

CEO Bride 360

Chapter 360

“You bastard, how dare you...”

Kai curled his fingers into a fist and hurled it toward Duncan’s face.

Duncan calmly raised a hand, grabbing Kai’s fist.

Was he a martial artist?

Kai’s eyes widened.

Then, he was punched in the stomach so violently that he flew a dozen feet backward and vomited blood.

Duncan sighed. “You overestimate yourself...”

A burly man picked Kai up, dragged him over to Duncan, and forced him to his knees.

Duncan took his checkbook out and wrote a check for 20 million dollars, which he threw before Kai.

“You have to bark 20 times! You can take this check and leave once you’re done barking!”

Kai hunched over and placed his arms over his stomach as he shuddered.

He had never experienced such humiliation.

However, without the 20 million dollars...

Rococo Technology, which was Helena’s company, would go out of business due to bankruptcy.

He had dated plenty of women, but he had never taken any of them home before.

also never slept with any of woman he had brought home to meet his

also the first woman he had ever slept woman. She would never have dated him if it he got thrust into this dire situation, Helena chose to help him instead of leaving him without a second thought.

he realized

knew who truly loved you when hands trembled as he

he lay on the ground

Woof... Woof...

washed over him.

he had been crushed into at imitating a dog... You can be to be his grandchild anymore! I won't abuse you as long as you wag your tail at me!"

back and roared with laughter. He was flowing down his

had only been a while ago that he was like a dog that their roles

one could bully scrambled to his

"Duncan..."

housekeeper

"What did you call me?"

"S-Sir!"

hurriedly corrected himself.

a satisfied look on his face.

man named Nash Calcraft

"Alright, bring him in!"

Outside the mansion, Nash and Xeno watched as Kai walked dazedly out of the mansion while looking like a zombie.

His pants were covered in dirt, and there was dried blood on the corners of his mouth.

It was not hard to deduce he had been beaten up and forced to kneel.

Kai was the son of an elite family, so why was he beaten up and forced to kneel at the Duersons' residence?

The look in Kai's eyes was dull as he slowly walked away.

He did not meet Nash's or Xeno's eyes.

It was as if he did not know two men were standing right there.

Xeno said gleefully, "Looks like Walter's determined to teach Kai a lesson this time!"

Nash laughed silently. "It's not that bad to get to experience what the world has to offer!"

The Duerson family's housekeeper walked out.

"Please come in, sirs!"

The housekeeper led the two into the mansion.

"Duncan is so arrogant! How dare he send a mere housekeeper to meet us at the door?"

Xeno was extremely annoyed.

Walter came to welcome Nash at the door when he heard of his arrival.

They arrived at the backyard.