

CEO Bride 194

Chapter 194

Outside Sagen Airport, just when Angelica turned on her phone and was about to book a taxi service, she saw a text message from Holt's team.

She immediately informed Nash about Jupiter. "We must find Wesley before Sky Blade's men!

Nash said solemnly.

"They shouldn't be able to find Bronze Town, right?" Angelica looked at Nash in surprise and said.

Bronze Town was the place Nash found out after seeing the photo of Wesley's first love and girlfriend in Walker's home.

Those from Sky Blade definitely would not be able to think of it.

Nash raised his hand and called for a taxi. "Then you might not understand the power of these top mercenaries. If they can find the restaurant, they'll definitely be able to find out where Wesley is hiding!"

One taxi came to a stop by the side of the road.

Nash got into the car.

team around, those mercenaries won't be able to get close to smiled but did not had never dealt with mercenaries, so, of course, she was not privy knew these top mercenary groups very well. Those people cooperated tacitly and were her an explanation, Angelica could not help blushing." Did but we still have to find Wesley as soon

the

with a variety of luxurious cars. Many internet celebrities were here to check out the place and take parking lot and the blonde hair, and he was looking at the beautiful women coming and going with looked around and said, "I called a not here to travel, so there's no need to trouble straight to the ticket office.

tickets!" Nash said. He then took out his phone and scanned the conductor took out two tickets and placed them on the table.

stared, dumbfounded.

that he did not

“If you don’t have money, then why travel? Go back to your farm!”

The conductor shot Nash a look of disdain. He was about to take the tickets back when Nash reacted.

“So be it! 400 dollars!”

Not wanting to waste time, Nash did not bother stooping to the ticket conductor’s level to argue with him.

Just as he was scanning the QR code, a fair and delicate hand blocked the QR code. “Angelica, is your friend a moron? Is he really going to buy the tickets for that price?”

Moron?

The corner of Nash’s mouth twitched slightly before he turned his head to look at the person.

It was a tall, beautiful woman with wavy hair, fair skin, and exquisite facial features. She was wearing a fleece sweater and a red leather jacket while her slender legs were wrapped in tight jeans. She had an extremely eye-catching figure.

“Who the hell are you? Don’t interfere with my business?” The conductor huffed as he glared at the beauty.

The beauty introduced herself with a half-smile, “Felicity Snyder, deputy chief of the Sagen Inspection Department!”

“Deputy chief of the Inspection Department? You?”