

CEO Bride 601

Chapter 601

Sorn tugged on Geordi's arm. "It's already this late. Are you still afraid of the 'tigress' back home?"

Geordi took a deep breath, slowly stood up, and accompanied Sorn to surrender themselves to the authorities.

Nash hailed a taxi outside and rushed to Peaceful Residence. Right as the taxi started its engine, he received a call from Theo.

"Nash, someone recognizes those hieroglyphics. It's indeed the writing system invented by the Young family!" Theo said from the bathroom of his seaside villa. He was speaking with a hand over his mouth. It was as if even his own family could not be trusted.

"Is it someone from the Young family?" Nash felt a bit excited.

"It's the Young family's trusted follower, Marius Lothard. Those hieroglyphics were invented by his grandfather!" Theo exclaimed.

"What do those symbols say?" Nash quickly inquired.

"They seem to record a secret realm. He hasn't completely deciphered them yet. He went back to his hometown to get his grandfather's notebook!" Theo explained with excitement.

"Protect him well. Don't let the Kleins find out!" Nash's tone was very serious.

Marius was crucial to deciphering the Young family's hieroglyphics.

001

Only he could understand the partial image.

Nash continued a little uneasily, "Or bring him to Jonford. I have people there who can protect him!"

Theo laughed relaxedly. "Nash, you don't need to worry. Mr. Lothard has been living abroad since childhood. He discovered the Young family's hieroglyphics through a professor at the National Ancient Script Research Center.

"He then contacted me, and I specially sent a plane to bring him back. It's impossible for them to recognize him, even the head of the Kleins."

Hearing this, Nash felt somewhat reassured. "By the way, help me look into Outstanding Culture Broadcasting Company!"

"Outstanding Culture? They sound quite familiar! Wait a moment."

Theo took out another phone from his pocket, opened the chat group he was in with his classmates, and quickly searched the chat records. He quickly came upon a file installation package named Outstanding Culture. He then clicked on it to initiate the download.

It took ten seconds for the download to complete, which was then followed by the installation interface. The prompt on it indicated that he needed to install the program despite the risk. Theo followed the instructions and chose to ignore the risk. In no time, the app was downloaded.

After clicking on the app, the loading page displayed a provocatively dressed adult film actress. Numerous adult films were visible.

Theo initially intended to click on the video to check but found that it required registration and a VIP subscription.

“My initial judgment and meticulous analysis tell me that Outstanding Culture seems to be a gray industry that produces domestic adult films. Nash, are you planning to invest in them?” Theo teased with a smirk.

“I don’t want your judgment or analysis. I want your confirmation,” Nash replied solemnly.

“Okay, I’ll check right away!”

Hearing the seriousness in Nash’s tone, Theo did not dare play vague anymore and immediately ordered an investigation into Outstanding Culture.

Five minutes later, he sent detailed information about Outstanding Culture to Nash's phone.

[Company name: Jonford Outstanding Culture Broadcasting Company

[Legal representative: Warner Solo.

[Registered capital: 3.5 million.

[Main industries: Live game streaming, video editing, music creation.]

Having just finished going through the information, Theo called again.

"Nash, a look into the legal representative of Outstanding Culture reveals that Warner has a twin brother named Horace. The two have no parents and have been relying on each other since they were kids."