

CEO Bride 133

Chapter 133

Meanwhile, in the hands of the Watsons and the Duersons, all it took was one boxing match.

Helena could not let Kai miss out on earning four billion for her sake.

Kai looked grim and said, "If Nash and the others want to see Bianca win, I can't fulfill their wishes... I can't take action against them, but I can use money to play them to death!"

Hearing this, Duncan's expression changed drastically, "Kai... this is four billion we're talking about!"

Kai said nonchalantly, "No amount of money can buy a good mood!"

Duncan quickly thought of a solution that would make everyone happy. A cunning smile appeared at the corner of his mouth. "Kai, I've thought of a solution..."

As the time for the match approached, a host dressed in a tailcoat walked onto the stage, followed by a sexy blonde bombshell holding a tray. On it was a crown worth 700 grand.

"Welcome, everyone, to the Dragon Might Boxing Center. This is the national women's boxing Phoenix Crown Championship sponsored exclusively by the Watsons! After the previous rounds of advancement and elimination, Bianca, the boxer from Drakonio, Jonford Club, has fought her way to the finals with nine consecutive victories! The dark horse Bianca will challenge the reigning champion Black Widow! The final winner will receive the ninth Phoenix Crown from the Dragon Might Boxing Center plus a cash prize of 500 grand!"

Under the spotlight, the crown sparkled, and the diamonds on it emitted brilliant light.

The boxing champion was just a tool for capitalists to make money.

Below the stage, Bianca and her coach bumped fists. Then, she jumped onto the platform with her long, slender legs.

The spotlight was all on Bianca.

Her fair skin looked soft as jade, and her exposed waist did not have an ounce of fat.

As Bianca stepped onto the stage, the applause and shouts from the audience grew even more intense.

"And now, please welcome the consecutive three-time winner of the Phoenix Crown from the Dragon
