

CEO Bride 423

Chapter 423

After speaking, she looked toward the tunnel entrance at that other Heidi, who had two pure white gardenia flowers pinned in her hair.

Bradley continued, "The Tomb Whisperer Manual mentions a type of Ghostly Dream Flower... This flower can make one unconsciously faint, leading to hallucinations."

Finn asked in surprise, "Can one feel pain in a dream?"

Bradley glanced at the people across and calmly said, "When a dream becomes realistic enough... you won't be able to tell the difference between dream and reality."

Melody inquired, "So, how do we escape this dream?"

Bradley looked back at Nash. "We fainted when we smelled the flower fragrance, and the dream started then. Your cultivation is high, and you're a Heavenly Master, so you're in a semi-conscious state. You should be able to move freely between dreams and reality."

Nash seemed a bit confused. "So, what should I do now?"

After thinking for a moment, Bradley slowly said, "Go to the entrance and look for our real bodies. In my bag, there's some wine made by Madam Lunaris called tamarind wine. Feed it to our real bodies."

"I didn't see you guys when I came in earlier!"

"That's because you also smelled the flower scent. Your constitution is better than all of ours, hence you're in a semi-conscious state. Naturally, you wouldn't see our real bodies in the dream."

"Alright, you all wait right here."

After taking a sip, he could see their real bodies.

He had already fed the wine to all eight of them.

The first to wake up was Xeno, who sat up abruptly as if waking from a nightmare. He gasped for breath.

Touching the center of his brow, he said, "I... I'm not dead..."

One by one, the others also opened their eyes.

Bradley took a deep breath. "I always thought the Ghostly Dream Flower only existed in legends. I never expected it to be real!"

They were back in the same karst cave, but the pearls of night had vanished.

In their place were oil lamps on the walls.

Nash took out his silver sprouts. Fortunately, they were real.

Bradley stood up from the ground. "Let's keep going now, quickly."

The group prepared to move on.

Suddenly, Melody stared at Nash, asking, "Nash... what did you do to me just now?"
