

CEO Bride 306

Chapter 306

"That's for the best! Such a man isn't worthy of your love!" Skadi said coldly.

"Boo-hoo... I love him so much!"

Hera had hoped that Skadi would comfort her.

Instead, Skadi immediately doused her hopes.

She felt as if her heart was shattering.

"What I said is the truth! Nash Calcraft is an emotionless, cold-blooded creature... It's dangerous for you to be with him!"

Skadi did not reveal to Hera about Nash's identity as the Smiling Grim Reaper.

After all, he had been kind to the Zabels and Lewises, and Hera genuinely liked him. Keeping some of his reputation intact was the least Skadi could do, given their acquaintanceship.

"Do you know something?" Hera asked tearfully.

Skadi had mentioned Nash being emotionless. Did she know about Nash's affairs with other women?

"Do you

know as well?"

Skadi was surprised as well.

she would not have known about Nash's identity

talking about different matters, yet their fragmented sentences seemed know everything... I've already moved felt that every breath she took was painful.

did he deceive me?"

lost control,

was just fulfilling

had

even officially registered your marriage, so you guys

console her gently.

up the call, burying herself

with Nash

Yvonne pursed

situation was getting worse.

should she do?

she admit her

did she

at night, was he not afraid another man's home so late at night. She must have been her to help Hera drive her away. What was reassuringly and comforted Hera. "Hera, don't cry.... I'll always be by your side!"

villa at Royal Bay, Nash, Melody, and Finn home from work by now.

Finn chuckled and said, "She came back once and then left again."

After saying that, he sneakily glanced at Nash's expression.

Maria looked at Melody and smiled bitterly. "Did you two have a fight?"

Nash nodded. "Yes, there was a misunderstanding."

Maria showed a half-smile. "Young couples need time to adjust... It's normal for women to be sensitive when they're passionately in love. As a guy, you should be more thick-skinned. Just say some nice things tomorrow and make up!"

Nash gave a wry smile. "I understand, Maria. I'll call her later to explain everything."

After dinner, Nash asked Maria to prepare guest rooms for Melody and Finn.

Maria prepared some fruits for dessert and went to make the beds.

"Melody, what did you want to say about my father just now?"

Melody had mentioned Nash's father, Wolfgang. But their conversation was interrupted by Hera's arrival.

"Your father's still alive. My grandmother said that on the day of the Youngs' gathering, Wolfgang wasn't in Young Family Village!

"I initially wanted to spend some money to look for him, but my grandmother stopped me!"

Melody had thought she had informed Nash about this but then recalled their conversation was interrupted by Hera.