

CEO Bride 148

Chapter 148

After Bianca said that, she left the place quickly.

If Miss Queenie's family was not going to give consideration to Nash, then she would not give them any consideration either.

Queenie was stunned as she watched Bianca leave.

Nash... was Bianca's coach?

Was he not a doctor?

He did not dedicate himself solely to medical skills but went on to teach others boxing instead...

He also managed to coach such a powerful boxer?

Nash drove the Maserati and took Skadi and Hera to the playground.

Skadi and Hera had a great time. Like a parent, Nash helped them carry their unfinished snacks. He suddenly felt as if he was the third wheeler.

At noon, they had a casual lunch and then went to the cinema.

When they were at the entrance of the cinema, Skadi saw groups of young couples and said with a smile, "I'll skip out on the movie. I need to go see Bianca!"

Displeased, Hera huffed. "We already bought the tickets. Why did you suddenly change your mind?" of them toward the ticket gate.

For three years, Mike had no rivals in prison.

After he was released from prison, he found a boxing coach at the address the prison boss had passed to him.

From then on, the boxing coach began training him to make him a local street boxing champion.

However, the coach took away all the money Mike had earned in the end and fabricated countless incriminating evidence to discredit Mike.

The street boxing champion thus became a despised existence that everyone spat on.

Hera was deeply affected when she watched this. "What a disgusting coach. Taking his money away is one thing, but smearing his reputation as well." Hera fumed.

Nash sighed. "You can't trust anyone easily when interests are involved."

Hera nodded and continued watching the movie.

Mike met a woman in the underground boxing center.

The two began a passionate love affair.

On the screen, Mike looked rough and had scary tattoos all over his body, but he would do anything for his girlfriend.

Distracted by his relationship, his performance in the ring was not adequate.

In order to make money, the brokerage company secretly hired a group of desperadoes to capture his girlfriend.
