

CEO Bride 190

Chapter 190

Nash sighed. "Let's sit down and talk. I hope you can tell us the truth. Otherwise, Jade and Henderson will also be implicated for helping you."

It was because of Jade's help that they had gotten rid of Wesley's affiliation to his family, thus avoiding the Inspection Department.

If everyone accountable was pursued, Jade would definitely be investigated.

The old man, Walker, nodded with tears in his eyes. "It's rather noisy in the restaurant. Let's talk at my house."

The restaurant's backyard was their house's front yard.

Old Walker led them into the living room of the house he was renting for cheap before scurrying about to serve them water.

Nash looked at Kale, who was in handcuffs, and said, "Captain Holt, why don't you uncuff him?"

Nash smiled. "It's okay, I'll step up if he tries anything."

Angelica looked at Kale and asked, “Kale, you know where Wesley is hiding, right?”

Kale shook his head and said, “I don’t know!”

Angelica’s tone became colder. “If you confess, we’ll go easy on you. If you resist, we’ll be strict. The 50 members of the Lewis family can’t die in vain!”

Old Walker sadly said, “Kale, just say what you know. That beast isn’t worthy of your protection.”

“I really don’t know!

“You’re his father and you don’t know where he is, so how would I know?” Kale said, frustrated.

Nash picked up the glass of water and asked, “You were wandering outside the Lewis family’s estate to confuse us and focus our suspicion on you.”

Kale replied to that indifferently, “I don’t know what you’re talking about.”

The glass in Nash’s hand broke, and his eyes narrowed.

Cold killing intent enveloped Kale. Nash’s indifferent eyes were like the gaze of death.

Kale looked into Nash’s eyes and felt short of breath as his chest tightened.

The strong pressure was oppressing him so much that he could not even breathe. Kale felt uneasy in his heart, and his stalwart body trembled involuntarily.
