

CEO Bride 305

Chapter 305

Hera grew sadder with each passing thought and drove away from Royal Bay.

"Hera... where are we staying tonight?"

"I have another apartment," Hera replied, wiping her tears as she turned the steering wheel.

Inside the villa at Royal Bay, Melody looked at the much younger man before her and asked, "Aren't you... going to go after her?"

Even though the young lady of the house was upset, she did not regret her earlier confrontation with her cousin.

If the little girl dared to be rude again, she would still not hesitate to take action.

Finn chuckled. "It's normal for young couples to argue from time to time. What do they call it ... A lovers' quarrel?"

Nash, feeling frustrated, grabbed a can of beer from the fridge to drink.

"What about the map? You said earlier that your grandmother burned the map. Were you lying to trick Saul?"

Nash stopped thinking about other things and got back to business.

"The

map was indeed burned. But my grandmother drew a new map on my back using a special ink from the Youngs. It's invisible to the naked eye. She didn't tell me how to make it appear, though."

turn around..." Nash instructed nonchalantly.

naked eye? In that case, he would Melody asked, "Do I... remove my clothes?"

adjusted his position, eagerly anticipating.

have the Third Eye!"

shattered Finn's fantasy.

Eye see through it,"

did you cultivate the Third Eye? Can you teach me? I'd brave any danger without hesitation such thoughts, you've already disqualified yourself from

Melody bit her lip, stood up, and turned to was 28, no man had ever seen her naked.

being observed by a man she had just met, she felt somewhat uneasy.

a golden

clothes, revealing her

the Third Eye could not frowned and said,

blushing Melody asked, "How was it? Did you see Third Eye can't see it... I'll research it further later."

Nash with envy, wishing he, too,

At Rex District, after Hera took a shower, she sat on the bed glumly and began texting Skadi about her frustrations.

"Hera... Look... Nash is checking out that woman!"

Yvonne showed her phone to Hera.

As she was bored during the day, she accidentally connected her phone to the villa's surveillance system.

When she checked the feed, she caught Melody standing and turning around. Then, Nash intently observed her.

The tears Hera had just stopped now flowed anew. She did not even reply to Skadi's message and just sobbed into her pillow.

A misunderstanding?

Could this still be a misunderstanding?

Seeing that there was no reply, Skadi directly called Hera.

After returning from Imperial Summer Manor, she had ranted to her grandfather about the Smiling Grim Reaper's approach and even decided to expose the Smiling Grim Reaper online. However, her grandfather revealed a shocking secret.

The Smiling Grim Reaper was Nash.

Skadi intended to tell Hera about this. She could not let her best friend be with such a cold-blooded man.

"Boo-hoo... Skadi... I'm so upset... Nash doesn't love me anymore..."