

CEO Bride 198

Chapter 198

"S... sure..."

When faced with true strength, all rules were in vain.

The caretaker hurriedly ran into the cabin and opened the electronic gate to the cemetery.

There were a few dim streetlamps along the cemetery.

Under the faint light, the cemetery looked rather gloomy.

Nash, Angelica, and Felicity walked into the cemetery. They saw several residents of the town. kneeling and burning incense in front of ancient tombstones.

Felicity turned to look at Angelica and Nash. "Can you find the girl's grave?"

Angelica shook her head. "We don't even know her name!"

Nash said lightly, "Let's just find a place to hide and wait for Wesley!"

The three of them walked deep into the cemetery and hid behind a semicircular-shaped tombstone.

Some ordinary people were buried without any valuable items in the graves so they were not worried about being robbed.

Nash found some dried weed on the ground, sat on them cross-legged, and closed his eyes to rest.

with their phones to pass

almost twelve, is Wesley their phone's battery. Felicity put her phone away and looked around in the

was still a girl in her twenties so being in a bought a plane ticket for tomorrow so we might have surroundings too,

glanced at Nash

started meditating, it was as if he was in

have that type of this guy is really smiled. "For what? He has strong body, which made him very attractive.

do you think? I just want to make you have, the not that close with him. If you really want his contact anyways so I

slowly ticked

cemetery was on

opened his eyes, he whispered,

Angelica and Felicity shuddered and immediately scouted the cemetery.

Not long after, a dark figure walked to a nearby, modern-looking tombstone.

The figure was tall and burly. They held flowers in his left hand and some joss paper in his right.

He sat on the ground, placed the flowers in front of the grave, and began to burn the offerings.

Angelica asked cautiously, "Is... is that Wesley?"

Felicity ordered in a whisper, "Angelica, go around the back and block the entrance, I'm going to grab him..."

"Alright..."

Angelica agreed without hesitation.

She was merely a no-name inspector and Felicity was the deputy chief inspector.

It was only natural for Angelica to obey Felicity's orders.

The two of them had a close relationship too so they were the most compatible duo to arrest Wesley.

Nash frowned. "Hold on... there is a possibility that that is not Wesley..."

Angelica and Felicity froze.

They could not imagine who would come to the cemetery at this hour other than Wesley.

Nash continued, "Wesley is a very cautious man. He had likely hired someone to test the waters... rather... there's no way he would visit his first girlfriend himself!"