

CEO Bride 138

Chapter 138

The coach looked toward the ring as well. A moment passed, and he sneered before saying, "I taught Bianca a tactic. Defend first and then attack. It's not wise to waste energy before finding an opening."

"Your tactic is for them to wait and get beaten? If Black Widow goes all out, Bianca won't be able to fight the third round at all!" Nash's expression may be blank, but his words dripped with sarcasm.

The coach shook his head and scoffed. "I can't believe I actually went dumb and talked to an idiot."

"I have to correct you there. You're indeed dumb, but I'm not stupid," Nash responded blankly.

The coach was too lazy to continue talking to this guy who was calling himself McNash. He was trying to show off even when he had no skills.

The third round ended with Bianca not even scoring one point while Black Widow had reached 32 points in total. She scored 19 points in just one round.

Bianca had also been beaten until her nose was bruised and her face swollen.

The referee came over and started speaking in a foreign language. He was probably trying to ask if she could still continue.

heavily duty, and they immediately stepped forward to check Bianca's physical condition. They then six rounds for this match. There'll be a 30-minute intermission. So, after 30 minutes, we'll have another three rounds for Bianca nodded again.

to Black Widow and announced to her that it was break time while the host went to the ring to replay the first three

Bianca and others back towel and applied it

sat down on a chair

clenched her fists and looked at Hera with some embarrassment. This man was Hera's boyfriend, after was somewhat embarrassing for someone else's boyfriend to give her a massage.

much. "It's okay, Bianca. He has a really good massage technique. Not only can it holistic medicine. Pulse-taking and dry-needling were part of that there would be skin-on-skin contact especially when the patient was a woman. She could not be jealous of something like this or it would make her a very narrow-minded person.

with his inner energy and gradually, the easy on you the first three rounds. If

When the coach heard Nash bring this topic up again, he immediately reprimanded him, "Kid, I've tolerated you long enough. Stop trying to delude people with your lies!"

Skadi frowned. "Can you shut up?"

He dared yell at Nash even though he was just a small boxing coach. Who did he think he was?

The coach wanted to say something else, but Bianca interjected, "Coach Grande, let him speak."

She only started learning about Black Widow's fighting power in the third round, so what Nash said was not untrue at all. Black Widow did really go easy on her in the first two rounds.

Coach Grande was furious. "This kid doesn't know shit. What's the use of listening to his nonsense?"

Saying that, he immediately took off his coaching ID and threw it onto the table. "I resign. Don't come looking for me in the future."

Bianca had hired him using a lot of money. He would threaten her with his resignation every time he felt like he was wronged.

Sure enough, Bianca's expression shifted when she saw what he did.