down car.

He could also tell that it wasn't a prank and neither was the person lying.

After all, no one would pull such a prank in the middle of the night. Even if they did, they wouldn't be calling from outside.

“Send me their pictures. I want to verify that they’re alive,” Nan Chen replied.

“Fine. I will. Wait a moment.” The man on the other end of the line ended the call.

By then, Ning Ran was already awake and was staring at Nan Chen sleepily. “Who was it? What happened?”

It was three in the morning when Non Chen’s work phone began to vibrate.

Despite being woken by it, he was too sleepy to answer.

Nonetheless, the phone rang incessantly, with the caller ID showing a Livingfill number.

Finally, Non Chen picked up but didn’t say a word.

“Is this Non Chen? Your wife and children are in my hands. I want ten million!”

Even though the voice was heavily accented, Non Chen could still discern the caller’s intention.

However, he continued to keep mum. My wife is sleeping by my side, whereas my children are in the room next to us. And yet, you claim that you have them? What sort of sick joke is this? Are you nuts?

By then, Ning Ron was already awake and was staring at Non Chen sleepily. "Who was it? What happened?"
