

CEO Bride 421

Chapter 421

As soon as he was done speaking, the sound of Derek and Nico arguing echoed from the golden tunnel.

“Darn it, Nico! I found it first!”

“Bullshit! I clearly saw it first!”

The two were arguing over a diamond the size of a pigeon’s egg.

Diamonds varied in quality, with the colored ones being the highest quality.

Such a sizable colored diamond could fetch tens of millions of dollars in the market.

While they were cutting through the gold, both spotted the diamond at the same time.

Following the ‘first come, first served’ principle, they both reached for it.

Now, neither was willing to back down.

Derek, being physically stronger, pinned Nico to the ground and shouted, “Nico, your family is already wealthy... Give this diamond to me!”

With his face pressed to the ground, Nico mumbled, “No... This diamond is mine...”

With a determined look, Derek grabbed a nearby pearl of night and hurled it toward Nico’s head.

“Stop...!”

just in time, delivering a kick that into tears from fear. “Derek! Nico! What did not give up. He quickly grabbed the diamond, stuffed it into his mouth, and swallowed it.

“You mother...”

look in his eyes, Nico impulsively stabbed Derek with the dagger in were so close that Melody had the knife handle

his senses, a panic-stricken Nico released his grip. “D-Derek...I didn’t mean fell straight to the jewel-embedded floor.

wound, sobbing, “Derek... I really didn’t and a glance at Derek lying in a pool of blood, Bradley immediately roared. "What happened? Why did you two injury, only to realize the dagger had pierced Derek's heart.

moment, Derek's

"Derek...!"

on the ground. "I'm sorry... I'm whispered to Melody, "Melody,

the events

Bradley yanked Nico up from the ground. "You beastly child... Do you realize Nico, pale and distraught by this, shook his head. "I didn't mean it! I truly didn't!"

He seemed to have lost his senses, repeatedly uttering the same words.

Looking at Derek's lifeless body, Bradley muttered, "Once we're out, I'll hand this beast over to the police!"

The price of greed was death.

Greed could blind one's eyes and make one lose their senses.

Bradley never expected their rivalry would escalate to using weapons.

Finn remarked with a bitter smile, "If only Mr. Nash was here... With his medical skills, he surely could've saved Derek!"

Only then did Melody realize something. She frowned as she asked, "It's been almost two hours, hasn't it? Why hasn't Nash come back?"

Xeno explained, "Mr. Nash might've gone to pick medicinal herbs..."

Melody squinted, then shook her head. "That's not right... He wouldn't leave us unattended for two hours!"

As her words faded, the sound of approaching footsteps and chatter came from behind.

Everyone turned around, their eyes widening in disbelief.

They saw Nash walking toward them. He was chatting and laughing with a group of people.

That group of people... was them.