

CEO Bride 349

Chapter 349

“He’s the same age as me and has already managed to become the head of inspection for Universal Group, while I’m just a receptionist at a hotel. How could there be such a huge gap?” the beautiful receptionist could not help but lament.

While she was lost in thought, several people dressed as bodyguards were carrying Hunter out. Leading them was a man in his 70s dressed in a formal suit. He was Karlos Sazza, the personal bodyguard of the head of the Hill family, Gaspard Hill. He was a great-grandmaster with the strength of a stage five.

At the same time, Weston, the lobby manager, was accompanied by a group of bodyguards as they rushed over. When he saw the trousers of the Hill family’s heir dirtied with blood, his face turned pale with fear. “W-What happened?”

Karlos’ expression was ice-cold. “Something happened Hunter at your hotel. How dare you ask what happened?”

Just ten minutes ago, Karlos received a furious call from the family head and immediately set out for Cloud Peak Palace Hotel to bring Hunter back. He did not have much affection for the man who did nothing all day, but when he saw Hunter’s miserable condition, he could not help but feel a hint of sympathy.

Hunter’s limbs were broken, and he had to use his jaw to make a phone call.

“Sir, please calm down. I’ll find out what happened right away!” Weston said cautiously before going up to the front desk.

The Hill family was a second-tier family. If something had happened while Hunter was at Cloud Peak Palace Hotel, the Hill family would not let it slide without explanation the hospital first!” Karlos said. He was worried that would die from an affiliated hotel of Universal Group, and their main investor was the Zell family. Their head was already in discussion with the Zell family, front desk, his face pale with anger. “Wasn’t Hunter Hill dining beautiful receptionist named Lily was instantly nervous. She stammered, “I-I don’t know either. I just started operated 24 hours a day with each shift

shift, she went upstairs screams coming from private room number eight,

Nash leaving the room with a

of a man entering private movements to he book the presidential suite with you?" Weston asked the receptionist with Lily replied hesitantly. "He's also from Universal Group

"What?" Weston shuddered as he quickly checked the room records on the computer. When he saw Nash's name, his heart skipped a beat. There was a head of inspection from Drakonia Universal Group?

"Mr. Calcraft instructed us not to disclose his identity," Lily added cautiously.

Weston was the lobby manager. While Lily was not to disclose the information, Weston still had the authority to check the identities of the hotel's customers. She had felt it necessary to inform Weston of Mr. Calcraft's instructions.

After a moment of bewilderment, Weston sneered. "That damned Justin. He always acts high and mighty, but he's kicked a hornet's nest this time!"

Just as he said that, Justin and Queenie rushed into the lobby, followed by three burly bodyguards.

Weston immediately put on a smile. "Mr. Long, Miss Graham..."

"Who dares lay their hands on my cousin?" Justin's expression was dark. He had just started his week-long vacation and was planning to spend some quality time shopping with Queenie in the city center. However, he heard about what happened to Hunter right as they arrived.

How could a drugged woman who was barely conscious manage to harm Hunter?