

CEO Bride 182

Chapter 182

"Dad..."

Harrison and Lauren immediately ran to the bed. Hubert and his family did the same.

After a moment, cries and wails sounded from the ward.

In an enormous luxurious private estate in Capiton that was comparable to ten ordinary communities, the tallest villa there was nine stories high.

The sky was bright. A thin figure wearing a smiling mask jumped directly from the ground to the balcony on the ninth floor.

The old man with silver hair lying on the luxurious big bed in the bedroom suddenly opened his eyes.

The man with the smiling mask sat on a chair in the bedroom, his deep pupils locked on the old man who was looking at him.

The old man frowned slightly. "Smiling Grim Reaper?"

"You went too far in Jonford!" The man's voice was dull but unusually clear with a faint hint of anger.

not your place to intervene in appearing in front of the old man in the blink of an

the masked man replied, "If you continue dagger on his neck through the periphery of his vision and slowly inhaled before he said, "Herman is already dead. We won't lay another hand on the he heard this. Then, his figure disappeared out the window middle-aged men in traditional suits instantly appeared in the old man's to the window but only managed to catch the Smiling Grim Reaper's figure hundreds you alright?"

on his boxy face went before the old man's window.

his neck and looked at the bright red blood on his skin as he replied, "I'm fine."

man with a boxy face frowned and said, "Who was that person just now? They lightly, "That's the Smiling frowned. "What is he laughed. "He wants us to Smiling Grim Reaper. Just who does he his face. "He almost killed me right under your nose and still you look down

The man's expression fell as he immediately lowered his head. "We were ineffective in our protection. Uncle, please punish us!"

"Forget it. Just train with peace of mind and strive to help your ancestors break Johnathan's seal as soon as possible," the old man said while waving his hand.

The man with a square face asked again, "Then what about the Lewis family?"

The old man smiled and answered, "Herman is already dead. There's no one who knows about the Young family's secret anymore."

Hearing that, the man with the square face showed a dark expression. "Recently, a young man with incredible medical skills appeared in Jonford. He seems to be a student of Johnathan Calcraft. Should we send someone to kill him?"

The old man shook his head. "Johnathan may have ascended, but there's still Francis, who possesses terrifying strength. If we lay a hand on Johnathan's little apprentice, Francis will definitely not stop until he destroys us.

Gritting his teeth, the man with the square face replied, "Are we to let him grow, kid will become a terrifying existence like Francis in a few years!"

then? The

The old man glanced at the man. "Francis is the Smiling Grim Reaper. He's able to enter the empty Klein family's residence and kill me easily. Do you think I can count on you, a bunch of trash?"

The powerhouses of the Klein family who were above the Profound Realm had all been stationed in the castle. Now, the family only had less than 1% of their martial arts strength compared to when they were at their peak.

Even so, the Klein family was still the pinnacle of the martial arts world.