

CEO Bride 212

Chapter 212

"People have challenged us many times, and every time, they've left with their tails between their legs!

"Sagen's martial arts school lost to us three years ago, and yet they dare to challenge us again... I wonder who gave them the courage!"

Skadi lifted her chin with pride, radiating an arrogant demeanor.

Hera sighed. "It's a pity I have a lot on my plate today. Otherwise, I would have gone to cheer you on!"

The company was not so busy in the past, so she would always go to cheer them on whenever Zabel Martial Arts School undertook a challenge.

Skadi chuckled. "You just focus on your own matters. Seeing you overcome your grief has already made me happy!"

Hera turned to Nash. "Why don't you go and record the event? I can watch it in the evening..." Skadi grinned. "Silly girl, our martial arts school has cameras everywhere. I can just send you the footage later. Nash should stay at the company and help you..."

Before she could finish, Skadi's phone rang from her bag.

It was a call from Bianca.

As soon as she answered, she heard Bianca's apologetic voice. "Hera, I might not be able to make it. A woman who claims to be the Sagen Women's Boxing Champion just challenged me at the club... I have a match this afternoon, so I need to train now!"

"Alright, I understand. Good luck!"

Hera held Nash's hand and said softly, "Please refrain from being reckless as well. Remember, you're not alone now. You have a family, understand?"

Her gentle words resonated with Nash's heart.

There was a time when every mission he took was a matter of life and death.

That was due to not only the tempering of his master but also his will to move forward bravely and never back down.

In any case, he was all alone, so even if he died, there were no regrets.

Yet now, he had a wife and parents-in-law who treated him as their own.

Perhaps if such a mission came up again, he would think twice.

This was the responsibility of a husband.

Skadi got into her red Maserati parked by the roadside, identical to the one Hera bought. They had gotten their cars together.

Just as she started the engine, she saw Nash coming out of the company.

"You're being too polite here, walking me out this far."

Skadi said, leaning out of the car window.

Nash approached the car, opened the door, and got in. "Let's go. I want to see what's happening at your martial arts school."
