

CEO Bride 135

Chapter 135

Skadi and her companions had already come down from the second floor to the first.

As the staff were blocking the way, they could not go up to console Bianca.

The coach, somewhat displeased, said, "Bianca, you have to be on guard. You gave Black Widow an opportunity by continuously attacking!"

Bianca took a sip of mineral water, then nodded.

She had indeed been too careless earlier. She knew she should not have been off guard against Black Widow.

However, in the first round, she wanted to familiarize herself as much as possible with Black Widow's power and speed.

Although she had watched many of Black Widow's boxing videos and had conducted a lot of training based on those videos, training was, after all, just training.

When it came time to execute, she had to get a feel for Black Widow's speed and strength herself.

The coach continued, "In the next round, focus on defense. Drain her energy first, and then find another opportunity when the time is almost up..."

Bianca kept nodding.

She had taken the initiative in the first round and had consumed a lot of energy, so she had to conserve energy in the second round.

The referee blew the whistle.

Bianca pushed herself back and stood straight up with the help of the elastic of the rope.

two of them came to the center of the ring

Bianca and punches to test the waters, while Bianca went all out managed to block all three thrown, one straight

a row, all of them were either dodged or blocked by fist and roared, "That's Widow's eyes flashed with a hint of coldness as she continued her aggressive attacks.

a while, Bianca's fair arms were flushed from the blows.

getting hit. Why isn't she Nash's sleeve tightly. "Bianca the King of Fighters, Dark Lord. She do

the information on the phone since we got off were cheering for Bianca at the railing, I checked some information about Black just an excuse Nash had come up Black Widow and the Dark Lord from the church abroad, he was severely and took refuge in a down-and-out boxer's help him deal with his pursuers, but he up, he learned that this boxer had been earning money to help the poor in the slums through illegal boxing.

At the time, it was the height of the Dark Lord's career.

Anyone who stepped into the ring with him did not stand a chance.

It was a battle to the death!

In the World King of Fighters Championship, only those with a Golden Belt could participate.

The final winner would be the King of Fighters.

The down-and-out boxer's dream was to compete in the World Championship.

At that time, Nash was already a stage nine grandmaster, and he naturally had no interest in boxing, which was a form of combat sport.

In order to help the down-and-out boxer realize his dream, he used his unique talents to watch a large number of UFC match videos and various fighting techniques.

Later, he practiced boxing with the down-and-out boxer and studied boxing techniques with him.

Half a year later, the down-and-out boxer began to fight in regular matches.

Within three months, he had made it to the World Championship.

Nash became this down-and-out boxer's agent and coach.

Then, to avoid being found by his enemies, he had to change his appearance using a disguise technique and use the alias McNash for each of the down-and-out boxer's matches.

At the end of that year, the down-and-out boxer won the Golden Belt.

