

CEO Bride 204

Chapter 204

Crack!

Felicity got up from her seat and made her way toward Caleb, cracking her knuckles as she menacingly said, "You truly are a walking example of spare the rod, spoil the child!"

Caleb leaped out of his chair. "Relax, relax, Felicity. I'm going right now..."

Felicity's chest heaved from the intensity of her breaths.

One of the middle-aged men who had entered with Caleb said, "Young Miss Felicity... Young Master Caleb's girlfriend is in trouble!"

Felicity scoffed. "Is that so? I wouldn't have realized if you hadn't told me anything!"

The middle-aged man smiled sadly.

It was true Caleb did not seem to care much about the girl.

When Felicity realized the middle-aged man was still standing there, she could not help asking, "Which one of his girlfriends were you referring to?"

Caleb changed girlfriends often.

She was close with about seven or eight of them.

Meanwhile, she could not care less about those she did not know very well.

"Whitney Yanders!" The middle-aged man answered.

Felicity might seem careless and unconcerned, but she was actually quite a meticulous person.

After finishing lunch...

Felicity wanted to accompany the two to the airport.

When they walked out from the dining hall...

A group of middle-aged and senior people walked toward them.

They were all important members of the Snyder family and were dressed lavishly.

The old man standing in the very center of the group had a full head of white hair, but he seemed to be in good health.

He had an angry look on his face. “Bring that child back tonight... He’s part of the Snyder family bloodline...”

The middle-aged man beside him immediately answered, “Understood, father!”

“Grandpa.... Dad...”

“Hello, aunties, uncles...”

Felicity said hello to the group before them.
