

CEO Bride 466

Chapter 466

In her small apartment, Luna had already bathed and changed her younger siblings into fresh clothes. She could not help but admire the financial capabilities of wealthy people.

Most people needed to go through a process when buying a house, but Olivia just provided her ID to immediately get a fully furnished home. What impressed her even more was that Olivia had genuinely thanked Nash. Now, she was curious about who this Nash was.

"Luna, are you still going to school?" Olivia asked as she came over after being on a call.

Luna shook her head. "Dad hadn't been home for the longest time, so I took a few days off to take care of my younger siblings." She then thought about how he had turned himself in and lowered her head, crying silently.

Filled with compassion, Olivia ruffled Luna's hair. "Please don't blame me for it. Your dad needs to be taught a lesson. If he keeps going on like this, he'll run into trouble sooner or later. It's not too late for him to undergo rehabilitation in prison."

Luna quickly replied, "I don't blame you for what you did. In fact, I'm grateful."

Olivia smiled and asked, "Have you ever been in a relationship?"

turned 18. I won't date until I finish college."

If Jason ever dares bully you, just tell me.

woman and would be a good what you mean. If Jason changes for the better and improves his grades, I can consider dating him after I graduate from college. Even though many women dream of marrying into the Lee family, I don't want my future husband to be an her head down, unable to look at Olivia.

widened when she heard what Luna aren't many girls who are treasures envious of Luna. If it were not for the arranged marriage set by her grandfather, she probably wouldn't have married Theo. It was not that Theo was not outstanding. She just did not want to was just as good as a man, but every time she faced any setback, Theo would secretly help her overcome it. How could she sharpen herself in the business was finally able to enjoy a soothing hot shower. Now, all he needed was a good night's sleep. He considered doing something before with him. Outside, Hera was dressed in her pajamas and you're about to get intimate with Nash! On second thought, little amused at Hera's situation. She could easily imagine the

"Whether it's his enemy or mine, he's my man. We'll face whatever adversity together," Hera said, sounding dissatisfied. "So, please don't make such remarks in the future, Skadi."

"Alright, alright, my bad. I'm sorry, okay!" Skadi quickly apologized when she sensed Hera's irritation.

"That's more like it. I need to rest. I haven't slept in over 20 hours, and I'm practically dead on my feet!"

After a brief exchange with Hera, Skadi hung up. She was about to lie down and sleep when Nash called from the bathroom.

"Hera, I forgot to grab my underwear. Can you help me get it?"

Hera lay on the bed, eyes closed. She gave a weary response, "You can get it yourself. I'm really tired. I don't want to move..."

Nash, somewhat reluctantly, had to step out of the bathroom wearing nothing.

At that moment, the phone placed on the bedside table began to rattle. Nash walked to the bedside table to answer the call.