

CEO Bride 226

Chapter 226

Neo Power Club fell silent the moment Wanda said that.

The effeminate man covered his mouth with one hand. Using the other, he pressed the tip of his middle finger to his thumb and then pointed at the clothes on the muscular man beside him, saying anxiously, "Brother, Wanda is so fierce. Did something happen to Bianca?"

The muscles in the muscular man's face twitched slightly. He slapped the man's hand away and growled. "Don't touch me. It's disgusting."

Rose walked up to Nash and asked cautiously, "Coach Calcraft, just what does Wanda want?"

The majority of Neo Power Club had been present when Bianca took part in the Phoenix Crown Championship. Only the effeminate man had not been there and missed a spectacular match as he was on leave.

Nash looked at the two individuals in the octagonal cage and said calmly, "She means to kill Bianca."

Rose frowned at that. "Why won't you stop her, then?"

The club had looked up Wanda's information after Bianca accepted the challenge.

After studying with Mike for a year, Wanda returned to Somer and then dominated the Sagen boxing scene in just three months.

Since Mike dominated the boxing scene internationally, the boxers that he taught were definitely much more skilled than those the Dark Lord taught. If Wanda were to really try to kill Bianca, then Bianca might truly be in danger.

think about Bianca's safety since he was her force to improve. Boxers can only become better if they keep challenging themselves. All boxing champions

Bianca had won against Black Window using the combination punches that she had learned from Fred before. Since he was not worried, she, too, should relax

Wanda in the octagonal cage. The two of them assumed defensive positions before they started probing each other that there were no match videos of patterns and skills. Wanda had even dodged all three of her quick/punches perfectly in a row. They all missed-her left hook, right hook, straight punch, and of Wanda's mouth curled up into a smile. "You're a Phoenix Crown Champion, yet this is all you got. Did did not rise to that. She just lowered herself and aimed a punch at Wanda's chest.

arms together before positioning them chest.

raised her leg and kicked Bianca in toward Bianca. The punch was a heavy one. One would feel dizzy when hit by it even that, Wanda immediately launched a fight. The moment missing Bianca's face, Wanda continued her onslaught. A jab to the head, followed by another straight attacks with lightning-fast speed, Bianca it up to a left straight punch to the Bianca tilted her head to one side and then took two steps back. She then took advantage of this gap and started going out.

She jabbed toward the head, guarded her right from a straight punch, and then followed up with a left hook to the head.

Wanda dodged and blocked all of the attacks.

Neither of them got any points at the end of the round.

"This silly girl wouldn't learn martial arts from me and instead went and learn some kind of taekwondo. It's all just some flashy display."

A slightly helpless expression appeared on the Grim-Daced Juggernaut's face when she thought about how her granddaughter's taekwondo was flashy.

If she had practiced martial arts with her, she would at least have the strength of inner energy of the ninth division.

She would have become a master in the Profound Reality Realm in the future and have her lifespan increased.

To the side, Simon was bootlicking. "Taekwondo is a sport, and it shows that Wanda has sportsmanship!"

Not only was Wanda extraordinarily good-looking, but she also had an extremely luscious figure.