

CEO Bride 262

Chapter 262

James snorted coldly as if there was some deep hatred between the two of them.

Harrison did not feel embarrassed and threw the cigarette in his hand to Nash.

After Lauren and Yvonne hugged for a moment, Lauren remembered that James was there and quickly greeted him, "James, it's been a long time!"

James' icy face melted instantly. "It's been more than 20 years, so it has been a while!"

Yvonne rubbed her stomach and said coquettishly, "Hera, I'm so hungry!"

Hera smiled. "If you're hungry, let's go eat!"

She really liked her obedient and cute little cousin.

Harrison suggested, "Let's eat out. It's probably too late for anyone to start cooking now!"

He started to take out his phone to book a restaurant.

Then, Nash smiled and said, "I've reserved a private room at the Chateau Hotel. Let's eat there!"

all, these were his mother-in-law's relatives.

needed to build a favorable impression for

"The Chateau Hotel?"

remarked, "It seems the standard of people who dined at to explain that the membership card belonged to Nash.

hungry, so let's hurry over!" Nash interrupted Harrison.

Nash was trying to protect their son-in-law, what more could one ask for?

entire family headed toward took

Nash and Harrison went in Hera's car, with Nash driving.

outside the villa, Lauren went over to get her drove to the Chateau

Uncle

Hera expressed her displeasure.

a long story!

he faced several assassination attempts. Fortunately, he escaped each time. Once, his car was hanging on the James' father. He divorced when James was young, so after the accident, James was left alone. Hence, your grandfather took him in as his

Your mother is the fourth child. The youngest child died of leukemia. James wasn't academically strong, and he didn't want to live a mediocre life in the Mare household. So, your grandfather spent a lot

"After James returned from his training, your mother was about to marry me. Your grandfather asked him to bring her back, so he came to Jonford and caused a scene at our wedding. When he found out your mother was pregnant, he drank a lot and later took advantage of being drunk to beat me up!"

Harrison reminisced with a wry smile.

"So, did you fight back? Did he eventually let you guys be?"

Hera had never heard this story from her parents before.

She was completely engrossed and occasionally glanced at Nash through the rearview mirror.

Nash was focused on driving, but he was probably eavesdropping.

"At that time, our entire family's assets were less than two million, and the Mares had nearly 300 million. How could we dare offend anyone from the Mare family?"

"Your mother slapped him to bring him to his senses. After he gave his blessings, he left!"

"At that time, James was a martial arts grandmaster. If he had insisted on taking your mother, we wouldn't have had a choice. You probably wouldn't have been born!"

"James had a bad temper, but his father was kind to your grandfather, and he was kind to me and your mother. So, whatever he says, you and Nash shouldn't take it to heart!"

While they talked, the car arrived at the Chateau Hotel.

After Liam got out of the car, he greeted James and Yvonne.

Then, he greeted Harrison and Hera.