

CEO Bride 240

Chapter 240

Theo discovered five major business families in Jonford, two of which were involved in the Young family village massacre.

They only know about the Lanes now, and there was no way of identifying the other family.

These were just the families in Jonford.

The Young family had been around for thousands of years. Their roots ran deep, and their wealth was comparable to that of a country. There definitely were quite a number of experts among them as well.

Thus, it would have taken significant effort to wipe out the entire Young family. Even the mighty Green Bamboo Association's might would not have made a big difference.

"One should be able to exchange remnants of the Young family for a generous reward with the Kleins."

Nutcracker Juggernaut licked his lips as murderous intent flashed through his piercing eyes.

"That depends on whether you're able to manage that or not."

Clenching the dagger tightly, Nash moved forward in one stride, and the solid wood floor shattered under the thick true energy.

A gust of wind swept by, and Howard was blown away upside down as he was not a cultivator at all.

Giant Juggernaut and Unibrow Juggernaut struck out at the same time.

reached their hands out, their palms fell to the ground. They held their wrists and looked at abnormal speed was this?

leg and kicked Nash's dagger away before throwing a punch.

his body sideways, and Nutcracker's fist shot through the air before lodging itself in the wall, leaving a hole the size of a bowl in the concrete.

punch found its aim, even a stage nine great-grandmaster would have died on the spot.

the step was like an insurmountable gap. Their power would increase drastically once example, both Giant Juggernaut and Unibrow Juggernaut who had their hands cut off by Nash just now were stage nine great-grandmasters. In dodging the blow, Nutcracker Juggernaut instantly swung his palm toward Nash's like that had caused a sonic explosion.

his leg from the

quickly, however, as he lifted his own leg to impact caused by the immense force, both Profound Reality Realm,” Nutcracker Juggernaut commented, his hands. It turned into a flash of blood-red light as it shot through the air to pierce Nutcracker true energy and then closed them around to speed as he grabbed the dagger with his right hand while clawing hands and leaned of his attack. He flipped feet were no longer planted on the ground as his body flipped 360 degrees in the air, dodging Nash’s attack again. At the same time, a majestic burst of true light enveloped his body. He looked like a hungry tiger about to prey on its The speed at which he moved even left after images. It took him only one second to reach Nash.

His eyes were scarlet as he grabbed Nash’s neck with one hand. He then curled his other hand into a fist and shot it toward his face heavily.

Nash circulated his true energy and distributed it all over his face. Still, the punch sent him flying. The mask on his face shattered as he flew upside down before slamming into the wall.

Blood flowed from Nash’s mouth. His lip was split.

Such power!

He had obviously only reached the later stage of the Profound Reality Realm, yet the speed and strength that had burst forth from him at this moment was that of the peak of the Profound Reality Realm.

“N-Nash...”

Simon gaped at Nash’s face in astonishment.

He rubbed his eyes, thinking that his eyes were deceiving him.

However, the Smiling Grim Reaper before him had indeed been revealed to be Nash, the sworn brother of the warden of the Northern Territory, a platinum member of the Skye family in Capiton, a Golden Amulet Master, and a miracle doctor with the ability to restore vitality to patients.

They were all Nash.

These were secondary. The most important fact now was that Nash was a surviving member of the Young family village.

Looking at Nash, he seemed to only be 23 or 24 years old. In other words, Nash had just been born when the tragedy took place.

