

CEO Bride 191

Chapter 191

Who the hell was he that his one gaze was able to constrict his breathing?

Jupiter and Angelica also felt an inexplicable chill.

Angelica looked around and realized that the air conditioner was not turned on in the room. Jupiter swallowed hard.

He knew... that Nash was the one who released this murderous aura. This murderous aura was infinitely stronger than that of Wesley's, who had fought on the battlefield.

Nash said slowly, "I'll give you one last chance. If you continue with your stubbornness, then don't blame me for what I'll do."

As a top killer, he could control his emotions very well. With the Lewis family's tragedy, he might seem calm on the surface when, in fact, the murderous intent in his heart was almost uncontrollable. His releasing it a little was enough to tear Kale's liver and gallbladder apart.

Seeing that Nash was a little angry now, Old Walker yelled at Kale with tears in his eyes, "Kale, please tell them quickly."

Nash was a friend of Walter, and that meant he was not a trivial person.

Moreover, the Inspection Department respected Nash, and that showed his high status.

not afford to offend someone like roaring, and his firm gaze extremely cruel. The second lady of the Lewis family is Mr.

completely faltered admitted weakly, "He... He's at an abandoned construction site in Causeway as he said that, the phone in when he saw the number, his expression changed slightly.

one calling

"Answer it on speaker mode. Don't let him find out!"

tapped the answer button and turned on the

to your account. You give this money to my parents and tell them not to contact me in the looked at Nash with a bewildered stunned for three seconds, he hurriedly said, "Aren't you going to see Aunt and Uncle?"

you?" Wesley was vigilant hurriedly answered, "No, I'm hung up.

Jupiter frowned and said, "Wesley served in the Southern Territory for several years. He has incredible anti-reconnaissance and is highly vigilant."

Nash pinched the bridge of his nose and then raised his head. "Apart from Causeway Bay, is there anywhere else he often goes to?" he asked.

Now that Wesley had become suspicious, he would definitely change places.

After thinking a bit, Kale answered, "No, he has been hiding in that abandoned construction site in Causeway Bay during the six months he has returned. He also wouldn't let me see him!"

Jupiter and Angelica were a little dizzy.

Jonford was such a big place that it might be difficult for them to find one person.

Nash noticed a picture frame on the wall.

One of the pictures was faded, and there was a woman in a shirt. It was taken around 2012.

Old Walker followed Nash's gaze and explained, "That's my son's first love and his first girlfriend. She died of leukemia more than ten years ago."

The corner of Nash's mouth curled upward. "Where is she buried?"

"The Lotus Cemetery in Bronze Town!"