Chapter 294

Jonford Imperial Summer Manor.

It only took ten minutes for all the Green Bamboo Association's members to get wiped out.

The great-grandmasters that the Heavenly Martial Arts Order had summoned also began to leave.

Xeno got men from Dragon Tiger Gate to clean the battlefield.

Zakariah stood on the sidelines and gazed at the blood pooled on the arena. He sighed to himself.

Skadi and Bianca's faces were pale.

Lloyd said angrily, "At the end of the day, he's nothing more than a cold-blooded killer. From today onwards, the Quiet Winds Church will no longer have anything to do with the Smiling Grim Reaper!"

Cillian said quietly, "Maybe... he had no choice?"

He refused to believe that Johnathan's disciple would slaughter the innocent.

The Smiling Grim Reaper only ever killed those who took part in vicious acts.

Such people had committed heinous crimes and deserved death.

The seven juggernauts had blood on their hands, and they deserved the death sentence they had been given. It also made sense for the Smiling Grim Reaper to execute them.

However, the remaining one thousand grandmasters were still young.

The Green Bamboo Association had not committed any outrageous acts recently, which meant the crimes of these young grandmasters did not warrant a death sentence.

Yet, the Smiling Grim Reaper had not spared them.

Crack! Crack! Crack!

Just then, a helicopter landed before them.

Nash walked over with Finn.

"Put them in the helicopter!"

Nash climbed into the helicopter.

Finn followed suit.

The junior member did not know who Nash was, and he gave Xeno a bewildered look.

Slap!

"Didn't you hear what Nash said?"

Xeno clobbered the young disciple across the head.

The young disciple immediately grasped ahold of the situation and hurriedly stuffed the sack into the helicopter.

Goldenfalls.

The Young Gardens.

The Young Gardens was actually a sprawling private mausoleum.

It was located in the suburbs of Goldenfalls.

The place was desolate.

There was a guardhouse outside the Young Gardens.
