

CEO Bride 140

Chapter 140

Mike Thorson, the world-class King of Fighters.

For four consecutive years, he was undefeated, securing numerous championship belts and awards with overwhelming success. His endorsement fee for advertisements also ran up in billions.

He then entered the entertainment industry two years ago and made it to Hollywood where he won an Academy Award and was selected to be one of the most influential actors in Hollywood by the judges for two consecutive years.

Mike's achievements today were inseparable from his personal trainer, McNash.

Skadi found it hard to believe when Nash said he was McNash.

"It doesn't matter if he's McNash or not. If he says he is, then I believe him."

Hera nodded resolutely. She did not believe that Nash would lie to her. There was no need for him to do so either. He would still be her fiance even if he did not have all these titles.

Skadi felt Hera's forehead. "Hera, did Nash brainwash you or something? McNash is almost 80 years old. We don't even know if he's still alive or not. Besides, how old was Nash four or five years ago?"

She really could not connect Nash with McNash.

"Then, do you believe him?" Hera asked with a smile.

"I-I should!"

He was too fast!

Nash’s right hand was moving so fast that she was seeing double. Only then did Bianca realize that Nash was no ordinary person and that he was a martial arts expert who was countless times stronger than Skadi.

“Don’t look at me! Look at the focus pad!”

Nash punched Bianca on the head with his left hand.

Bianca covered her head with both hands but was still pushed back by Nash.

Skadi muttered under her breath, “That dog. He doesn’t know how to appreciate women at all.”

Although Bianca was a boxer, she was still a virgin who had never even had a boyfriend! 1

Hera rolled her eyes at Skadi. “He’s only training her temporarily. Of course, Nash has to increase the difficulty.”

“Tsk, you’re not even married yet. Why are you speaking up for him?”

Skadi then looked at Bianca with a distressed expression. “You’re not wrong, though.

Bianca went back to her original position and continued punching the focus pad.
