

CEO Bride 404

Chapter 404

“It’s going to be a tough walk, indeed. First, we have to cross two steep mountains, then enter Swamp Valley. After that, we’ll reach Soul-Splitting Ridge! History tells us everyone who had ever entered these places had all perished.”

Bradley accepted the cigarette Xeno held out to him, lit it, and then put it in his mouth.

Nico looked worried. “So, aren’t we basically looking for trouble by going there?”

Bradley released a puff of smoke and replied confidently, “Among those who perished, none of them were from the Tomb Seekers Hall. We managed to cross both places many years ago. Although we faced some setbacks, no one was harmed!”

Hearing this, the group breathed a sigh of relief.

With Nash and Melody's efforts, all three of them were finally pulled up. They found a foothold, clung to the rock wall, and gasped for air.

Heidi and Derek were fine as they were able to regain their healthy flush rather quickly. However, Nico's legs trembled uncontrollably, and it took him more than 20 minutes to recover.

Bradley encouraged them, saying, "Everyone, let's put in a little more effort. Once we pass that bend up ahead, we can start descending the mountain..."

Derek turned back and asked, "Nico, are you still holding up?"

"Let's hurry down the mountain. I never want to go through that again!" Nico kept his head down, his face burning with embarrassment. Wetting himself in front of so many people was utterly humiliating.

It took them a full three hours to cross this mountain.
