

CEO Bride 334

Chapter 334

Nash glanced at Melody, who was lying on the ground, and spoke indifferently.

When Melody heard Nash's voice, she abruptly opened her eyes.

With a flash of his feet, Nash charged toward those eight Nihon Ghost Ninjas.

"There are three kinds of people I despise the most! Nihon Ghost Ninjas, Nihon warriors, and all Nihon kind!"

The power of peak Profound Reality Realm erupted mercilessly.

With just one punch, he blasted through the chest of a stage-nine great-grandmaster.

His speed was as fast as lightning-so much so that even Melody, who was in the Profound Reality Realm, could not see it clearly.

The stage-nine great-grandmaster Ghost Ninja looked in disbelief at Nash's arm, which had pierced through his chest.

Nash's mouth curved into a bloodthirsty smile. His true energy surged, shattering the Ghost Ninja into pieces.

Melody's eyelids twitched in surprise. She knew that Nash was a martial artist, but she did not know the extent of his power.

Based on Nash's age, those with mediocre talent would likely be in the Energy Cultivation Realm. Those slightly talented could enter the Grandmaster Realm, while the exceptionally talented could cultivate into a great-grandmaster.

As for those with heaven-defying talent, they could likely step into the Profound Reality Realm before the age of 30.

She was able to enter the Profound Reality Realm at this age because of the large amount of elixirs that her grandma brought from Young Family Village.

However, there was a drawback to taking elixirs to improve one's cultivation.

and her true energy was difficult to drive, they would hit the not cautious, her true energy would

if the opponent

above it, her

she was invincible when faced with people in the Profound Reality Realm, Melody could not punch a stage-nine great-grandmaster like

Nash's cultivation was not boosted the Profound Reality Realm at such a young age, monstrous.

was indeed a direct descendant of the Youngs!

Melody was still in shock, Nash had the remains of cruelty was self-evident.

felt sick to her stomach and Devil...

a vengeful and crueler than

"You okay?"

single drop of blood

a deep breath, but the overwhelming scent of blood made her

the soft sound of a weapon piercing into someone's of the rooftop to

on top of a Ghost Ninja.

had

was surprised but soon smiled. It seemed he had not misjudged Finn.

With a little training, Finn would have limitless potential.

"We need to find Fabian quickly..."

Melody approached Nash, and the two of them jumped down from the building.

Finn, with bloodshot eyes, saw someone approaching and roared while brandishing his dagger, Come on... Come on... I'll kill you all..."

(C

Jonford's government, traffic, and patrol departments jointly announced that they would be conducting a joint exercise that evening.

All residents of Jonford were advised not to go out unless necessary.

For a while, Jonford became eerily quiet.

There were only a few vehicles on the busy central street.

Inside the traffic department building, Judas, the person in charge of the Special Security Department's Ninth Division, was monitoring screens. With him were Harley Dinkleson, the head of the traffic department, and Henderson from the patrol department. They were all watching live feeds from cameras placed at key intersections throughout Jonford.

Although the number of cars on the streets had been reduced, there were still nearly a thousand vehicles driving about. It was not an easy task to locate Fabian's vehicle.

Suddenly, Judas' eyes were fixed on one screen.

He saw a McLaren being followed by three black Porsches.

Harley and Henderson also noticed this.

"Follow that car immediately..."