

CEO Bride 124

Chapter 124

“Me?”

“I’ve been in ten relationships!”

Hera said playfully.

Nash showed a faint smile. “I almost believed you... A woman who’s been in ten relationships wouldn’t have trembled when sleeping with a man!”

Recalling the scene of sleeping in the same bed with Nash the night before, Hera’s face blushed.

At that moment, her phone rang.

It was Lauren calling.

“Hera, how’s the implementation of the recruitment plan at the branch?”

“I’ve just approved it. We can start large-scale recruitment tomorrow!”

“Good. Drake Group has already prepaid a deposit of 1.5 billion. We need to increase production as soon as possible!”

“I got it already. How’s Dad’s injury?” Hera asked with concern.

“It’s just a superficial wound. You don’t need to worry!”

“By the

In the evening, just before the end of the workday, Nash received a delivery.

It was a black membership card from Chateau Hotel.

The cardholder's name, Nash Calcraft, was cast in pure gold.

Was it not supposed to be a diamond card?

What was this black card?

Nash felt a sense of doubt but did not think much of it and just put the card in his pocket.

Looking at the time, it was almost time to get off work soon.

Nash did not feel like going back to his office, so he just drove Hera's Maserati to the door to wait for her to get off work.

With this spare time, Nash got out of the car and lit a cigarette. At the same time, he took out his phone to call Skadi.

"Nash... why are you calling me?"

"Tomorrow is Hera's birthday, and I want..."

"Didn't Hera postpone her birthday?"

"My girlfriend's birthday can't be postponed!"

"So what do you want to do?"

Nash had just hung up when he saw Hera laughing and chatting with a few managers as they walked out.
