

CEO Bride 456

Chapter 456

Claude clutched his chest, taking a while to catch his breath.

A few of his underlings rushed over, scrambling to help him up.

“Oli... It’s this bastard! Even after seeing you arrive, he still dares to lay his hands on me... Look... my jaw got dislocated...”

Claude pointed to his cheek in pain. The left side of his cheekbone was noticeably indented.

“Shut up!”

Olivia slapped him across the face.

Claude spat out a mouthful of blood from the impact. Darkness clouded his vision, and his ears rang.

“Oli... why...”

Claude covered his face and backed away.

Then, he looked toward several of the family’s great-grandmasters. “You people... attack this instant!”

The two elderly figures lowered their heads.

were aware of some

from being in the Profound

Can... Can you spare him a Olivia stammered.

would rather Claude offend the governor of Jonford than Nash, the man known for annihilating the Green

ought to rein him for the Lees’ sake, he wouldn’t even be

Nash. I’ll make sure to discipline

Nash’s right arm. “Nash, what nothing, just a her query.

Claude. “I’ll deal with you when legs weakened

cousin did not pamper him
the Skyes, giving her from taking action against that moment, Angelica entered with Olivia and the battered Claude, she could was it you who called you investigate,” Nash said, tremblingly defended, saying, “My... My he was still her father.

That was why she had not reported him.

Moreover, her father was not always like this. After her gold-digging mother left him for a wealthier man, he went down the wrong path.

Angelica could naturally sense that Luna was protecting her father. She sternly said, “If your father has indeed committed illegal actions and you’re covering for him, you’ll be charged with aiding and abetting!”

Luna bit her lip and shuddered.

Nash looked at Olivia and said calmly, “The Lees’ son shouldn’t be lacking in women anyway. Why does he need to buy them?”

Olivia said tremblingly, “It’s our fault for not disciplining him better. Please, Nash. Forgive us. I’ll keep a closer eye on Claude in the future.”

Nash turned to Luna. “How much did he pay your father?”

Luna shook her head. “My father didn’t sell me...”

She knew if she said too much, her father would end up in jail.

Seeing Nash’s determination to see this through, Olivia hurriedly said, “Nash... how about you let me handle this? I’ll make sure to resolve this issue properly for her.”

Just then, the shop owner emerged holding a bouquet of pink roses. “Sir, your roses are ready!”

Seeing so many people in the store, her face turned tense.

Nash checked the time and realized it was past ten in the evening.

“Alright, make sure you handle this properly!”