

CEO Bride 79

Chapter 79

His speed was so fast that Stellar could barely react on time.

“Damn it! If I didn’t see it happen with my own eyes, I wouldn’t have believed a human being could have such speed!”

Stellar spat on the ground.

The warden spoke in a low voice, “The abilities of the others aren’t as high as his, are they?”

Stellar climbed into the car while nodding. “Nash’s strength surpasses theirs by a large margin!”

As he buckled the warden’s seat belt, he continued, “There’s someone who might be able to compete with him...”

The warden asked in surprise, “The one from Phoenix Island?”

Stellar nodded silently.

The warden chuckled dryly. “The one from Phoenix Island must be over a hundred years old. This kid is probably only in his 20s, right?”

The car started slowly, and Stellar suddenly asked, “Warden, you seem to like young people like Nash and Theo. Do you have some sort of special preference?”

In private, Stellar had always considered Warden as his big brother and would occasionally joke around with him.

Warden glared at Stellar unhappily. “Cut the crap! I’m as straight as an arrow!”

and took out an old laminated

so the figures in it

why I’ve never been home?”

warden gently touched the blurred figures in the

bring out this warden smirked in self-deprecation.

to the Northern Territory, my wife wrote to tell me she was pregnant! That year, she completely gone once he brought up his an aura of

gaze was as sharp as aura made it hard for Stellar the warden emitting such an aura was when he led a million soldiers asked cautiously, "Who did it? Did you...

to cough, and the overwhelming aura around

there were specks of blood vain! It's as if someone knew I was investigating, and they were secretly hindering me!

closed his eyes, deep

Stellar was silent.

the warden was telling the truth, then this force was truly

shocking than the impact that the Smiling force have to be to stop the warden from investigating the truth of the matter for so many years?

Was the warden's poisoning and assassination attempt related to this force?

This force targeted not just Warden but all of his kin.

If the person behind it was not investigated and eliminated, the warden would face even more danger in the future.

Thinking of this, Stellar clenched his fists.

He had to use all his connections to help the warden find out the truth.

"Stay out of my personal matters!"

The warden seemed to guess what Stellar was thinking and gave him a raspy warning.

The fact that he was poisoned in the Northern Territory indicated that the force had infiltrated the Northern Territory war zone.

Stellar was the one he had brought up personally, and he was also his most trusted friend. He did not want Stellar to get hurt because of his personal affairs.

Nash returned to the apartment, undressed, and looked down at his abdomen.

The ten-centimeter-long wound looked particularly terrifying.

"Deagol's power and speed are several times stronger than Shawn's. If I had reacted a second later, I might have been cut in half by him!"